NEW GOVERNOR FOR LOWER CALIFORNIA

Expect Mrs. Peete in Salt Lake Today

CLEW TO DENTON MURDER IS FOUND WHEN WALLS OF HOME ARE RIPPED BY DETECTIVES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Sept. 30.—William Peete, a salesman for the Goodyear Rubber Company, said tonight that he had telegraphed his sister-in-law, Mrs. R. C. Peete, in Denver, to bring her child to Salt Lake and that he would give it a home with him. Mrs. Peete, who is an outstanding figure in connection with the Denton tragedy in Los Angeles, is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow, Mr. Peete said tonight. He stated that he telegraphed his sister-in-law day before yesterday and he presumes her disappearance from Denver is explained by the probable fact that she is on her way to Salt Lake.

Hidden secrets linked with the Denton murder mystery were sought yesterday by detectives in the walls and other out-of-the-way places of the big house at 675 South Catalina street, where J. C. Denton, wealthy Arizona mining man, was slain and buried in a basement crypt under two feet of earth.

Officers, working under the direction of Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Doran and Raymond I. Turney, his assistant in the investigation, ripped open the walls in the hallway of the spacious house and made a minute search of the narrow spaces between the flooring and the ground on which the house stands.

The object of this search and its result were kept secret by the officers and the District Attorney's office. It is known, however, that at least two articles found in the house were taken to the Hall of Records and that one important clew was uncovered by the investigators.

LIGHT ON CHECKS.

While the detectives were thus engaged a heretofore-undisclosed fact in connection with the cashing of two checks by Mrs. R. C. Peete, formerly Denton's housekeeper at the Catalina-street house, came to light. The checks, drawn in the name of J. C. Denton, were cashed by Mrs. Peete shortly after Denton's supposed disappearance from his home, it was learned, and the sums involved amounted to within a few dollars of the balance Denton had in the bank. The fact that the checks were for the amount held by Denton in that account is considered significant by the District Attorney's office. Further investigation into this phase of the financial transactions between Mrs. Peete and Denton will be made in co-operation with bank officials.

Meantime, light was thrown on the so-called "disappearance" of Mrs. Peete in Denver by a telegram from there quoting Chief of Police Armstrong as saying he knew where Mrs. Peete was and could lay his hands on her at any time. Chief Armstrong refused to reveal her whereabouts.

Mrs. Ida M. Gregory, at whose Denver home Mrs. Peete was staying until last Tuesday, said yesterday: "She had her trunk packed when she left my house and I believe she will bob up in Los Angeles in a day or two."

On the contrary, dispatches from the Colorado city said last night, Mrs. Peete is known to have been in the shopping district there yesterday afternoon.

LIME IN QUILT.

Prof. Arthur R. Maas, chemical expert for the Coroner's office, went through the Denton house yesterday to make a thorough examination of the premises in the hope of finding something that might yield an important clew through chemical tests.

In the "death basement" Prof. Maas examined the quilt in which the body was wrapped. Pieces of the quilt taken to the laboratory gave no evidence of blood, although they were from spots that appeared

FIRE HITS GALVESTON

Estimate the Loss in Millions.

Industrial Plants Along Piers Destroyed; High Wind Fans Blaze.

Forty Freight Cars on Tracks Prey of Flames; Three Ships Saved.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GALVESTON, Sept. 30.—Fire, which swept a portion of the waterfront early today, caused property damage amounting, according to estimates tonight, to between $1,250,000 and $2,000,000.

Whether the figures reach the latter mark, it was said, depends on how much, if any, of the 259,000 bushels of wheat aboard the Italian steamship Etna can be salvaged.

According to owners and underwriters, more than 100 individuals and firms suffered loss. Preliminary estimates made by owners and insurance men follow:

Texas Gulf Sulphur Company, damage to sheds and sulphur, $200,000; Cotton Concentration Company, damage to sheds and loss of 3500 bales of cotton, $505,000; Anchor Milling Company, loss of plant and cotton seed, $80,000; Galveston Wharf Company, complete loss of pier 33, including warehouse, apron and pilings, $50,000; Italian steamship Etna, $75,000 to $100,000; Etna's cargo of 253,000 bushels of wheat at $2.30 a bushel, loss unknown.

The fire originated in sulphur bins at Pier 35 and spread rapidly along the waterfront.

The loading devices of the sulphur plant and bins in the neighborhood of pier 35 were destroyed, although some of the sulphur storage bins escaped. The fire wall on the east side of the pier 36 prevented the spread of the flames to that pier.

The ships Hornsby Castle, British; Erken, Swedish; and the Ventura de Larringa, British, were moved to safety. It was reported that fifteen cars of cotton were destroyed. Great difficulty was encountered in fighting the fire because of the high wind, which was blowing at about thirty miles an hour.

Forty freight cars on tracks at the sulphur plant were destroyed. A high density cotton compress under construction near pier 36 was saved.

Several firemen were overcome by fumes from the burning sulphur, but none of them were in a serious condition. More than 100 national guardsmen have been on duty at the fire.

The steamship Franconia in the slip at pier 34, was endangered, but escaped with only minor damage.

Fire Chief Ryan received a letter yesterday postmarked from some city in Canada, warning him that "you are going to be destroyed." The letter, which he took as the work of a crank, was signed "John."

Under the terms of a general order issued by Brig.-Gen. J. F. Wotters today, the police force of Galveston, suspended July 14, will be restored to active duty at midnight tonight under the active supervision of Capt. J. B. Brooks of the Texas Ranger Force.

Held Up by Auto Thieves.

Two young highwaymen followed B. A. Muir, operator of the Standard Oil Company's gasoline station at West Second and Fremont streets, from his station to his mother's home, 232 Parkman avenue, late last night and there robbed him at the point of their revolvers of $150 in cash and $100 in negotiable gasoline coupon books. They then fled north on Parkman avenue only to ditch their car in a vacant lot at the end of the blind street. The robbers then fled on foot. Detectives Rice and Glenn recovered the car, which had been stolen, and found clews that they believe will lead to the detection of the bandits.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Confession of Joseph Counselbaum today disclosed that $20,000 had been obtained from coin boxes of the Chicago telephone company within the last six weeks, until the robberies were finally stopped by a burglar alarm attached to the lock of the coin box which rang a gong when a key was inserted.

HARDING NAILS COX TALES.

Senator Denies Reports That Borah and Johnson Will Quit.

MARION (O.) Sept. 30.—Taking note of Democratic charges that progressivism and the League of Nations have created friction among Republican leaders, Senator Harding said tonight that he was satisfied of the support of a united party on both issues.

He characterized as "absolutely untrue" published reports that Senators Johnson and Borah of the treaty irreconcilables and informed him they soon would withdraw from the campaign and at the same time he announced that former President Taft and Herbert Hoover, two leading Republican advocates of ratification, soon would be taking an active part in the fight for election of the Republican ticket.

PROGRESSIVES' STAND.

Commenting on the appeals of Gov. Cox for progressive support, the Republican nominee declared he had information convincing him that "the rank and file of the supporters of Roosevelt are putting their full faith in our cause." He made public with his indorsement a telegram to the Governor from Charles Sumner Bird of Massachusetts, a former leader of the Roosevelt Progressive party, declaring that known Progressive sentiment was a complete refutation of Democratic claims.

Discussing informally the League issue, Senator Harding said he never had given privately in letter, or otherwise, to any Republican leader any statement of his position on the League which had not been contained also in his public utterances. His stand, he said, was known in every detail to the public and was commanding the united support of Republicans.

Asked specifically about the report of a joint letter from Senators Johnson and Borah refusing to take further part in his campaign, the nominee replied:

"There is no such letter. The story is absolutely untrue."

"Have you had any recent communication with Mr. Taft on that subject?" he was asked.

"I have had no direct communication with Mr. Taft, but I have heard from those close to him and I understand he will be in the campaign working heartily for the election of a Republican President by the middle of October. So will Herbert Hoover."

LETTER FROM BIRD.

The message to Gov. Cox from Mr. Bird, who was a Democrat before he went to the Progressive party, said:

"In your acrobatic campaign to attract voters, you endeavor to convey the impression that the Progressive voters of the late Theodore Roosevelt have been ignored and outlawed by Senator Harding who, as you express it, seeks advice from only a 'certain type of men,' namely, standpatters and reactionaries.

"The opposition to you of such Progressives as Johnson, Poindexter, Beveridge, James R. Garfield, McCormick, Baldwin, Robins and, in fact, by practically all of the Progressive leaders who stood back of Col. Roosevelt in 1912 and 1916, is a complete refutation of this oft-repeated, misleading and tricky statement of yours.

"I resent with intense indignation your desperate effort to capitalize his honored name for the purpose of promoting your political aspirations and for the purpose of perpetuating the power of the Democratic party, which he, above all, distrusted and excoriated."

Commenting on the telegram, Senator Harding said:

"I only wish to say that the facts as to the position of the Progressives of this country as he states them are borne out by the information which is sent voluntarily that the rank and file of the supporters of Roosevelt are putting their full faith in our cause."

Tomorrow Senator Harding will speak from the front-porch to a gathering of women, and officials at his headquarters today said his address would be one of the most important of the campaign. It will deal with social justice, outlining the Senator's program for humane reform and for organized social betterment.

A headquarters announcement said that 5000 women were expected to attend. Women of all political faiths have been invited.

FIX NEW DEATH CASE DATE.

Speculations as to whether Mrs. R. C. Peete, the important witness in the Denton murder case, was acquainted with J. C. Denton, the slain man, in Arizona and Colorado, or was connected with some hidden chapter in the wealthy mining promoter's life, were practically set aside yesterday by the discovery that Mrs. Peete apparently met Denton accidentally after May 17 through answering an advertisement placed in The Times at Denton's request in an attempt to rent his Catalina-street house.

The first intimation of this date was given to Chief Dept. Dist. Atty. Doran and Deputy Turney, his assistant, by Dwight Dale, former associate of Denton. Mr. Dale told the two investigators that he himself placed the advertisement in the paper at Denton's suggestion, after Mrs. J. C. Denton, formerly Dollie Mae Winters, Denton's second wife, died here in March.

"Denton bought the Catalina-street house for his wife, and when she died he decided to sell or rent it," Mr. Dale said. "He asked me to take the ad to The Times, and I remember taking it there approximately May 22." A check of The Times files showed that the advertisement was inserted May 18 and was printed for several days afterward. It read:

"For Rent—By widower, my beautiful Wilshire home, modern in every appointment; must be seen to be appreciated; adjoining Ambassador Hotel grounds; ten rooms and servant's quarters; double garage. Phone appointment, Wilshire 2507."

The significance of Mr. Dale's statement lies in the fact that Mrs. Peete apparently knew Denton only ten days at the most before he disappeared. Her version given in Denver and that given later by the owner of the apartment-house where she lived prior to going to the Catalina-street house are that she met Denton through the advertisement in The Times.

In this connection it is recalled that in the ten days that followed Mrs. Peete was seen at least twice by different persons when was with Denton in his automobile. One of those who saw her is Dwight Dale. The other is J. E. Metcalf, who spoke of seeing Mrs. Peete with Denton on the night the latter said he had a railway ticket and was ready to leave for the East.

The puzzling phase of this situation, as the investigating officers view it, is that in spite of the apparently short acquaintance between the two, Mrs. Peete appeared to be on friendly terms with Denton, and, after his disappearance, assumed control of his private business, used his automobile, attended to the renting of his home, ordered taken to the basement the earth in which his body was found buried three months later and in many other ways seemed to be closely connected with this affairs.

These are some of the things the detectives had in mind when they said they wished "Mrs. Peete would come here, as she has many things to explain."

SODA DISPENSERS AND WAITERS WILL STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Sept. 30.—A general strike of cooks, waiters and soda dispensers was called today to go into effect at midnight as the result of the announcement of members of the Hotel and Restaurant Keepers' Association that these establishments will be operated on the "open shop" basis and their refusal to grant wage increases.

Union officials said 2200 men and women will be affected.

Establishments whose employees are said to number approximately 3000, agreed today to comply with the union terms.

MRS. ROOSEVELT MAKES APPEAL TO MEN AND WOMEN TO VOTE FOR HARDING AND COOLIDGE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Mrs. Edith Roosevelt, widow of former President Theodore Roosevelt, tonight appealed to the "manhood and womanhood of America" to elect Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge.

In a statement dated at Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, and given out by the Republican Ntaional Committee, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"The country's vital need is the election of the Republican candidates, Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge. Only will the full measure of Americanism in the next administration be attained if the people shall declare for the party which holds true nationalism as its ideal. It is not necessary to forget our duty to our neighbor in doing our duty at home.

"The time appeals most strongly to the manhood and the womanhood of America—to women more than ever before, because to her has come the perfected opportunity to make her opinion weighty in behalf of the nation.

"This year, as never before, with world conditions as they are, steadiness and staunchness of American purpose are obligatory if we would first bring back our country to its stable place and then, by strong endeavor, do all that can be done for peace and the general welfare in all lands."

NEWS OF SUCCESSOR COMES AS SURPRISE TO LUIS M. SALAZAR

MEXICALI (Lower California) Sept. 30.—Manuel Balarezo of La Paz, Lower California, was today installed as Governor of the northern district of Lower California by Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, succeeding Luis M. Salazar. Senor Balarezo's appointment, it was announced, was made by Provisional President De Huerta on September 25.

Senor Balarezo and Gen. Calles arrived this afternoon from Yuma, Ariz. They were met at the train by Gov. Salazar. It was not until the latter had spent several minutes in conference with the visitors that he learned his administration was at an end.

Gen. Calles, as Minister of War and Marine of Mexico, announced that Senor Balarezo had taken the oath of office in Mexico City the day of his appointment. The new Governor will take up the routine of his office tomorrow, it was announced.

MILITARY ESCORT.

Troops under Gen. Rodriguez, numbering more than 1000, were drawn up in two lines from the railroad station to the capitol, holding back practically the entire population of Mexicali as the new Governor was escorted to military headquarters. After a short conference there the Governor went to the residence of Gen. Rodriguez, where he and Gen. Calles were entertained tonight.

None of the plans of the Minister of War were given out tonight, but there was a unconfirmed report he would remain three days and give orders making clear the policy of his government regarding commercial relations between the district and the neighboring American territory.

Gov. Salazar said that, while the coming of his successor was a surprise to him, he had held the office with the understanding that his tenure was but a temporary one. He said he had done the best he could under conditions more trying than the public realized, and was glad to lay aside the cares of office.

Gov. Salazar succeeded Esteban Cantu on August 15, last, after the latter had defied the Mexican provisional government, for several weeks and was declared by provisional president De la Huerta to be "out of rebellion."

Baldomero A. Almada of Los Angeles was appointed Governor of the district early in June, but Gov. Cantu refused to turn over the office to him.

LITTLE KNOWN HERE.

According to Baldomero Almada of this city, who once was named as Governor to succeed Esteban Cantu in Lower California, but who was not permitted to take the chair, the new Governor of Lower California—Manuel Balarezo was formerly a member of the agricultural commission in the peninsula under Gov. Cantu. Little is known of him here.

Senor Almada announced last night that he would leave today for El Paso to attend a celebration there and confer with President Obregon of Mexico. They will probably have a conference either Sunday or Monday, according to the present arrangement. Senor Almada said last night he was merely going down to pay the new President of Mexico a friendly visit, but prominent Mexicans in this city believe that considerable political significance is attached to the forthcoming conference.

RENTS LAST TO FALL.

Landlord Still Has Whip-hand.

While Other Prices Tumble Flats and Houses Are Not Enough for Demand.

Reduction by Wholesalers to Reach Consumers Soon, Says Reserve Board.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Experts who are studying the steady drop in prices of food, clothing and shoes, say these will continue until pre-war conditions are reached, but that rents will be the last to tumble from their lofty altitude. This is because the landlords have matters in their own hands.

Two landlords, controlling large numbers of apartments, have already reduced their rentals, thereby winning the gratitude of the tenants and incurring the undying hatred of other landlords, but these instances will be very rare.

The enormously high cost of all building materials and the attitude of the trade unions, more especially jurisdictional disputes, which hopelessly tied up every building project, are responsible for present conditions. There are not flats and houses enough to meet the demand and the landlords know it and are getting theirs while the getting is good. There are about 6000 vacant flats, but the price will not be reduced on any of them.

As to foodstuffs there is a marked decline in practically everything excepting meats. Grocery bills should be 20 to 25 per cent smaller than they were four months ago. This is the statement by a wholesaler who has a horror of any radical statement. He says nothing can stop the present decline in prices until something approximating the normal is reached. Public sentiment is forcing these declines and many distributors are losing money, but they must face the music. Some canned goods are being sold today at less than the manufactured cost.

MUST REACH CONSUMERS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Price cutting has taken hold of the wholesale trade to an extent that it soon must be felt substantially in lower prices to consumers, according to the Federal Reserve Board's monthly business review made public tonight.

Revival of the wave of price reduction and its spread to many retail lines was attributed to "a more exacting demand by the buying public as to price and quality." Retail purchasers are showing continued determination to await a move by dealers to meet those demands while foregoing luxuries and semi-luxuries, reports to the Board declared. Although the board believed the buying public was largely dominating the market now, it said that labor and production were having a marked effect on prices. There was much evidence, it said, of increased efficiency on the part of labor and as a result production was on the increase and factory operation beginning to approach normal.

BOARD'S FINDINGS.

Summed up, the board's findings were that "business conditions now are definitely on the road toward stability of as great and confirmed a nature as the disturbed position of the world at large permits."

"Continuance of the process of readjustment in business and industry has been an outstanding feature of the last month," the review said. "This has been accompanied by price reductions and by the resumption of work in branches of industry where hesitation as to future outlook has led to suspension.

"After an apparent slowing down in the price reduction movement during mid-summer, it has again

BUCK HERZOG IS STABBED BY BALL FAN.

Cub Player Knocks One Man from Machine; Slashed by Another.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—While members of the Chicago National League team were leaving the baseball park at Joliet, Ill., after an exhibition game today, one man of a crowd which surged about their automobile slashed Charles "Buck" Herzog three times with a knife, shouting:

"Here are some of those crooked Chicago ball players."

Herzog was cut across the palm of the right hand, on the left arm and the left leg. His wounds were not considered serious. The cuts were dressed by the Cubs' trainer and he returned to Chicago with the team.

One man leaped to the running board of the automobile, shouting at the Cub players, and Herzog knocked him off the step. A second man attacked Herzog with a knife, but others in the crowd quickly intervened and cleared a path for the Cubs' machine.

BIG GALES ARE PREDICTED.

Storm Warnings on Atlantic from Hatteras to Maine and on Great Lakes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The tropical disturbance first noted by the Weather Bureau as centering in the Gulf of Mexico was reported tonight as having traveled northeastward, with chief disturbances off the New Jersey coast.

The gales circling it, the bureau said, extended along the entire Atlantic from New England to Cuba while winds continued high in the gulf. The lowest barometerie pressure reported tonight was at Atlantic City.

Weather conditions along the track of the disturbance were unusual. The bureau reported that the temperature in a number of the Gulf States Thursday morning was lower than recorded in any previous September. There were frosts as far south as Oklahoma in the Plains States.

With the hoisting of the warnings this morning from Hatteras to Maine, storm signals were displayed on the entire Atlantic Coast and on the East Gulf Coast. Rain was general today along the Atlantic and East Gulf coasts. The disturbances have broken the heated spell in the eastern States.

The lowest temperature of record for the month of September was recorded this morning at Mobile, Ala., New Orleans and Dallas.

There were frosts over the Plains States and in the upper Mississippi Valley and upper lake region.

PERTH AMBOY (N. J.) Sept. 30. Harry E. Sands, Federal prohibition supervisor, announced tonight that he seized more than $100,000 worth of liquor from a warehouse here last night, as the forerunner of similar raids on warehouses suspected of releasing for illegal sale liquor stored for medicinal or sacramental purposes.

Nine hundred and sixty-two cases and 118 barrels of liquor were confiscated on information given by nine Italians, arrested in Philadelphia last Monday after a truckload of liquor from this city alleged to have been intended for sale for beverage purposes was seized. The total value of the liquor seized here and in Philadelphia is $162,150, Federal agents said.

White patches found on the cloth and cotton in the quilt gave the reactions for lime when analyzed. Whether the lime was thrown on the body for the purpose of destroying it was impossible to determine, he said. The preliminary tests did not show the lime in great quantities or strength.

The following additional matters of interest in the case developed during the day:

Advices from Arizona, giving more details of Denton's former business connections and adventures, appeared to strengthen the theory that he was murdered by men who harbored toward him a hatred of long standing.

BADGE NEW CLEW.

The thorough search being made for every possible clew connected with Denton, the Catalina-street house or persons brought into the investigation, resulted in the finding yesterday of a Colorado chauffeur's badge in a lot near the former residence of a man whose name was brought into the case by his transactions with Mrs. Peete following Denton's disappearance last June.

Inquiries by a Times representative in Indianapolis last night disclose that the badge was issued to Charles D. Kopitowsky, alias Charles D. Brown. He says he never heard of Denton. He was formerly employed by a taxicab company in the Colorado city, but left at the beginning of the chauffeurs' strike about three months ago. He declares he loaned his badge to a man there who said he wanted to get a job with the taxicab company, but he does not recall the man's name. He left town without getting the badge back. How the badge got into Denton's house he does not know. Kopitowsky says the man to whom he lent the badge once told him he came from California. He described the man as about 5 feet 4 inches in height and weight about 130 pounds. The chauffeur declares he did not know Mrs. Peete. He says he was in Los Angeles about four years ago and that he can easily prove his innocence if brought into the case.

Dep. Dist.-Attys. Doran and Turney added a number of statements to the collection already on hand. Among the persons who called at the Hall of Records and made statements to them are:

Dwight Dale, former business associate of Denton. He told of the last time he saw the mining man and of the conversation between them. Mr. Dale's story added important details to the data on the date of the murder and the condition of Denton's arm.

PLUMBER TALKS.

Milton W. Armstrong, a plumber working for a water heater company. He told Mr. Doran and Mr. Turney of fixing the water heater in the Catalina-street house last July 7, 8 and 9, at the request of Mrs. Peete. His story, it is reported, partly contradicts that of James W. Crowhurst, the plumber who worked on the heater early in June.

Officer Lowell Lyons of Central Police Station. He told Mr. Doran about the badge and some clothing said to have been found near the former residence of a man connected with the inquiry.

Another connecting link of evidence regarding Denton's movements just prior to his disappearance was furnished the District Attorney's office when Supt. Manning, of the criminal department of the Sheriff's office, turned over to Mr. Doran telegraphic correspondence between Sheriff Cline and J. E. Metcalf, a friend of Denton, in which Mr. Metcalf gave details of the actions and words of Denton on the last night he is believed to have been alive.

Mr. Doran again denied yesterday that Detective Jones is in Denver or on his way there to interview Mrs. Peete. Mr. Doran said he had not heard from Mr. Jones since the latter left the city on a mysterious mission.

TWO BANK ACCOUNTS.

From two reliable sources, The Times learned yesterday that Denton's bank balance under the name of J. C. Denton was approximately $760, or barely more than the total of the two checks which were made out subsequent to the supposed date of his murder and which are now being examined to ascertain whether they are forgeries.

Denton's total balance in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank after his death was more than $5700, but several days before his murder he changed most of his account to the name of Jacob C. Denton, leaving only a balance of slightly more than $750 under his accustomed signature.

His balance for the J. C. Denton account was sent to the house, it also was learned, during the last week in May. As far as known, there was no record in his house of the larger account under the changed signature.

The two checks being examined by Milton Carlson were made to the order of Mrs. Peete, one on June 5 and the other four days later. Judge Avery, special administrator for the estate, declared yesterday that no report is ready on these yet.

Investigation of the will shows that it was typewritten on Denton's machine and signed by him. Mr. Carlson said. Mrs. Peete explained the apparent differences between the signatures on the checks and Denton's writing by telling bank officials, they said, that Denton was unable to use his right arm and that she aided him in signing his name.

METCALF STATEMENT.

Mr. Metcalf, the Gallup, N. M., man whose narrative in reference to being with Denton, just before the latter's disappearance, was turned over to Mr. Doran yesterday, made the statement to Sheriff J. H. McCamant of the New Mexico town, to whom Sheriff Cline had wired asking that Mr. Metcalf be questioned. In the inquiry sent by Sheriff Cline and Undersheriff Manning, the New Mexico officer was asked to learn if possible the date Denton was murdered or disappeared, as the exact date was not known in Los Angeles.

Sheriff McCamant wired back as follows: "Had an interview with Metcalf. Says he roomed at Rintons. Knew him intimately. Was with him night before he was supposed to have disappeared. Does not know date of murder. If you want him as a witness, let me know at once."

Sheriff Cline then wired asking for more detailed information. The following telegram was received:

"J. C. Cline, Sheriff,
"Los Angeles.

"Metcalf salesman with Todd Protectograph Company of El Paso. Denton, Mrs. Peete and daughter, Mrs. B. Collins, daughter, Metcalf drove to Griffith Park. Denton talked of departure for Kansas City next day and had already purchased railroad ticket. He asked Metcalf to go to New York with him and return by way of Detroit, where he would purchase a car and drive back. Mrs. Peete told Metcalf that night she was going to sell Denton's home, for which she was to receive a commission. One night on returning home Metcalf found Denton reading Bible and talked of death and the hereafter. Same night stated that people who visited him must take the same chances he did, win or lose. Seemingly worried about death and some one who had invested with him.

[Signed] "J. H. McCAMANT, "Sheriff."

TELLS OF "PARTY."

W. R. Wyatt, night watchman employed by Mrs. Peete to include the Denton home on South Catalina street in his night rounds, last night told of a "party" held at the house one night between August 8 and 15, during which three automobiles were parked near the house and dancing continued until 4 a.m. He believes this may have been the "big party" which Mrs. Peete is declared to have said resulted in the breaking of some furniture at the house.

"The next day Mrs. Peete told me," Mr. Wyatt said, "that she had let the house to some Bakersfield people, but that they made such noise at their party of the night before that she had told them to move."

Mr. Wyatt was employed by Mrs. Peete about June 1, he says. He previously had been watching the house for Denton. When Mrs. Peete called him to include the house on his rounds she told him, he said, that she had rented the house from Denton, who was going on a trip. About the last of June, he says, she gave him a key to the house so that he could go through it when she was away at night. The first trip that he remembers she made from the house was to Catalina for a week during the last of June.

COOLIDGE PLEADS FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE.

GOVERNOR IS PRESENTED WITH OVERCOAT AT GREAT BARRINGTON FAIR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GREAT BARRINGTON (Mass.) Sept. 30.—A plea for industrial peace and a cessation of the interruption of production was made by Gov. Coolidge, Republican candidate for Vice-President, in a speech before the annual fair of the Housatonic Agricultural Society here today.

The achievement of these two ends, he said, was essential to national prosperity, and he expressed confidence that the good sense of the American people would lead them to this solution of their industrial ills.

The majority of the audience were from farms and Gov. Coolidge pointed to their good fellowship and hard and honest labor as an example which might well be emulated in all industry as the foundation of all national greatness.

"A shining example of the cessation of the interruption of production," he added, "is the way the farms of the nation are running."

The Governor was presented with an overcoat, the wool for which was contributed by the sheep raisers of Berkshire county and carded, woven and dyed in North Adams. The overcoat was made by the Governor's tailor at Northampton.

Gov. Coolidge returned to Boston tonight.

STRIKE LEADERS FREED WHEN $8250 IS PAID.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Dismissal of contempt proceedings against Max Zaritsky and Caroline Wolff of New York, international president and organizer, respectively, of the United Cloth Hat and Cap Makers' Union, was announced in Federal court today.

The union officials were charged with having violated a court order restraining the union from picketing seven local hat manufacturers during a recent strike. The charges were dropped, it was explained, after the union had paid the hat companies $8250 for damages alleged to have been caused by the strike.

CANDIDATES ON IRISH QUESTION.

Cox Makes Promises He Cannot Keep to Corral Votes, Alleged—Harding Says We Cannot Meddle in Great Britain's Affairs, and Knows We Must Not Offend.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The favorable impression created by Mr. Harding's sense of responsibility in dealing with the issues he considers grows. He acts and speaks as if he were under the official restraint of the great office he seeks.

Mr. Cox on the other hand, while he assures his audiences that his election is certain, and tells of what he will do when he takes office, is always and only the candidate, promising anything and everything, and having no thought to the embarrassment to his government such promises would be were he elected, or to the impossibility of his performing them in office.

The words of the two candidates on the Irish question show this difference clearly. Mr. Cox says that when he is elected, and we enter the League, he will press a resolution in the League that Great Britain be compelled to grant Ireland independence on the principle of self-determination.

A PREPOSTEROUS STEP.

Of course, he will do nothing of the sort. He will find that no other member of the League will for one moment countenance the idea that the League has any jurisdiction of such a matter. Even he will hesitate—if we can conceive him to be President—to affront one of the principal Allied powers, entirely friendly to the United States, by such a preposterous step. But this promise of Mr. Cox's is "a good enough Morgan till after the election" to propitiate the Irish Sinn Fein vote.

Mr. Harding's attitude, on the other hand, in respect to the Irish question, is that of one who appreciates the solemn duties of a President in dealing with other nations, and his sacred obligation not to offend a friendly neighbor by meddling in that neighbor's domestic business without excuse.

ACTION ANOTHER THING.

Mr. Harding truly says that there is a widespread sympathy among the American people in the cause of Irish autonomy, but that official action on the subject by the President is quite another thing; that the Irish question is not for official America, and that under the provisions of the League of Nations it is a domestic question and not within the jurisdiction of the League.

He thus makes all to know that he will not, as President, meddle in Great Britain's domestic affairs, as he would properly resent Great Britain's meddling in ours. Mr. Cox is constantly asserting that Mr. Harding never gives definite answers. Mr. Cox is hard to satisfy.

McSWINEY WEAKER, BULLETIN DECLARES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League shows that after a brighter day, Lord Mayor MacSwiney suffered from sudden weakness at 8 o'clock tonight, after which he slept.

The steamer Fanad Head, which arrived at Dublin, from Montreal on September 22, was raided today for arms by Sinn Feiners, who took four revolvers and one rifle.

BELFAST, Sept. 30.—Continuance of rioting and bloodshed in this city is viewed officially as creating an intolerable situation, and Ulster's proposal for an armed civic guard is likely to be adopted by the government if disorders continue.

Threats by the Sinn Fein that organization of such a guard would be taken as a "declaration of war," with a resultant uprising of Irish nationalists, are not taken seriously, it being asserted that "the existing situation cannot possibly be worse."

NO CHANGE IS SEEN IN FURNITURE PRICE.

GRAND RAPIDS, Sept. 30.—There can be no immediate reduction in the price of furniture, according to a statement made today by John L. Young, Cleveland, president of the Retail Furniture Dealers' Association of the United States. Mr. Young authorized the statement that there have been no changes affecting the cost of furniture that would indicate any material reduction could take place in the near future without seriously affecting the wages and employment.

"However," said Mr. Young, "we deem it desirable and for the best interests of the American home that concerted effort be exercised by the manufacturers to reduce manufacturing costs, other than labor, and to reflect these reductions in the finished product as soon as possible."

RESOLUTIONS CONDEMN SECRETARY HOUSTON.

ATLANTA (Ga.) Sept. 30.—Resolutions condemning the policy of Secretary of the Treasury Houston towards loans for holding cotton and urging farmers to hold their products for a "fair price" were adopted here today at a mass meeting attended by cotton men, bankers and merchants. A committee of nine was appointed to take the matter up with heads of all farm organizations and arrange a meeting in Washington and to urge representatives of all lines of farm industry to express disapproval of "any effort to curtail farm credits."

WHITE RAILS AT HARDING.

Hughes Address Proves Plans of Democrats, He Says.

League of Nations Only Hope for Ireland.

Roosevelt Calls on Republican to Answer Him.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement tonight, said the speech of Charles E. Hughes at the Union League Club here last night "caps Senator Harding's recent statement on Ireland, and proves that the only hope of settling the problem is in the League."

"The difference between the position of the two parties on the Irish question is very simple," he said. "Gov. Cox has said that under Article XI he will, if elected, bring the matter of the attention of the League of Nations as affecting 'the good understanding among nations on which the peace of the world depended.' Such is the language of Article XI.

"Senator Harding has said that the Irish problem is not a matter for any official action by the United States. Thus, President Cox will have the League consider the matter. President Harding will take no action, League or no League.

WHITE'S ARGUMENT.

"Having thus broken the hope of the Irish people, the Republicans now set out to prove that Gov. Cox cannot do what he promises. Last night Mr. Hughes was put forth to demonstrate the point. But his very argument compelled him to admit, as his speech shows, that Gov. Cox can carry out his promise to bring the problem to the League's attention, and therefore he fell back on the assertion that 'no remedy can come from it.' He made this as a prophecy, contending that unanimous action of the Council was necessary to effective action; that Great Britain would never consent to any action; therefore there would be none.

"I do not concede the inspiration or the prophecy. Once the League takes up the Irish question, as Mr. Hughes admits President Cox can have it do, remedial action is bound to come. The march of events bears out my prophecy as it discredits his. The League will not permit any selfish interest to break that 'good understanding among nations,' which is threatened by the Irish problem and the interest of Great Britain in settlement will be as great as that of any other nation."

ROOSEVELT ADDRESS.

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Sept. 30. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in an address here tonight, which closed his three-day campaign in West Virginia, again asked Senator Harding to state plainly and unequivocally his position on the League of Nations.

"I hate to be insistent," he said, "but it is necessary. A few days ago I asked Senator Harding where he stood on the League of Nations. I did not say 'a League' or 'an association', but 'the League.'

"He answered in Wheeling as follows: 'I will never favor any alliance, League or compact that can impose its will by its vote, on the people of the United States. I will favor friendly association and conference of the peoples of the world.'

"I did not ask him this, and it is not an answer to my question. I agree with him in his stand against other nations imposing by their votes their will on our people. I, too, am in favor of friendly association of nations. But we get nowhere by having him avoid answering plainly. Therefore, I ask him once more the question, and I will make it so clear that every school child can understand it. Here it is:

QUESTIONS AGAIN.

"'If the United States can enter the existing League of Nations in such a way that the will of the League cannot be imposed on us against our will, and if it is made clear that our constitutional and Congressional rights regarding war are in every way preserved, would you, Senator Harding, then favor our going in?'

"Frankly, I do not believe Senator Harding will answer that question. To do so clearly and unequivocally means the loss of support, either by the anti-League Senator Johnson element, or by the pro-League, ex-President Taft element."

He also charged Senator Harding with being a member of the "reactionary group" which enabled steel companies to maintain a monopoly in the manufacture of armor plate and heavy shells and for a long time in Congress voted against appropriations for a naval armor plate plant which was eventually built near this city.

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR FORMER GERMAN SHIP.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Four bids for the purchase of the former German steamer Black Arrow—the highest $1,150,000—were opened today at the Shipping Board, but no tenders were received for the former German commerce raider Von Stouben, which was offered for sale at the same time.

The Polish American Navigation Corporation of New York was the highest bidder on the Black Arrow, but action on the tenders for the ship was deferred.

QUOTED WRONG, AVERS HOUSTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 30.—There was indignation among Arizona cotton growers on receipt of information apparently through official sources, that Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture had censured the farmers for holding on to their products and had recommended immediate release. Investigation was started by the Arizona Cotton Growers' Association. Senator Mark Smith made inquiry yesterday and there was response in short order from the Secretary, who wired Senator Smith as follows:

"Of course, I made no such foolish statement as that 'the financing of producers that they may obtain a fair price for their commodities is a conspiracy in restraint of trade.'

"My statement was: 'I am in favor of every legitimate effort to promote the orderly marketing of all commodities, but the government cannot be a party to an undertaking to hold commodities off the market to enable the owners artificially, for speculative purposes to maintain war prices or higher than war prices.'

"In speaking of the government, of course, I was speaking particularly of the treasury. I was not speaking of the banks. They are not the government. My statement was induced by a request of people that the treasury either deposit money in crop-moving sections or that it renew the War Finance Corporation activities. Either of these things would necessitate the treasury's borrowing more money at the high rate which it is now bringing to meet current obligations.

HAS NO MONEY.

"It has no money to deposit except for government purposes; the War Finance Corporation could only assist in financing exports. This power was given at a time when it was feared that exports would not go forward. Exports have increased steadily to enormous proportions and are now running at the rate of over $8,000,000,000 for the year.

"Obviously the treasury would not be warranted in borrowing money to further stimulate exports or to deposit for lending purposes. The treasury should not be in the banking business. It may interest you to know that six times as much is being rediscounted in certain reserve banks for crop-moving sections as has ever been deposited in such sections by the treasury. There is no conflict between my statement and Gov. Harding's. He was speaking for the reserve system.

"I have asserted that I am in favor of the orderly marketing of all commodities. Gov. Harding asserts the same. The banks are lending more money today to agriculture and industry than has ever before been lent. I have repeatedly expressed myself in favor of orderly marketing and of the promotion of co-operative marketing among farmers. I do not see how I can add anything to the statement. My insistence on the desirability of orderly marketing is pointed by my statement as to the unwisdom of enterprises to hold commodities off the market artificially, for speculative purposes, to maintain war prices of higher than war prices. I assume that the great mass of the people of this country would recognize not only the unwisdom, but the illegality of such an undertaking."

MRS. BASS DENOUNCES ATTACK ON LEAGUE.

DECLARES MRS. LIVERMORE WILFULLY PERVERTED ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the women's bureau of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement issued at headquarters here today, asserted that Mrs. Arthur Livermore, chairman of the Republican Women's State Executive Committee, had deliberately and willfully perverted the English language in her attack at Somerville, N. J., last night, upon the League of Nations and its provision in relation to traffic in women and children.

"I am so profoundly shocked at the expressions attributed to Mrs. Livermore that my first thought is that she does not understand the meaning of the word 'cognizant,'" said Mrs. Bass' statement. "But upon examining the repeated attacks upon paragraph three of Art. XXIII, I can have no other conclusion but that she has willfully perverted the meaning of the English language.

"I would have preferred thinking that she misunderstood the meaning of the word than to realize that she has permitted the Republican women's campaign to sink to such a low level of degradation as to charge the League of Nations with being a party to traffic in women and children.

"On the contrary, the League of Nations has taken cognizance of all conditions affecting women and children, as well as opium and other dangerous rugs, and will remedy them.

"To indicate otherwise is an insult to the statesmanship and moral character of the premiers of the great powers and the intelligence of the women voters of the United States."

Raymond B. Fosdyck, former undersecretary-general of the League of Nations, in a statement tonight, denied that Art. XXIII of the League covenant was an attempt to "legalize the traffic in women and girls." Mr. Fosdyck said that for eight months he had charge "of this particular activity" of the League and the work "was aimed at the ultimate suppression of the traffic in women and girls."

Art. XXIII was placed in the covenant, he declared, at the solicitation of the American Social Hygiene Association, the International League for the Abolition of the White Slave Traffic and similar organizations.

COX AIRS HIS LEAGUE VIEWS.

Domestic and International Subjects Discussed.

Also Takes Up Prohibition in His Speeches.

Says He Would Have Duplicated Harding's Votes.

WICHITA (Kan.) Sept. 30.—Domestic and international subjects were mingled with the paramount League of Nations issued by Gov. Cox in nine addresses today in Kansas with the finale of the candidate's State campaign a large meeting here tonight at the Forum.

Besides the League, the Governor gave his views on the Mexican question, the Russian problem and amplified his discussion of prohibition. Many of the candidate's remarks were inspired at what he termed "town meetings"—informal talks with his audiences in which he invited questioning.

In response to a question on Mexico the Governor referred to statements of Senator Harding regarding protecting American citizens and interests and added: "It's one thing to talk about protecting American citizens no matter where it might be, but when an adventurer goes into a hornet's nest and knows where he is going, the United States ought not send a brigade of soldiers with him."

QUIZZED ON PROHIBITION.

Gov. Cox was quizzed regarding prohibition at Hutchinson and Newton and again characterizing Senator Harding as a brewer, declared that the Senator had upon Senate prohibition measures voted wet thirty-two times and dry two times. The Governor added that under similar circumstances he would have duplicated the Senator's dry votes. A man asked why President Wilson vetoed the Volstead enforcement law, and the Governor replied sharply:

"He gave his own reasons. And let me add, Wilson isn't running for President this year; Cox is running for President."

When applause subsided the Governor added that he intended no disrespect to the man who will take his place in history with Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

Russia, the candidate declared, should be admitted to the League as soon as its requirements could be met. Asked regarding the League's attitude toward Russia if this nation was a member, the Governor replied:

"The League would be compelled to keep hands off Russia and permit the Russian people to work out her own salvation. And Russia will."

Germany, Turkey and all other nonmember nations, the speaker added, should be invited in when possible.

To his audiences in Kansas agricultural communities, the Governor reiterated his plan to place agriculturists in more governmental positions, again defended the causes for the Nonpartisan League movement, advocated repeal of many war taxes and modifications of "most" others and promised Federal regulation of the meat packers and cold storage interests.

The Governor again denounced the Senatorial oligarchy, characterizing Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as the arch-conspirator of the world and a narrow-minded bigot, the man who wrote the Hymn of Hate against Woodrow Wilson. He also flayed the arrest of a man who interrupted Senator Harding's Baltimore speech, and asked: "Is this America or Russia?"

Asked how the League would be more effectual than The Hague tribunal in preventing war, the Governor said:

"The four greatest wars in history happened under it (The Hague tribunal) and lasted only fifteen years—the Boer War, the Balkan War, the war between Russia and Japan, and the World War."

TEACHERS ATTEND SAFETY CONGRESS.

EDUCATORS GUIDEPOSTS TO HUMANITY, AND CAN MAKE WORLD HAPPY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30.—Several thousand school principals and teachers, including many from all parts of the country, were present today at a lecture delivered by Dr. George Payne, St. Louis, vice-chairman of the education section, National Safety Council, in which he outlined the most modern methods of safety instruction for school children. The lecture was part of the program of the ninth annual congress of the National Safety Council.

"Your are the guideposts of humanity of the generation now growing to its place as masters of the world," said Dr. Payne.

"It is within the power of the teachers, more than any other agency, to lead that generation into the paths of safety. If you make the effort you can develop the children who come under your care into careful adults, save thousands of lives and make thousands of lives happier by preventing the destruction of eyes and limbs and consequent suffering."

CINEMA EXHIBITORS IN CRITICAL MOOD.

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 30.—Resolutions of vital interest were adopted yesterday at the opening session of the Illinois Exhibitors' Alliance of the Motion-Picture Owners' of America.

"Poorer pictures for higher prices," was the manner in which President Joseph Hopp of Chicago characterized a possible monopoly of the industry.

The practice of producers encouraging stars to "jump" contracts was officially frowned upon. A resolution against legalized censorship was unanimously passed.

CORNELL WILL LIMIT NUMBER OF STUDENTS.

reappeared and the month of September saw substantial cuts in well-known makes of automobiles, various classes of textiles, shoes and leathers and of other wholesale prices. Changes in prices have tended to make business men and bankers cautious about future commitments."

IN TEXTILE LINES.

Drops in prices have featured almost all of the textile lines, agents of the various reserve banks reported, and they added that, due to reductions already announced by wholesalers and jobbers, the retailers are buying carefully and not in large quantities.

While housing conditions were represented as being acute in all communities, the board's figures held out hope for an early renewal of construction. Materials prices show the effect of price-cutting in other commodities and "certainly have passed the peak," the review said.

DROP IN SUGAR.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The drop in sugar prices caused a shrinkage in value of at least $250,000,000, according to an estimate made to Atty.-Gen. Allen today by Edwin F. Atkins, an official of several of the largest sugar companies. Stocks of sugar in this country are enormous, he said. He estimated them at 2,000,000 tons.

The Attorney-General, who is inquiring into the sugar situation, expressed the opinion that when the drop came the American Sugar Refining Company should have absorbed some of the loss to help small dealers who had stocked up at the higher prices. The Attorney-General said he had knowledge that the company immediately before the decline made it compulsory for customers to do business on written contracts stipulating prices.

Mr. Atkins said absorption of part of dealers' losses by the American company might have forced it into bankruptcy.

Between the time sugar sold for 6½ cents a pound and the date it reached 22½ cents, Mr. Atkins said, "fortunes were won or lost overnight" by the crowds or speculators who went into the market to "clean up." He said one estate lost $3,000,000 on the drop in the market.

SUGAR 13 CENTS A POUND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The sugar market weakened again today and prices declined to new low ground for this year for both raw and refined grades. Fine granulated declined a half cent to 13 cents a pound. Raw sugar sold at 9 cents, duty paid, delivered.

WHEAT FUTURES DROP.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Sept. 30.—Wheat futures dropped 9½ to 10½ cents on the exchange here today. December delivery closing at $2.10½, 10½ cents under yesterday's close, and March closed at $2.06½, 9½ cents down.

COLLARS ARE REDUCED.

TROY (N. Y.) Sept. 30.—Earl and Wilson, one of the largest collar and shirt manufacturers in the country, have announced reductions in the wholesale prices of shirts. The reductions cover virtually every grade of shirt manufactured by the company and range from $1.50 to $24 a dozen.

About a week ago this company announced a reduction in the price of collars.

DAIRY LUNCH CUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 30.—A chain of dairy lunch rooms here today announced a reduction in price of five cents on each item.

LEE TIRES DROP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Lee Tire and Rubber Company announced today a reduction in the price of its entire line of tires from 15 to 20 per cent, effective throughout the country.

OTTAWA (Ont.) Sept. 30.—Further declines in the cost of living throughout Canada are expected in the near future, said a statement today by the Department of Labor. Decline already noted indicate the beginning of a downward movement toward pre-war levels.

AUTO COMPETITION TOO KEEN; DISMANTLE ROAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Sept. 30.—Competition of the automobile today drew an official admission of financial failure from the Rock Island Southern Railway, whose two receivers obtained authority from the State Public Utilities Commission to entirely dismantle the company's electrical equipment and to continue operation either by steam or gasoline.

MAKES PLEA FOR BETTER SALARIES.

SPEAKER AT LAYMEN'S MEETING ASKS BETTER PAY FOR MINISTERS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 30.—Declaring that all prosperity was a gift of God and that church congregations should realize that they are only stewards of God's gifts and that the aforementioned gifts should be shared with the pastors, E. B. Smith of Fresno made a stirring appeal for more pay for ministers at today's session of the twenty-first annual convention of the Laymen's Association of the Southern California conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Pastors should receive a large enough salary to enable them to live in comfort and not have their work affected by worrying over how they are going to make their salary meet all requirements, Mr. Smith said.

The following pastors transferred from other conferences were received this morning: Rev. Elmer E. Helms, Philadelphia; Rev. Hardy A. Ingham, Northern Minnesota; Rev. W. I. Lowe, Western Wisconsin; Rev. Harley T. Preston, Philadelphia; Rev. R. W. Planette, Dakota; Rev. James A. Stakley, Kansas; Rev. Dr. Thomas O. Grieves, Idaho; Rev. Byron E. Born, Missouri.

Pastors transferred from this diocese are: Rev. Oliver C. Lajour, to Northern California; Rev. Jose L. Tavares, to California; Rev. J. C. Hartzberger, to Africa.

The tendency for young ministers to accept detached service and yet retain effective relationships with the Southern California conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church was strongly denounced by Bishop Adna Leonard.

DRAMATIC CLIMAX IN MURDER TRIAL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Sept. 30.—Both the prosecution and defense in the trial of Jacob R. Marsh for killing his stepson-in-law, Louis Terra, rested their cases this afternoon. The argument will begin tomorrow morning.

Several dramatic incidents marked the day. Four large photographs showing the body of Terra lying at the foot of the stairs leading to the porch of the Marsh home were introduced by the prosecution. The pictures were taken by A. S. Gerardi of Los Angeles, who chanced to be in that vicinity on the day of the slaying. Gerardi was one of the witnesses of the prosecution.

The re-enactment of the shooting at the request of Special Prosecutor Edward Cunha of San Francisco, created something of a sensation. Cunha directed Marsh to take the rifle with which Terra had been shot and show how the gun was held, and Cunha demonstrated how Terra had been rushing towards him at the time.

Marsh testified that he shot Terra during a quarrel over an automobile, but that Terra had repeatedly threatened his life, and because of his greater age and physical condition he was no match for the younger man, and was in fear of his life.

A number of character witnesses, including some of the most prominent merchants and bankers in Paso Robles, testified to Marsh's excellent reputation and that Terra had been of a quarrelsome disposition.

DR. A. C. DIXON, the successor of D. L. Moody in Chicago, and Charles Hadden Spurgeon of London will lecture at the Bible Institute Auditorium, Sixth and Hope, FRIDAY EVENING, October 1, at 8 o'clock.

In Every Home For Every Purpose

This is the slogan around which the Sperry Flour Co. has built up an enormous business for flour and similar products on the Pacific Coast and in other Western States.

A "close up" shows that this Company operates 48 mills and selling offices in California and the intermountain territory. A 2000-bbl. capacity plant at Ogden, Utah, one of 3000 bbls. at Spokane, Wash., and another big one at Vallejo, Cal., merely suggests the wide range of the Sperry Flour Company's recent activities. Quality products, coupled with good merchandising, is the reason for this vast growth.

Recent enlargement of the Los Angeles plant to double capacity involved office expansion, as well, and here the standardized Weber equipment was utilized.

Your office requirements can be equally well served. It will be a pleasure to consult with you.

FOURTH SOVIET ARMY CRUSHED.

Polish Advance is Irresistible; Staff Taken Prisoner.

Ukrainians Likely to Join With Gen. Wrangel.

Situation in Italian Industry is Critical.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WARSAW, Sept. 29.—Polish forces captured Lida, an important town forty-five miles south of Vilna, and Pinsk, a fortified city ninety miles east of Brest-Litovsk on Tuesday, according to official statements issued here.

The Polish advance toward the northeast is continuing, and the fall of Vilna, the Lithuanian capital, is expected within a few days.

Kamenets-Podolsk, a city on the southern bank of the Dniester River in Ukraine, has been recaptured by Ukrainian troops from the Bolsheviki, it is reported.

Reports show that the Polish-Ukrainian forces are advancing along the entire line. In the center the Poles have reached Slonim and crossed the River Shchara, destroying the Twenty-first Bolshevist Division, and capturing nine guns.

SMASH FOURTH RED ARMY.

In Polesia the Poles smashed the Fourth Bolshevik Army, the reports state, taking 3000 prisoners, including all staff officers with the exception of the commander-in-chief, and wresting Pinsk from the soviet forces.

Between Pinsk and Grodno, in Volhynia, Polish troops have occupied the railway junction of Sarny.

In connection with the report of the capture of Kamanets-Podolsk by the Ukrainians in their eastward push, it is said unofficially that the Ukrainians are contemplating an effort to join Gen. Wrangel's forces and sever the Bolshevik line of communication between Kiev and Odessa.

PEACE MOVE LAGS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

RIGA, Sept. 30.—The Russo-Polish peace conference was at a standstill today awaiting the Polish reply to the seventeen soviet proposals, which M. Dombski, head of the Polish delegation, has communicated to the Polish Foreign Minister, Prince Sapieha, at Warsaw. Meanwhile the Polish delegation is uncertain whether the proposals are acceptable, although the unofficial view is that the Poles will not accept the proposed boundary.

It is apparent Prince Sapieha is the real head of the Polish delegation and M. Dombski and the other members of the Polish delegation virtually are unable to conduct the negotiations without communicating each important step taken to Warsaw.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, Sept. 30.—Signor Ancona, who was a member of the Orlando Cabinet, writing in the Giornale d'Italia of the situation in Italy as a consequence of the metallurgic dispute, says:

"I do not know how the men's participation in the management of industry will work out, but I do know it will be the greatest fortune, or the deepest disaster, for Italy. If the men return to work, so to speak, with bombs in their pockets, looking for trouble and a suitable spot and time to explode them, and with their minds full of anarchism and Communism; if the masters hamper the men, denying them a just share of the earnings; then industry will suffer complete atrophy and be involved in everlasting ruin."

POLICE TAKE PLANT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MILAN, Sept. 30.—The leaders of the Confederation of Labor strongly denounce Maximalists and anarchists who have been fomenting disorders to prevent workmen from enjoying the advantages gained by the strike settlement.

The Pinellis works have been the scene of considerable agitation and now have been occupied by the police in order to avoid further complications. At this plant the men have been paid 200 lire instead of 150, as agreed upon, for work done during the men's occupation.

REDS ACCUSE LENINE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—Charges by Nikolai Lenine, Russian Bolshevik Premier, that the "Italian proletariat was betrayed by Deputies Daragona, Turati and Modigliania," which are printed in the Freiheit of this city, have produced a great stir among Socialists here. The newspaper also prints an article written by Lenine which was published in the newspaper Pravada of Moscow, which says:

"Events in Italy must open the eyes of even the most obstinate. Turati, Modigliania and Daragona are guilty of sabotage against the revolution in Italy at the moment when it begins to ripen."

LEGHORN (Italy) Sept. 29. — Alarm is felt here over the prospect that American shipments of coal to Italy will be stopped. Newspapers of this city publish a telegram received by an agent of an American firm, which says:

"Owing to the revolutionary movement in Italy, we have ceased sending coal and are cancelling former orders, the stability of Italian money being uncertain."

Cox Has Ten Alleged Reasons Why They Should Support Democrats.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Ten reasons why former service men should support the Democratic national ticket, prepared by Gov. Cox, were made public tonight by the Democratic National Committee. The ten arguments were included by the Democratic Presidential candidate in a formal letter to the Argonne Post Weekly of Des Moines, Iowa. They are as follows:

"Because they have constantly talked the broadest principles of progressive development, conforming to the spirit of the century for independent political judgment.

"Because its candidates have never said and never believed that sentiment recently uttered by Senator Harding when he said 'too much is heard of independence in politics.'

HONOR OF COUNTRY.

"Because in this year the Democratic party represents the honor of the country; because it believed in keeping faith with the living and faith with the dead; faith with our Allies and faith with our foes.

"Because the Democratic party stands for a League of Nations, the existing League, to end war, to compose differences by adjustment of wrongs through the processes of world opinion.

"Because it would have America assume its rightful place at the head of the nations of the world, unafraid to take its place as a leader.

"Because only through the League can order be brought to the world and because the failure of the League will cause us to revert to international anarchy—huge competitive armaments which are inevitable breeders of war.

"Because the Democratic candidates despise to appeal to racial bigotry.

"Because the Republican party leaders have unblushingly appealed to the disloyalists of the United States and are unashamed to hold their power in the United States by reason of the vote of a man found guilty of violating the law in obtaining his seat in that body, Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan.

"Because the Democratic administration wrote into the laws of the country the Federal Reserve Act, the Farm Loan Act and other pieces of legislation that enabled it to muster the resources of the country at a critical time, so that all Americans, regardless of party, might win the greatest of all wars for humanity and for high principles.

"Because, notwithstanding that many conditions are not ideal, America is at this hour the safest place in which to live, the most desirable and the best from every standpoint, and because it will come through progressive evolution to a still higher plane of development, despite the attempts of reactionaries like Senator Harding to stop it."

Well, We've Got 'em! Plenty of 'em!

When Your Tailor?

Our complete line of model garments will enable you to select the exact style design you desire.

We are talking about the tweeds, worsteds, serges, the "pure quill" woolens that you used to wear "before the war."

Careful dressers, those who appreciate super-fine quality and perfect workmanship, have been seeking the kind of materials we now have in stock, in vain for the past few years.

Plenty of tailors have lost their best customers because they were simply up against the old problem of "can't get the goods." Their customers who had always demanded the BEST preferred to wear out their old clothing to purchasing shoddy materials.

We Don't Want to Take Any Good Tailor's Business Away from Him but in the Future if Your Tailor Can't Supply the Material You Want, Ask Us!

We'll have it and probably you won't be able to find it anywhere else in Los Angeles. Why? Because we are the exclusive local representative of Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. COUNTRY LOSES TO THE CITIES.

Urban Population Outstrips Rural, Census Shows.

Countryside Growth is Slow, While Towns Boom.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Cities are increasing in population seven and a half times as fast as rural districts, the Census Bureau disclosed tonight in a compilation of figures concerning approximately 85 per cent of the new census. The figures indicated that the completed census would show the majority of the population to be city dwellers.

For the last ten years, rural growth was but one-third as great as it was in the previous decade, but the cities almost maintained their rate of growth, getting five new inhabitants from 1910 to 1920 for each 6 added during the preceding ten years. All population centers, even the small country hamlets and towns, showed a greater proportionate increase than the purely rural districts. The greatest increases, however, were by cities of ten thousand or more inhabitants.

NO REASONS GIVEN.

While the bureau attempts no explanation of the reasons for the increasing migration to the cities each year, during the last decade, presumably higher wages, shorter working days and home conveniences attracted the rural population, especially during the war, when wages in big industrial centers went up rapidly.

Although showing a check in the rate of population growth for the country as a whole, the bureau's figures indicated that the complete census would place the population of the continental United States at approximately 105,768,100, a gain of 13,795,840, or 15 per cent. Cities will absorb practically all of this increase, it being estimated that 12,172,800 would reside in towns of 2500 or more inhabitants, while 1,623,040 would be added to the farms and the small hamlets. For the countryside itself, the increase would be approximately a million and a quarter.

CITIES HAVE BULK.

Such a movement of the people will place the urban population at approximately 54,796,100, and the rural population at 50,972,000. In 1910 the rural population outstripped that of the cities by almost seven million, there being 49,348,883 in the country, and 42,622,353 in the cities.

"For several censuses" said the bureau announcement, "the country has not been growing as rapidly as the city, but the difference appears to be greater, at this census than ever before."

The urban population the announcement added, increased a rate of 35.2 per cent, while that of the rural districts, including villages and towns under 2500 population, was 3.4 per cent. For the strictly farm territory, the rate was 3.2 per cent, and that of the villages was 4.7 per cent.

De Costa will be sent to the State Leprosarium at Penikese Island, the seventeenth of the unfortunates restricted there.

OUST POST, IS DEMAND.

American Legion Resolutions Hit Assistant Labor Secretary.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Sept. 30.—Dismissal from office of Louis F. Post, assistant Secretary of Labor, for obstructing the enforcement of the alien deportation law, was recommended in a resolution adopted by the new National Executive Committee of the American Legion today. The committee was elected at yesterday's closing session of the second annual convention of the legion.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, from the report of our special investigating committee we are convinced that Louis F. Post, assistant Secretary of Labor, has been guilty of obstructing the enforcement of the alien deportation laws and that his continuance in office constitutes a serious menace to public security,

"Be it resolved, that we adopt and approve the report of the investigating committee and that the national commander be directed to take all steps necessary to secure the dismissal of the said Louis F. Post at the earliest possible moment."

SIGNED BY DEMOCRATS.

The investigating committee's report was signed by M. K. Gordon of Kentucky, chairman; Wilbur C. Hall, Virginia, and Crampton Harris, Alabama. Virtually all who spoke in favor of the adoption of the report and resolution stated that while they were Democrats they were better Americans.

Among those who favored it were Emmett O'Neil of Kentucky; Henry Lindsay, former State commander, Dallas, Tex., and Committeeman Storey of Texas.

The executive committee was in session to dispose of matters referred to it by the convention.

The Legion renewed its declaration of political independence, reaffirmed the cardinal principle that those who gave most should receive most from the nation; restated its position in favor of an adjusted compensation; reaffirmed its stand in favor of adequate national defense; voted to continue the campaign of the American commission, and that "the slacker must take the consequence of his treason."

SHIPPING CONTRACTS DEMANDED BY BOARD.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Under a ruling adopted today by the Shipping Board, copies of all charters or freight contracts made on all American and foreign vessels are required to be filed with the chartering executive in New York. It was framed to further the purpose of the Merchant Marine Act, the board announced, and the customs division of the treasury is to co-operate.

Under the ruling, board officials explained, the government will obtain information regarding rates, terms, and shipping policies which it is the function of the Shipping Board to administer. During the war, officials recalled, the trading with the enemy act required all American or neutral owned vessels to file charters under powers delegated to the Shipping Board by the President. Under the new Merchant Marine Act, however, it was said the board could require all charters to be filed.

MAZOLA

Many cooks can't make a light cake rich or a rich cake light

USING too much shortening is the cause of most failures in baking.

Mazola gives richness and avoids sogginess.

Because you use ¼ to ⅓ less of Mazola for shortening than butter, lard or compounds.

This means more than economy. It means a rich cake—yet a light cake—easily digested. Crisp, flaky pie-crusts are likewise made with Mazola. Many an inexperienced housewife made her first successful pie-crust when she tried Mazola.

Mazola is not an animal fat. It is a pure vegetable oil—from an edible source. It contains no moisture but is all fat—100%. Once you try Mazola for making cakes and pie-crusts you will never go back to butter, lard or compounds.

The big demand for West Adams Place homesites has forced us to place on the market the Washington Boulevard side of this tract. Practically all homesites on the Adams Street side have been sold out. The advantageous location of West Adams Place (almost adjoining the palatial homes of the exclusive West Adams section), the unusually high grade of improvements and the very reasonable prices have been responsible for the exceptional sales record made here within the last few months. Good lots for $800—5% discount for cash.

A few days will probably see every one of these homes occupied, and many of the most desirable of these new homesites taken. If you are interested we suggest that you visit West Adams Place Sunday morning. ARTIST'S MODEL ALLEGES BEATING

Asks Half Million Damages of Wealthy Man.

Also Avers Promise to Marry Was Broken.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Robert Barbour, head of a number of manufacturing concerns in Paterson, N. J., and other places, who inherited largely from his father's $15,000,000 estate, is defendant in two suits instituted in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn by Miss May B. Rollins, an artist's model.

Miss Rollins asks total damages of $500,000. One suit alleges breach of promise to marry and the other is for the recovery of a like sum for a strange attack alleged to have been made upon her by the millionaire on July 12, last.

According to her attorney, Barbour asked the girl to call upon him in his apartment at 6 Park avenue on the July day mentioned.

A few minutes after she had entered the room Miss Rollins alleges Barbour placed adhesive tape over her eyes and then beat her with several straps. He kept this up until she fainted and when she regained consciousness he was gone.

WILLING TO MARRY HIM.

Miss Rollins went to a sanatorium and, when sufficiently strong enough to walk, went to Barbour's apartment in an effort to talk to him regarding his alleged promise to marry. Several visits were futile. She finally met him and when she asked him if he intended to keep his promise, Miss Rollins declares Barbour said: "Now that you know what I am, I am through with you."

She started action immediately.

Barbour is 36 years old, unmarried and 6 feet 5 inches tall. He weighs about 325 pounds. Miss Rollins declares that as a result of the attack her injuries may be permanent.

PROMINENT IN BUSINESS.

Barbour's father was Col. William Barbour, the title of colonel having come from his services on the staff of Gov. Griggs of New Jersey.

Barbour is president of the Employers' Association of Paterson, vice-president of the Hamilton Trust Company, director of the United Shoe Machine Company, the Paterson Industrial Development Company, the Linen Thread Company of Lisburn, Ireland, and other corporations. His brother, J. Warren Barbour, Jr., is well known in society.

Efforts to reach Barbour at his apartments were fruitless. During the war he received a deferred classification on an industrial claim.

Charles S. Pryor, counsel for Barbour, issued the following statement:

"The whole story is as ridiculous as it is preposterous. The statements are entirely false. It appears to be a clear case of blackmail. Moreover, as Mr. Barbour's attorney, I want to make clear that no complaint has been filed against him. The statements in the newspapers were published the morning of his sailing for abroad on business matters of long standing, thus giving him no opportunity of acting personally in defense of his good name."

ADD PERJURY CHARGE AFTER ROBBERY CASE.

DISAGREEMENT OF JURY AND HABEUS CORPUS MOTION BRING NO LIBERTY.

Frank Macchioroli failed yesterday in an effort to gain his liberty through a habeas corpus proceedings in Judge Craig's court. A jury in Judge McCormick's court, had previously failed to agree on a verdict at his trial on a charge of robbery. Immediately afterwards Macchioroli, who was at liberty on bond bail, was rearrested on a charge of perjury.

The defendant is said to have admitted in a signed statement to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark that he falsified in his testimony in court when he testified that Detective-Sergeant Frank Roberts struck him on the ear and forced him to make a confession. A complaint issued yesterday charged Macchioroli with perjury in this instance. He was arraigned before Justice Forbes. His hearing on this charge was set for the 6th inst., bail being fixed at $5000, and he was again lodged in the County Jail.

In Judge Craig's court, a charge of robbery against him was set for trial on January 19. The defendant is accused of robbery of Leon Esquerre and Marie Grazean. Gaspard M. Marsiglia was convicted on a charge of robbery and for an offense against Marie Grazean and was sentenced to San Quentin. Mike B. Gonzalez was also accused of these two offenses.

Macchioroli is said to have held up Esquerre at the point of a gun while the other two committed the offense against the young woman.

TWO BACHELORS HELD.

Grand Larceny Charges Pressed; Many Love Letters in Rooms.

Arthur Moyer and William Mayhen, whose bachelor apartments on Washington Boulevard, Venice, were said by officers to contain a large amount of stolen goods, and an assortment of love letters from a score of girls and women, were bound over to the Superior Court from the justice court of Venice Wednesday afternoon on charges of grand larceny.

The arrest of the pair followed the tracing of the sale of a number of shotguns taken from one of the pier concessions at the beach resort. When officers visited the men's apartment they are said to have found a large quantity of women's wearing apparel which had been taken from Venice stores. The discovery of many letters from girls in various parts of Southern California caused the police to believe that the men had stolen much of the female finery to give as "love offerings" to their many correspondents.

A delegation of women, consisting of Mrs. J. O. Caldwell, Mrs. Lelia E. Doan, Mrs. S. J. Exley, Mrs. L. A. Beebe, Mrs. Edwin L. Headerly and Mrs. H. S. Pettingill, appeared before the Supervisors Wednesday and requested that Mrs. Jessica C. Hazard be recommended for appointment as home demonstration agent for Los Angeles county.

It seems from the hearing that Mrs. Hazard is particularly desired by the women connected with the County Farm Bureau, and that her work in past years had been very efficient. Prof. Cocheron of the State University, however, was not favorable to her appointment.

The board voted to request the State University extension bureau to reappoint Mrs. Hazard. Supervisor Cogswell asked to be excused from voting.

Be Rid of That Nagging Backache!

ARE you tortured night and day with a dull throbbing, never-ceasing backache? Do you suffer sharp, knife-like pains at every sudden move? Evening find you tired, irritable — "all played out?" Then it's time you were finding the cause. Likely it's your kidneys. Perhaps you have been working too hard, getting too little rest and sleep, and overdoing generally. This may have tended to weaken the kidneys and bring on that tired, depressed feeling and that dull, nagging backache. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with some annoying kidney irregularity. Don't wait for the trouble to become serious. Get back your health and keep it! Live more simply for awhile and help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These are Los Angeles Cases:

West Sixty-Sixth Street

Henry Bier, retired, 405 W. 66th St., says: "I have the greatest confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me wonderfully when my kidneys troubled me a lot. I couldn't rest day or night because of the backaches and pains in my limbs. I ached all over, and my kidneys acted too free at times and then again the secretions were scanty. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They just suited my trouble and rid me of the aches and pains and regulated my kidneys. I am glad to recommend Doan's to others."

East Forty-Eighth Street

Mrs. J. E. Haberfield, 248 East Forty-eighth street, says: "When I was living in England I suffered dreadfully with kidney trouble. The trouble seemed to affect my sight and sometimes I could hardly see. I was often so dizzy I couldn't go about my housework, and when these spells came on suddenly I had to catch hold of something to keep me from falling. My kidneys were awfully weak and that bothered me considerably. As one of my family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with wonderful results. I tried them myself. I was soon cured and for that reason I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

South Gates Street

Mrs. A. Rosso, 414 S. Gates St., says: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint. I keep them in the house all the time. When I have attacks of backache and feel worn out and languid, or my kidneys act irregularly, I use Doan's. They always help me by strengthening my back and kidneys. I do not know of anything as good as Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and kidney complaint."

NO package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple-leaf trade-mark and the signature—"Jas. Doan."

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden; a hindrance to activity, and a curb upon pleasure. Many forms of advice to reduce weight have been advanced, such as dieting, hard work, excessive exercise, etc., all of which are either unpleasant or dangerous.

The latest, more modern and pleasant way to take off burdensome fat, is to take, after each meal and at bedtime, a Marmola Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous Marmola Prescription from which they take their name.

To get rid of fat at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week, simply take one of these little tablets after each meal and at bedtime until you have reduced your weight to where you want it. No wrinkles or flabbiness will remain to show where the fat came off.

They are for sale by all druggists at $1 for a good size box. If you prefer to have them come to you direct by mail, prepaid, in plain sealed cover, send amount to the Marmola Co., 97 Garfield Ave., Detroit, Mich., and bid goodbye to dieting, exercise and fat. Be yourself, slim, trim and attractive.

MAKHNOS' MEN TAKE NIKOPOL.

First Result of Co-operation With Wrangel.

City Taken by One of Former Czar's Favorites.

Russian Feelings Toward War Allies Are Bitter.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SEBASTOPOL, Sept. 30.—The capture of Nikopol, on the right bank of the Dnieper, by Gen. Volodian of Gen. Makhnos's army was the first result of the military co-operation between Wrangel and Makhnos's troops.

Gen. Volodian, who is a former commander of one of the Czar's pet regiments, and a wearer of the highest military decorations of the old Russian army, visited the camp of Gen. Pisarev, the commander of Wrangel's first corps on the Dnieper front, asking money and materials of war; Pisarev gave money and all the munitions he could spare and told Volodian to harass the Red communications around Nikopol. Volodian, instead of merely worrying the Reds there, captured the city, which was of great strategical importance to Wrangel as the Reds persistently attempted to cross the Dnieper from there. Volodian, because he was one of the Czar's favorites, had been unpopular, but now he is wearing his medals with the Czar's face inward, to prove that he is not reactionary.

Other units of Makhnos's troops have been active to the north of Wrangel's lines along the Dnieper. In the Ukraine and in other territory along the river, uprisings are expected to be coming soon, which have been designed to end the Red menace of a Bolshevist offensive on the Dnieper front.

NEWSPAPER MEN AT FRONT.

Wrangel up to the present has been holding the left bank of the Dniaper up to Basiliefka, except at the Kakovka bridgehead, where heavy fighting has been continuing. From Basilieka the line runs direct to Bolshoi-Takmak, thence to Chernigofka and then directly south to the sea of Azov. There are many newspaper correspondents and members of the allied missions visiting the front with Wrangel.

According to persistent rumors coinciding with several indicative facts, efforts are being made by prominent Germans residing in Berlin to swerve the Wrangel government from the allies to the Germans.

Gen. Krasnoff, a former Czarist, now residing in Berlin, had been corresponding with Gen. Wrangel for some time, asking to come here and incidentally saying that he would bring considerable supplies to aid in the struggle to rid Russia of Bolshevism. His success so far is uncertain, but it is highly possible as Krasnoff first proclaimed the idea for a Federation of the Russian states, which Wrangel adopted. On other points, both are said to be in complete accord.

Krasnoff has washed his hands of Denikine, whom he branded as a reactionary plutocrat, which characterization was later indorsed by Wrangel.

OPPOSED TO ALLIES.

The leaning to Germany is largely due to two reasons; first, because of anti-ally sentiment, largely as a result of what is called England's partiality to the Bolsheviki, and second, the alleged fact that the Germans are willing to furnish supplies cheaper than the Allies. German trade firms are attempting to buy up all of the merchant vessels possible for a fleet on the Danube, which is the Black Sea artery for German goods.

Russian feelings toward France are improving following the arrival of French war materials. So far officials are hedging the question as to whether the French government or private firms are sending armored cars, rifles, ammunition and other material, which is being unloaded from boats.

PLAY SHOWS SPIRIT.

As indicative of the anti-ally sentiment is the propriety of an allegorical play satirizing events at Spa subsequent to the Peace Conference. British members of the commission protested against the play because British sailors appear on the stage drunk and because one of the performers, impersonating John Bull, announces immunity to the Bolshevists because of their ability to cheat and deceive. The attitude of all of the Allies on the Russian question is scored. Even Uncle Sam got his share when he announces he has come "to stick his nose into the Russian question."

The obvious moral of the play is that Russia must work out her own salvation. She is pictured as failing to get the aid of the Allies and turning to a knight symbolizing Wrangel standing in the spotlight in white shining raiment, while the Allies furtively crouch in the dark like evil in the presence of good. The League of Nations is pictured as a half-witted, overgrown, simpering infant protege of England, who, when its bottle is stolen by the Red delegates, goes about sucking its finger.

DENIES REDS CAUSED MINISTER'S REMOVAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Reports that Bolshevik influence induced the Chinese government to withdraw recognition of the Russian Minister to Peking, Prince Koudacheff, are characterized as totally erroneous in a statement issued by Paul S. Reinsch, former American Minister to China, who has just arrived here from the Orient.

"The action taken was long overdue," the statement said, "as the Minister had long ago ceased to represent any government."

Dr. Reinsch said a group of councillors, including Dr. Ferguson, American; Putnam Weale, British, and M. G. Padoux, French, had advised the Chinese government "to suspend payment of the Boxer indemnity to Russia and to withdraw recognition of Russian diplomatic and consular officers in China. Russians in China themselves objected to continuing the authority of these officials, he added, and continued:

"At the same time the Chinese government decided to allow representatives of the Vershne-Idinsk Siberian government to approach it with a view to settling urgent practical questions of boundary administration between China and adjoining regions in Siberia."

"HARD-BOILED" SMITH RELEASED FROM JAIL.

LIEUTENANT CONVICTED OF BRUTALITY DURING WAR IS PAROLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Lieut. Frank H. (Hard-Boiled) Smith whose release from imprisonment following conviction by army court-martial of brutal treatment of American soldiers in France, has just become known, objected to any clemency being extended him, Secretary of War Baker said today.

Smith's commanding officers, the Secretary said, had appealed to the clemency board of the War Department for a reduction of the eighteen months' sentence. Smith, learning of the action, wrote the board, objecting to any change, saying that he wished to serve out his sentence to avoid further publicity.

A War Department statement today explained that Smith was at liberty because the sentence given him by court-martial had expired. His imprisonment began at Fort Jay, N. Y., on July 21, 1919, the statement said, and continued until March 20, 1920, when, because of good conduct, he was granted a parole. He was released from parole July 28, when the reduced sentence expired.

SPRINGFIELD (O.) Sept. 30.—Frank H. (Hardboiled) Smith, was in Urbana, O., about two weeks ago, according to advices from that city today. Smith, it was said, stopped off in Urbana to see about an estate in which he had been willed some property. Just before leaving Urbana, Smith told friends there that ha was going to Naco, Ariz.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PENDLETON (Or.) Sept. 30.—Irving Stoop, 18 years old, and Floyd Henderson, 21 years old, were sentenced today to life imprisonment for complicity in the killing of Sheriff Til Taylor in a jail break, July 25. They were found guilty last night of first degree murder.

OKLAHOMA MINERS' DEMANDS REFUSED.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30.—Oklahoma coal operators have refused demands of union miners for an increase of 25 per cent in tonnage pay, D. Orsett Carter, president of the Oklahoma Coal Operators' Association, announced today.

J. N. Wilkinson, president of District 21, United Mine Workers of America, had declared 16,000 Oklahoma coal miners might go on strike unless their demands were met.

Daniel Christian Shelter, once a banker in Colorado, was divorced from Belle Madden Shelter in Judge Jackson's court yesterday. Mrs. Shelter brought the suit on the ground of desertion and non-support and received the decree.

The testimony showed that Mr. Shelter at one time had two banks in Colorado, which were later closed. He came to California and engaged in the real estate business in La Grand. Since 1918, his wife declared, he had sent her no money to support herself and children. Mr. Shelter was in court and stated he had no money to send her.

PAINTINGS BY BAKST AT ALEXANDRIA HOTEL.

At the Alexandria Hotel tomorrow and Monday a series of highly interesting water-color portrait studies by the famous Russian artist, Leon Bakst, will be shown under the auspices of the Assistance League of Southern California.

Bakst's fame rests on his brilliant and startling use of color. He is the chief exponent of the modern conception of painting, which holds that all the arts support one another and thus produce a wonderful tonality of effect—linear, chromatic, musical, terpsichorean and pantomimic. He may or may not be correct in this view, but it cannot be denied that his results are as attractive as they are interesting.

The portraits shown are not counterfeit presentments of the artist's sitters, and to the uninitiated they may seem like grotesques, but they have great artistic and decorative value, and they are all well worth careful study by all who are interested in problems of color, as well as by those who believe that the "mission" of the newer art is beginning to unfold.

NO WITNESSES; CASE ENDS.

HIBBEN BELIEVES IN SOCIETY OF NATIONS.

PRESIDENT OF PRINCETON HOPES UNITED STATES MAY JOIN MOVEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) Sept. 30.—Dr. John G. Hibben, president of Princeton University, in his speech of welcome to the delegates to the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims today indorsed the idea of a society of nations.

"America may seem to be very slow in entering into the society of nations at this time," he said, "but it is my belief and my very earnest hope that a way will be found for us to take our place among the nations of the earth to preserve the peace of the world, as we did take our place among the Allies, in order that we might win with them the common victory."

"We Canadians and you Americans have for these last hundred years settled our international differences by arbitration as it should be the world over and as it will be all over the world if the United States furnishes us the moral leadership and we are hoping in the fullness of our souls for the League of Nations."

DECLARES WIFE AWAY AT NIGHT

Former Pasadena Man Asking Divorce in Nevada.

Spouse Denies Sanctity of Marriage, He Says.

Millionaire Names Eastern Man as Co-respondent.

Grover C. Lawyer, formerly a resident in Pasadena, has filed suit in the Reno District Court for divorce from Sarah M. Lawyer, now residing in Pasadena, it became known yesterday. The couple were married at Bedford Hills, N. Y., Nov. 22, 1905. They have a son about 14 years of age.

Mr. Lawyer charges extreme cruelty and asserts that his wife associated with other men without his consent. He states that she stayed away from him for nights at a time and that he believes she was in the company of other men on those occasions.

His wife told him, according to Mr. Lawyer's complaint, that she did not believe in the sanctity of marriage.

He names D. C. Dow, Jr., of New York City as co-respondent.

Mr. Lawyer, who is a reputed millionaire, has extensive interests in Pasadena. Until 1919 the couple lived at Cobbleskill, N. Y.

Told to Go to the Devil, Wife Seeks Attorney.

Mrs. Bertha A. Weed did not mean it that way, but her reply to a question by Judge Jackson during the trial of her divorce case yesterday was susceptible of a subtle construction.

Attorney George S. Carter, representing Mrs. Weed, asked:

"Did you have a conversation with your husband, William L. Weed, on one occasion, in reference to his going to work and supporting his family?"

"Please state fully what you said and what he said on that subject."

"He came home from a vacation and—he had not been at work and had no job. I asked him if he would get a job and go to work and help support the family. He said he could not get a job, and if I did not like it I could go to the devil."

Judge Jackson asked:

"Then what did you do?"

"I went to my lawyer, Mr. Carter." "I received the decree.

OFFERS LETTER AS LAST WILL.

"If I Happen to Get Killed," Brother Wrote; Died in Three Days.

A letter written by George E. Henning to his brother, Fred Henning, in which appeared the sentence: "If I happen to get killed on the trip there will be plenty of money to put me away in good shape, then I want you to have everything," was offered as a will in the probate court yesterday. Judge Taft took the matter under submission.

The writer of the letter was intending to go out of town for an electric company. He did not make the trip, but three days later he was accidentally killed. In the letter he spoke of getting married in a few weeks, and referred to the happiness in store for him.

Fred Henning offered the letter as a will, being in his brother's own handwriting and signed by him.

Wife of Lieutenant Shows Court Notes on Pink Paper.

Letters written on pink stationery and addressed to Lieut. Guy W. MacClure at Fort MacArthur were offered in evidence yesterday in Judge Jackson's court, where Mrs. Marriett W. MacClure was granted a divorce.

One missive read: "I don't ever have a good time any more except when you are with me."

The suit was instituted by Lieut. MacClure and the decree was granted on Mrs. MacClure's cross-complaint. Lieut. MacClure did not appear in court.

CROWING UNHAMPERED.

Council Shelves All Requests for Regulation of Roosters.

Los Angeles roosters have routed the City Councilmen, where strong men, brave and true, have gone down to defeat. The Councilmen yesterday voted to file without action all requests for laws to regulate the hours and manner in which roosters may crow in this city. For months the Councilmen have been wrestling with the question, only to admit that its solution is beyond them.

ESPEE CLIPS SCHEDULE TO FAST BASIS.

Running Time Shortened on Many Lines; New Train to Handle Phoenix Traffic.

Among the most important improvements in passenger train schedules attempted by any of the local lines since the termination of Federal control of the railroads, were those announced yesterday by the Southern Pacific, effective today.

The more important changes, as announced by General Passenger Agent McGinnis, will be the return to prewar schedules of the Sunset Limited, the fast Los Angeles-New Orleans train, which will leave Los Angeles at 8:30 a.m. and reach New Orleans some fifty-nine hours later, passengers being on the train only two nights between here and New Orleans.

Another improvement is the starting of a new through train between Los Angeles and Phoenix. The new train, known as the Phoenix Limited, will leave here at 4:00 p.m., and reach Phoenix the next morning at 8:15 o'clock. It will carry a dining-car through, in addition to the sleepers and coaches. This train coming back will leave Phoenix at 8:30 p.m., and reach Los Angeles at 7:45 a.m.

There will also be a new train between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, in each direction. The new train leaves Santa Barbara at 7:15 a.m., arriving in Los Angeles at 10:45 a.m. The returning train leaves Los Angeles at 7:00 p.m., reaching Santa Barbara at 10:30 p.m.

The Lark, while leaving at the same hour, 8 o'clock, will shorten its running time between Los Angeles and San Francisco in each direction, arriving at terminals at 9:45 a.m., instead of 10:15 a.m.

Other changes are the leaving time from here of the Seashore Express, 4 p.m., instead of 6:15 p.m., via the Coast Line, arriving in San Francisco at 9:15 o'clock the next morning; departure of the afternoon Santa Barbara Local at 2:30 p.m., instead of 2:55 p.m.; the continuation of the Sunset Limited westbound through from New Orleans to San Francisco, this train to arrive in Los Angeles from the East at 9:30 p.m., and leaving here at 10:15 p.m., via Coast Line for San Francisco, reaching the latter place at 1 p.m. next day. The night train for the Imperial Valley will leave at 11 p.m., instead of 11:30 p.m., and the Santa Paula branch train will leave at 5:00 p.m., instead of 5:10 p.m.

"Cupid" Sparks, Ousted License Clerk, Resigns.

Gloom settled down thick in the Hall of Records yesterday when it became known that R. S. (Cupid) Sparks, who was ousted recently as head of the Marriage License Bureau, had left the county's employ. Mr. Sparks was responsible for making known to the world that Los Angeles had a real Cupid's department. When he assumed charge, this was the twelfth county in the United States in the number of marriage licenses issued. When he took a leave of absence late in August, it ranked fourth.

Mr. Sparks is now in the real estate business and is considering becoming a candidate for election to the City Council.

Friction between himself and County Clerk Lampton led to the transfer of Mr. Sparks to another department. Having become attached to his own department, he resented the transfer and threatened to make a fight upon his return. Instead, he resigned.

Miss Emma Higgins, who has assisted Mr. Sparks in the bureau for six years, is expected to receive tomorrow, a temporary appointment as head of the department.

FOR BLIMP CRASH QUIZ.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 30.—No official action is possible concerning the destruction of the United States Navy dirigible C-6 until after an inquiry has been made, Capt. J. H. Tomb, commander of the North Island Naval Air Station, stated here tonight.

Capt. Tomb will leave here early tomorrow morning for Los Angeles to make the necessary investigation. Some of the officers of his post, all of whom are now attending the maneuvers at San Pedro, will be summoned to accompany him from Los Angeles to the scene of the wreck of the big airship. They will investigate carefully and then prepare what is known in flying circles as a "trouble report," and upon this report all future action will be based. This board will also decide upon the probable value and the salvage possibilities of the wreck.

Lieut. R. J. Miller, who is in charge of the lighter-than-air branch of the Navy's flying service here, left for Los Angeles this afternoon, and Dr. A. L. Larsen, naval air service surgeon, departed for that city tonight.

While their comrades of the Navy air forces were battling last night to repel "invading" forces of the Pacific Fleet inbound to the harbor from Hawaii, five members of the crew of the United States Navy dirigible C-6 lay on cots at the Submarine Base Hospital and told how their big blimp was wrecked about an hour before dawn yesterday morning when it crashed into a mountain ridge near Laurel Canyon, Hollywood, after a trip up the coast from San Diego.

The big dirigible, one of the largest in the naval air force, having a length of 200 feet and a gas storage capacity of 170,000 cubic feet, is probably a total loss, and an official inquiry into the causes for the accident may be begun today.

Of the five members of the crew, all of whom were hurt, the injuries to Lieut. Gordon G. McDonald, the 28-year-old pilot, were the most serious. Lieut. McDonald suffered the breaking of both ankles in the fall when the blimp crashed to earth. Lieut. (junior grade) L. A. Pope, 25 years of age, sustained a badly wrenched back, and Ralph Hartman, chief quartermaster and coxswain of the blimp, also suffered a wrenched back and several painful abrasions. The injuries of Ensign Joseph H. Gowan and Eugene Fry, chief machinist mate, were painful, but not so serious.

The cause of the spill from the air was attributed by members of the crew to the dense fog that hung over the mountains directly north of Hollywood at an early hour this morning.

HAD BEEN ABOVE FOG.

According to Lieut. McDonald, the C-6 was proceeding toward Los Angeles at an altitude of about 1800 feet when the fog was first encountered. Most of the journey from San Diego was made above the fog, but when the dirigible's instruments recorded a position near Los Angeles, the pilot said, he dropped the blimp through the fog in an attempt to pick out landmarks.

Before any of the crew were aware that the aircraft was caught in a pocket of the mountains it brought up against the high ridge. Following the crash made by the fusilage striking the ridge, the bag of the blimp was jerked downward and came in contact with the whirling propeller, was ripped open and then exploded, and the bag carried off into the bush below the ridge.

Citizens of Hollywood living near Laurel Canyon stated that the explosion first attracted their attention to the accident.

Members of the crew agreed that had not the mountain side been heavily covered with brush that the wrecked dirigible would have plunged down to the floor of the canyon a thousand feet below, carrying the crew with it.

Yesterday's accident to the C-6 recalls the wrecking of her sister ship, the C-5, which was damaged beyond hope of salvage, when Commander Emery W. Coil was planning to attempt to make the first flight in history across the Atlantic Ocean.

MADE LAST MINUTE GRAB.

During a windstorm on the night of May 14, 1919, the United States Navy dirigible C-5 broke loose from her moorings at Pleasantville, Newfoundland, and was blown out over the ocean. Lieut. Charles G. Lit-

INVENTOR GONE; FORTUNE WAITS.

Santa Barbara Man Perfects New Artillery Shell.

France Ready to Pay Large Sum After Many Tests.

Missing Man Came Here for Day, Then Vanished.

A fortune of $175,000 from the French government is waiting for Edwin R. Scott of Santa Barbara, an inventor of a new deadly shell, who left that city six weeks ago to come to Los Angeles and has not been heard from since.

Mr. Scott's Santa Barbara friends received word yesterday that the French government has made him an initial award of $175,000 for his shell invention, and they are now starting a systematic search for the inventor, who was despondent when he left his home city because of the death of his wife a short time before.

For several years during the war, Mr. Scott, who is an expert on explosives, worked on his invention. He found employment as a bookkeeper for a plumbing shop in Santa Barbara, and devoted every "day off" to studying out the intricacies of the artillery shell, which he was fashioning.

He followed daily reports of the war closely, and every scrap of paper that he could get containing news of artillery shells in use in Europe, he secured. He had finally perfected his shell, and it is said he submitted it to the United States War Department, but the experts rejected it.

Discouraged in his attempts to secure recognition in his own country, he finally determined to submit the invention to the French. A commission on inventions, which France sent to this country tried out the California man's artillery shell and from Detroit comes the announcement that the general secretary of the commission, before leaving for France, announced that the award to Mr. Scott had been made, as his shell has been found to be the most deadly artillery shell known.

There are three main features to the shell, Detroit dispatches state. First its great stability, the shell exploding at exactly the right moment; secondly the range of its destructive power, and third, that one gun firing the Scott shell will take the place of five guns using shells of other makes.

It is said that the most powerful shell of the Germans, when it exploded, meant death to every living thing within a radius of 150 yards, while Mr. Scott's shell is said to be capable of extinguishing all life within a radius of 3000 yards.

Six weeks ago, Mr. Scott, discouraged over the loss of his wife, who died at a Santa Barbara hospital, left there and has not been seen since. He left no forwarding address, and his friends there who were closest to him are anxious over his absence.

It is said that when he left Santa Barbara he said he was coming to Los Angeles and would go back to his home on the following day.

Kicking Wines Made at Home Hit by Ruling.

Another legal tangle has arisen here in connection with the enforcement of the national prohibition law and the Volstead Act.

Some time ago, National Prohibition Enforcement Director Kramer gave out a ruling that it would be legal for any person to manufacture at home fruit juices, including wines, that were not intoxicating, even if the percentage of alcohol was in excess of one-half of 1 per cent.

Yesterday, in answer to an inquiry by U. S. Atty. O'Connor, Atty.-Gen. Palmer wired that he was of the opinion that the manufacture of any beverage having an alcoholic content of more than one-half of 1 per cent is a violation of law.

U. S. Atty. O'Connor has taken the stand that there will be no invasion of the homes of those who make wine, if it is for their personal use, but that any attempt to sell wine having an alcoholic content in excess of the amount defined in the Volstead Act will be vigorously prosecuted.

Quick Posting of Speed-Law Signs Urged.

Mayor Snyder last evening urged that the City Council promptly accept the offer of the Automobile Club of Southern California to defray the cost of posting the city with new traffic signs under the State law, if the city will agree to maintain the signs and to pay for their replacement.

"The situation is serious," said the Mayor. "The City Prosecutor informs me that the Police Court judges are unable to fine speeders because the State law, under which we are now regulating vehicular traffic, requires that signs shall be posted stating the speed limit in various sections of the city. The signs now placed throughout the city state the speed regulations and other traffic rules under the city ordinances, which have been superseded by the State law."

ASKS DAMAGES FOR ARREST.

Charging that he was falsely imprisoned and beaten, Dewey Hart yesterday brought suit against Sheriff Cline, E. H. Hutchinson, a deputy and others, asking $50,000 damages. One of the reputed assaults occurred at the County Hospital, and the other at Norwalk in May, 1919.

WIFE PUT HUBBY ON PROBATION.

Testifies He Continued to Misconduct Himself, so She Secures a Divorce.

An interlocutory decree of divorce was yesterday granted Mrs. Clara L. Price, who charged extreme cruelty and a statutory offense against her husband, Willard Russell Price, an automobile appraiser. Mrs. Price was awarded $110 a month alimony and the custody of her two sons, 13 and 8 years old. In granting the divorce Judge Taft expressed the hope that because of the children the couple would try to reconcile their domestic infelicities and re-establish their home.

The couple were married December 13, 1900, and separated last May. Mrs. Price accused her husband of misconduct with a stenographer in a local hotel and also charged indiscretions on his part with an unnamed woman at Long Beach. She further asserted that the defendant had jeopardized her health and made repeated unfounded accusations against her. The wife testified that she placed her husband on probation after he had begged her not to institute suit, but she was finally convinced by his continued misconduct that dissolution of the marriage bonds constituted her only hope of future happiness.

ACTRESS MISSING.

Miss Margaret Russell, known on the vaudeville stage as "Peggy" Russell, who failed to appear for both performances Wednesday at a local theater, is still missing, it was reported at the Police Station last night. She was last seen at Fifth and Spring streets at 1 a.m. Wednesday waiting for a street car. Hazel Hampton, another actress, told the police that the girl left the theater with her in an automobile with two men. Miss Hampton said she got out at the Baltimore Hotel. The two men told the police that they left Miss Russell at the intersection of Fifth and Spring streets and have not seen her since.

FLAG CASE POSTPONED.

Jury Trial Interferes With Hearing on Charge of Misuse.

The case of J. M. Flowers, manager of the so-called United Automobile Club of America, Inc., charged with misusing the American Flag in advertising matter, was postponed to the 19th inst., at 10 a.m., in Police Judge Fredericksen's court yesterday afternoon, because a jury trial was in progress. Complaint was made against Mr. Flowers by E. R. Sullivan, a member of the American Legion, on August 11, and the case has been repeatedly continued on account of sickness pleas by the defendant.

The guardians of Joe Taylor Simons and Helen Simons, minor children of the late Elmer O. Simons, brick manufacturer, who recently made sensational charges against Walter R. Simons, their uncle, as to his management of the Simons Brick Company, must amend their complaint if they desire to press the matter further in court.

Judge Shenk yesterday sustained the demurrer presented by Richard J. O. Culver, the brick company's attorney, but advised the plaintiff's that they might have fifteen days in which to present an amended complaint.

The court held that it could not consider appointing a receiver for the company because the directors had increased the salary of the president, had permitted employees to use the company's automobiles on Sundays, had named the company ranch the "Walter R. Simons Ranch," had invested in the stock of a live-stock company, had purchased another brick plant and had let out on shares the keeping of sheep owned by the company.

The Judge held that the charge of fraud in paying the aged mother of Walter R. Simons the sum of $7040 as a compensation for the part her husband had in building up the brick business, or in properly crediting sales of stock, or in buying a lot and building a brick house, or in entering into an agreement with reference to methods of selling brick, were not pleaded with sufficient definiteness to warrant the intervention of the court in the matter.

The guardians charged that the company was in danger of becoming insolvent. The company's attorney declared to the court that the assertions of the complaint were to the contrary. He pointed out that the complaint showed that the company had a surplus of more than $375,000 over and above all outstanding liabilities for indebtedness and capital stock.

Chickering AMPICO REPRODUCING PIANO

You'll Keep Right on Saying "Impossible" Until You Hear It

Imagine a simple grand piano similar in external appearance to a dozen others on display in our warerooms. The demonstrator moves a switch, and suddenly that unpretentious looking instrument speaks with the voice of a great artist. Brilliant runs, dramatic crescendos, subsiding into a silver thread-like pianissimo.

In addition to reproducing the playing of nearly a hundred of the greatest living pianists who are listed in the Chickering Ampico library of artists' rolls, the Chickering Ampico can be used as a player piano, and will play any standard roll, to which you may impart your own interpretation. And the tone and touch of the piano itself remain unchanged for hand playing.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

HIS WIFE'S KEEPER.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

The other day I was told a pitiful and tragic little story. A man married a beautiful young girl, who was hardly more than a child, a clinging, trustful, innocent little creature with no knowledge of the world to guide her, or protect her.

More than that, she was one of the clinging-vine women who reach out instinctive tendrils toward any masculine support near them, and she was as bound to have love, and tenderness, and caresses, as a flower is compelled to have sunshine and water in order to live.

The husband was a stern, cold, hard man, obsessed in his occupations, which took him from home to far parts of the earth. He was away often for months upon months at a time. Even when he was at home he repulsed his wife's endearments, and scolded her for her babyish desire to be petted.

Of course the inevitable happened. The pretty little wife, who must have love or die, found a man who wasn't too busy or too preoccupied with his own affairs to feed her hungry heart on the food that her husband denied her. He paid her all the delicate little attentions that she craved. He told her how beautiful, and how lovely she was. He kissed the lips the husband had been too indifferent to kiss, and, at last, when the husband came back he found his home empty, and he killed the man who had taken his wife away from him.

I do not for a moment justify the conduct of either the wife or the lover, but it seems to me that the greatest of the three sinners in this tragedy, and the one who is most to blame, is the husband.

A woman should be strong enough to stand alone and resist temptation. She should have honor enough not to betray the man to whom she has sworn to be loyal, but when God does not give a human being a backbone, we cannot expect it to vertebrate.

The husband knew his wife's weakness. He knew just how avid she was for love, just how she reached out unconscious pleading hands to every man, just how she purred like a kitten under a caressing touch. He knew how credulous and unsuspicious she was.

And, knowing this, it was his duty to protect her even more against herself than against the men with whom she came in contact, and when he failed to do it her sin was upon his head.

For a man who marries a weak woman and does not safeguard her weakness is just as much to be blamed as if he failed to hold a little child's hand over a rough road and let it stumble into a pit.

When a man married, he takes his wife's life into his keeping far more than he realizes. He literally becomes her keeper and is responsible for her moral well-being as well as her physical.

He recognizes that it is his duty to feed and clothe her, but only too often he fails to perceive that he is just as much bound to provide for her spiritual needs as he is for her bodily ones, and that it is just as important to protect her against the temptations that beset her as it is to protect her against the danger of cold and starvation and homelessness.

This duty of keeping the woman he has married safe from harm lies all the more heavily on a man because the husband is usually older than the wife, and he has necessarily seen much more of the world than she has. By observation, or experience, he knows to what bitter ends so many pleasant-looking paths lead.

The man, for instance, who is married to a woman who must have some man to lean upon, some man upon whom to lavish her affections, some man to pet and flatter her, is a fool not to realize that if she cannot have love honestly she will take it dishonestly.

Nor is she any more to be blamed than the starving wretch who steals a loaf of bread. If her husband would keep her safe, he must give her the tenderness that she is bound to have, and that she will instinctively ask of some other man if she is denied it at home.

Every day we meet gay and pleasure-seeking young wives going their giddy ways alone. They are dancing, and dining, and flirting with other men, while their husbands are at their offices or their clubs.

One wonders if these absent husbands are voluntarily qualifying as flirts aids to a divorce, or whether they are so besotted with vanity that they think that no woman could ever possibly cease to love them, and prefer them above all other men. Also one wonders how they can be so little mindful of their duties towards the women they have sworn to love, honor and protect.

The husband's excuse is that his wife loves society and he hates it, that she likes to go around at night and he is tired and wants to be left in peace. So he delegates his duty as escort to some other man. Now no man has a right to marry a human butterfly without having made up his mind to fit about with her from flower to flower to at least a reasonable extent. After that he might restrain her, but he has no right to turn her into a grub entirely, and still less right to let her singe her beautiful wings against the bright lights as she is sure to do if he is not there to protect her.

For a husband is his wife's keeper, and so many tragedies could be averted if only he were faithful to his trust.

DR. A. C. DIXON, the successor of D. L. Moody in Chicago, and Charles Haddon Spurgeon of London, will lecture at the Bible Institute Auditorium, 8th and Hope, FRIDAY EVENING, October 1, at 8 o'clock.

MAKING MORE MONEY.

Soda Fountain at Auto Filling Station Adds to Bank Account of California Woman.

PHYSICS and experience teach us that oil and water won't mix, but Miss Lillian E. Yeager of Fullerton, Cal., has proved that not only will oil mix with soda water (figuratively speaking,) but that the combination will yield returns on the investment of comparatively little capital.

Miss Yeager was a book-keeper. But she wanted to get into a business of her own. She had no very definite ideas about what kind of a business it was going to be. That didn't matter much. The big point was that it was to be a business in her name, for she was confident that she could make a go of almost anything in the commercial line to which she turned her hand.

Backed by this confidence and a capital of $75, Miss Yeager finally determined to open an automobile supply and repair shop. As she says: "It never occurred to me that taking apart and putting together a car might stump me, so I just naturally learned to handle them. It wasn't long before I realized that the big money would come from selling machines, and I went to headquarters to secure the agency for a well-known make.

"The way for you to start in is to get one car at a time, sell it and then stock another," they told me. But I couldn't see it that way. I ordered a carload of machines, got 'em and sold 'em within three months. That was four years ago. Since then I have sold more than 275 machines.

"The soda water idea was born of the fact that I noticed people killing time while they waited for minor repairs to be made. Why not give them some other place to spend their money while they're buying oil or laying in a supply of gas, I asked myself. Now, the gas-and-oil-and-soda fountain is doing a tidy little business of its own and my original $75 has multiplied like a pair of guinea pigs."

GASOLINE ALLEY—AND THE DRIVER LOOKS STRAIGHT AHEAD

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Where Will he Live.

GLENDALE, Sept. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times.] In this morning's Times, Donald P. Condit pours out his vitriolic wrath upon the long suffering people of California because they object to the presence of so many Japanese, reminding California that she is "only a drop in the bucket." We admit it without asking him for any figures to prove his assertion, which, but adds to the reason fo rthe objection. If California, were only required to absorb her "drop" instead of almost the entire influx of Japanese, there would probably be little said on the subject of Japanese exclusion. Mr. Condit likes California, but when he decides to make his home here, which he probably will this year or next, will he select a site in the midst of Japanese gardens, or will he seek a location where the tract restrictions prohibit Asiatics?

WILL SKINNER PREWILT.

Live and Let Live.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been intensely interested in the recent articles and letters on the Japanese question, pro and con.

In view of the fact that no one has taken the Divine viewpoint, I wish to suggest what appeals to me to be the way Jehovah God would look at the question. The word of God declares "The Heavens are the Lord's but the earth hath He given to the children of Men." (Psa. 115:16.) Surely then, there must be room on this planet for the little brown men, since "of one blood God hath made all nations of men to dwell on all face of the earth." (Acts, 17:26.) Let us consider the Golden Rule for a moment. If we would please God, we must obey this law of loving our neighbor as ourselves, and doing unto others as we would they would do unto us. Suppose we Americans were cramped up in a tight little island too small for ourselves and our growing families and increasing industries. Would we wish our neighbor who had a country more than big enough to accomodate a population more than fifty times the combined inhabitants of the entire globe to refuse us a few acres of his land?

So far as my personal knowledge and observations go, the Japanese are as a people wonderfully peace-loving, law-abiding, gentle, industrious and thrifty, doing no harm to anybody. They have done work which was scorned by the white man, and they have supplied the white man's necessities in ways too numerous to mention.

The signs of the times corroborate the prophecies of the Old and New Testaments. We are living in the day of Judgment. The King of Kings is about to set up his Kingdom. The nations are being weighed in the balance, and Europe has already been found wanting.

GERTRUDE W. SIEBERT.

From a Japanese.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The proposed anti-alien land law which mainly directed to Japanese farmers in California is agitating the world-wide noise-making foolishness.

There are many annoying articles in daily papers in which wise men of the both country are discussing.

But majority of California Japanese will not be affected by such a new legislation as they are not farmers.

Our deepest regret or condolence for the funeral in lowering the spirit of the law of California, in the new law-making procedure that the California Legislature is repeating year's interval when there appears a little significance in production of wealth for American people by the poor Japanese farmers, who have been yoked by the first land law.

The second land law will or not be formed. That is the question of common sense.

Why a small vacant lot fire ring out the bells of the whole nation's fire department?

Y. HIKOTARO.

With Great Concern.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] With the greatest concern I read in The Times for September 28 that a leading man of the negro race in Los Angeles is quoted is saying that "he was in direct touch with at least 5000 negroes who will come here from the Southern States and take up truck gardening in case the Japanese are denied the privilege of further colonization."

If this condition should ever prevail I believe the people of this State would find a far more stupendous problem confronting them than the so-called Japanese menace.

To my mind, the substitution of one race for another is no solution of the problem, and I believe that I am but voicing the opinion of thousands of citizens of Los Angeles when I urge thinking people of California to realize the gravity of the foregoing statement.

FLORENCE H. CHEEVER.

Balks on Tammany.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It must be somewhat shocking to those Democrats who really believe in prohibition to read Col. Bryan's statement to the effect that "one-third of the members of the San Francisco convention would have sold the Constitution and thrown in the Ten Commandments for good measure, for a glass of beer." He referred, of course, to the immediate followers of the Booze and Boss oligarchy to whom Gov. Cox owes his nomination, namely Messrs. Murphy of Tammany, Nugent of New Jersey, Brennan of Illinois, and that modest, shrinking violet of the Indiana political underworld, Tom Taggart, aided and assisted by that eminent wet protagonist, Edward H. Moore of Ohio.

As a Democrat who long ago abjured Tammany and all its crooked works, I believe that tens of thousands of Democrats will refuse in this campaign to follow the dirty banner of Tammany and its coherts. Tammany never stood for anything but spoils and plunder; it stands for nothing else today. Its political fortunes rest on hootch and the spoils of office, and the American people should be thoroughly cognisant of that fact. Mr. Bryan scotched the head of the Tammany serpent at Baltimore, but he failed at San Francisco. No wonder when one-third of the members of the convention were borrowing devotees of Gen. Barrycoral And Bryan knows. And Cox knows that Bryan knows how wet he is. And Bryan also knows the obligations that Mr. Cox will be under to deserving wet Democrats and the oligarchy of political bosses to whom he owes his nomination, should he be elected. But Cox is not going to be elected, if America and its time-proved institutions, still stand for right and truth and justice and liberty. And they do.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Read the Letters of These Two Women.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irregular and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."—ELIZABETH WEAVER, R. R. 2, North East, Md.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."—Mrs. A. L. MILLER, 2833 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Told-to-Santa Monica.

[illegible] that is of much importance [illegible] Los Angeles, Redlands and in Santa Barbara as well as the rest of the southland is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mabel Gerhard, (Jerry) Hubbard of Redlands, and Mr. Elting Sawyer of Santa Barbara. The bethrothal was made known yesterday by Miss Hubbard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gerhard Hubbard of 144 Terrace Drive, Redlands, who are in Santa Monica at 907 Washington avenue, where they spent the summer. No date has been set for the marriage, but it will probably take place early in the new year. Miss Hubbard is one of the best known girls in Southern California society. She spends much of her time in Los Angeles, visiting Miss Alice Elliott, daughter of John Mackay Elliott.

She is a guest of Miss Elliott now, and today is one of the guests at a luncheon being given by the latter at the Los Angeles Country Club in honor of Mrs. Sidney Baldwin. She visited in Montecito earlier in the week.

For Southern Belle.

Miss Harriet Woolwine, a belle from Nashville, Tenn., is a guest in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woolwine of Lake street. She is just out of college, having attended Ward-Belmont College, one of the oldest and most fashionable girls' schools of the South, and upon her return next winter, will make her formal debut.

On Thursday next, at 13 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Woolwine will give a "chocolate" in honor of the visitor, to which she will ask thirty of the younger folk. On Sunday evening she will give a buffet supper party for her niece and will have a bevy of young naval officers among the guests.

Tea Dansants.

The tea dansants to be given in connection with the exhibit of Leon Bakst's canvasses by the Assistance League at the Hotel Alexandria on Saturday and Monday are to afford a setting for many fashionable tea parties.

Mrs. Hancock Banning is to have a group of navy folk at her table, and so will Mrs. E. T. Earl. Others who are to have parties are Mmes. Albert Llewellyn Cheney, Arthur Wright, Hanson Moore, and Erasmus Wilson. On Monday, Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff and Mrs. R. D. Shepard are to entertain with tea parties. Mrs. Charles Jeffras, who is to be in charge of the Monday morning musicale, with Mrs. Shephard is to have a party on Monday.

For Mrs. McCoy.

Mrs. John Craig McCoy was honor guest at a lovely farewell tea given yesterday by Mmes. A. B. Stocker and Bayless F. Shepard.

The house was beautifully decorated in vari-colored dahlias. Mrs. Matthew S. Robertson and Mrs. William H. Anderson served at the tea urns. Mrs. McCoy will leave shorty for Washington, D.C., for the winter, and will also visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Kammers, (Marie McCoy,) whose marriage was one of the interesting early autumn events.

By Mrs. Jones.

A company of forty were at the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Cummings B. Jones at the Los Angeles Country Club in honor of Mrs. Sidney Edmonds of Washington, D. C., who will make her home in this city.

Marriage Announced.

A marriage of wide interest just announced, is that of Clark Bonner, nephew of J. Ross Clark, and Miss Violet Shepard of 958 South Vermont avenue. The couple planned to keep the marriage secret from all, but their immediate families, until well on the way of their honeymoon, and succeeded—not even intimate friends learing of it till yesterday, although the ceremony was performed Tuesday. Dr. J. M. Newell, uncle of the groom presided—the service taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. V. A. Shepard. The couple left immediately for Arizona, where they will spend their honeymoon. He has made his home with his aunt, Miss Anna B. Clark, at 453 East Adams street. He is a brother of Mrs. Harry Borden (Sallie Bonner.)

The bride, who is a graduate of the University of Washington, came here a year ago with her mother, to reside and soon after she and Mr. Bonner met and became engaged. He is a graduate of Occidental, and also of Princeton University, and belongs to the University and California Clubs. He is a veteran of the World War, having served abroad as lieutenant in the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Machine Gun Battalion, Ninety-first Division.

Friends of the Borden's will be interested to know that he is a lieutenant in the army, stationed at Camp Winfield Scott, San Francisco.

To Honolulu.

Mrs. Elmer Gray and Miss Marie Rohrabacher are in a party planning to leave shortly for an extended tour of the Hawaiian Islands. D. F. Robertson is in charge of the party. Others sailing at the same time are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fabling, Walter D. Fabling, C. B. Scott and Miss Ruth Scott, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bellport, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Palmer and Miss M. T. Curtin.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stimson of Pasadena motored to Santa Barbara yesterday, and are stopping at the Ambassador Hotel for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Elliott of San Francisco are visitors here, who are domiciled at the Hotel Alexandria. Mrs. Charles E. Virden of Sacramento, with her daughter and Miss Grayson, a friend from Little Rock Ark., are also at the Alexandria.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE.

District Federation.

Making Los Angeles the first place in the United States to start a definite plan to accomplish results in Americanization, a council of presidents of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs met yesterday at the University of Southern California, when Mrs. J. C. Urquhart set in motion a plan for this helpful work, originated by Mrs. Frank Gibson, who last year was chairman of Americanization for the national federation. The general federation adopted Mrs. Gibson's plan and yesterday Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley, president of the district, received word from the State board meeting that California had taken action to carry on the work, but it remains for the Los Angeles district actually to begin.

The presidents yesterday were instructed how to co-operate by securing from each town in California, beginning with their own club locality, statistics as to number, nationality, location, occupation and recreation of the dominant local race groups. From these statistics will be made the first California nationality map ever in existence. It is expected to have this complete at the end of this club season.

The other points to the end of effective Americanization are original research as to industry, housing, recreation and assimilation of foreigners and biography, which in California will begin with Junipero Serra as the first foreigner of note in the State. In this connection it is emphasized that Americanization is not necessarily slumming and dirty work, it is to learn of such immigrants as Portola, Muir, Moddjeska, Lubin, Mulholland of Aqueduct fame and McLaren, who built the Golden Gate Park.

Mrs. Urquhart declared yesterday that each club woman can perhaps add to this group of wonderful men and women, who, coming from other lands, have given their genius to the State of their adoption. The fourth channel through which the clubs will work is in arts and crafts exhibits, the first one of which will be in the Chamber of Commerce.

By these means, the club women expect to give a new angle of reflection to the subject of Americanization and remove it from the nebulous and indefinite.

With Mrs. Exley presiding, speakers for the various measures on the ballot in November were: L. L. Larrabee, speaking for the better judges movement; Mrs. Herbert Cable, for the protection of the initiative; Marshall Stimson, for prohibiting compulsory vaccination; Mrs. Rosemond Wright, for "anti-vivisection;" Dr. Walter Brehm, "The health amendments from a medical standpoint;" Dr. Monroe Deutsch, for raising the appropriation for the southern branch of the State University, and Miss Wilhelmina Van der Goorberg, who spoke for the other educational measures on the ballot.

Mme. Francis Darnley, soprano, sang a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Agnes Osborne Carter, both newcomers in the musical circles of Los Angeles.

C., a guest at the Walker home.

AMERICA FIRST.
The American Legion will be neutral in politics, but will be intensely American in its patriotism.

PLAYING EVEN.

POPULAR PRICED.
A bakery is putting up a lunch consisting of a ham sandwich, a red apple, a doughnut and a piece of pie, all in a pasteboard box, for 20 cents. This outfit is becoming quite popular with workers, clerks and stenographers who dread the average restaurant prices for the noon luncheon.

A REFRESHING BEVERIDGE.
Former Senator Beveridge is about to take the stump for the Republican ticket and is expected to visit the Coast. The Indiana orator was once one of our strongest and most potent Beveridges, but it was feared that he had been reduced to half of 1 per cent to comply with the amendment. It is pleasant to note that he still has a kick left and is about to implant it where it will do the most good.

NOBODY RESIGNS.
Naturally, Senator Harding declines to accept the Democratic suggestion that he resign his seat in the Senate. If he resigned Gov. Cox would have the appointing of his successor and would name a Democrat. Cox might even go after it himself. Gov. Cox is the man who ought to resign, as his campaign does interfere with his services as Governor. The Harding canvass does not impair the Senator's service. Gov. Cox will retire from office in January and will be succeeded by a Governor elected in November. It's a sure thing that nobody will resign.

GEN. APATHY.
Senator James Hamilton Lewis, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Illinois, says that if the election were to be held today he would win. He thinks this because of the fight between the Thompson and Lowden forces in the Republican primaries. But the election is not until November and by that time the Republican voters will be back in normal mind and will vote with Harding all down the line. Senator Lewis has been making Democratic speeches through the East without meeting enthusiasm or interest. At every stopping place he was confronted by general apathy. In fact, Gen. Apathy seems to be in command of the Democratic campaign this season.

A CHICAGO "NOBLE."
J. A. Greenberg, a Chicago landlord owning several apartment-houses, deserves a niche in the Hall of Fame. He has announced a 10 per cent decrease in all his rents effective October 1 and has promised a similar reduction next May.
Mr. Greenberg is the Henry Ford of the landlord industry, as far as pioneering towards pre-war prices is concerned. It takes a good deal of honest public spirit to voluntarily forego rich profits when "everybody is doing it," and the great tenant family of the United States, who have been suffering so cruelly under the rent-gougers, will enshrine him as a Chicago Noble. Example is better than precept—now for a few more Greenbergs. Will local imitators please rise and receive the plaudits of the crowds.

MANNA FOR BRITISH AUTHORS.
American film producers are showering gold upon British authors just now, and such men as Sir J. M. Barrie, Arnold Bennett, Somerset Maugham, Henry Arthur Jones and other novelists and playwrights have discovered that their old copyrights are a source of new wealth.
When one considers the mountains of scenarios that pour into the picture studios from American sources it either means that the American producers have got the importing habit or that American writers are really less dramatic, less interesting, less forceful than their British cousins. We have to admit that most of the more important and worth-while films at the present time are the product of English authors, some of whom have received as much as $10,000 for their rights; but surely American authors will not permit this condition to last.

THE HIGH SCHOOL GIRL.
One gratifying sign of the times is the return to simple dress by the high school girls. Nothing could be more attractive and charming than the plain middies and skirts the majority of the girls are affecting this year, coupled with a more reserved style of hair dressing and a noticeable decrease in rouge, powder and lipsticks. Our girls are beginning to look like sweet young maidens again instead of fashionable, empty-headed, overdressed dolls. The natural charms of girlhood have all artificial beauties beaten to a frazzle—and it is the sort of charm that cannot be imitated, and any embellishment must ever mar its pristine beauty.
It is an ill wind that blows no good, and if the high cost of living has aided in this most desirable and pleasant new condition we can even find it in our hearts to forgive the profiteers.

EMBARRASSED MARTYRDOM.
When a gentleman has decided to die for part of his country's cause by the method of extreme abstinence, is it gentlemanly for the opposition to deny him that privilege?
The question is rather a delicate one. Of course, when an ordinary citizen decides to jump off the end of a pier or take half a pound of arsenic or sling himself up by a rope or gash his throat with a razor the authorities do not hesitate. They insist upon frustrating his mournful purpose, if they can. And, even if he is in jail and tries this method of escape, the law will deny him that evasion, no matter how well he could be spared.
There is obviously a legal prejudice against suicide in any form. Yet now, in the case of MacSwiney, the Sinn Fein Mayor of Cork, the British government is under the brutal suspicion of furnishing sly sustenance to a gentleman who essays to shine in history as a man who heroically starved to death for his cause. MacSwiney has declared he must either be set free and allowed to laugh British law and justice to scorn or die with melodramatic glamour as an arch-martyr. It seemed such a simple alternative ultimatum, and the only anxiety on the part of his Sinn Fein admirers was whether he could be strong-minded enough to hold out on the starvation in the sight and smell of the seductive meals a meanly lavish British government would certainly set before him for his undoing. It was to be "heads you lose and tails we win" for the Sinn Feiners against the British, either way, and it looked like a walk-over on the face of it.
But when it became disgustingly obvious that the British government would remain obdurate the only Sinn Fein hope left was that their martyr would die in agony. They had themselves already and set for the shocking outrage and were riotously resigned, nay, even hopeful, for the exciting, raging, stormy denouement, to these many weeks. His regrettable death and its clamorous result has been arranged for with meticulous detail. And still the weary weeks pass on and MacSwiney's demise is most awkwardly postponed. Naturally, the British government is under suspicion of meanly stealing the Sinn Fein thunder. Of course, everybody knows the British have no sense of humor and the Irish have a monopoly of it, but somehow, somewhere there is an irritating confusion of the dramatic issue.
It certainly is disgusting when one has made up one's mind to bear a harsh political murderous atrocity with becoming fortitude for the victim and furious revenge for the responsible party to have the martyr balked of his dramatic "curtain" and the great tragic melodrama transformed into a long-drawn-out boresome farce. If, indeed, the British government is being despicable enough to keep MacSwiney alive, that he may be restored to the arms of his ardent admirers, sound in mind and limb, when the controversy is settled, it is certainly lacking in the proper gentlemanly consideration for Sinn Fein susceptibilities, to say nothing of a horrid lack of appreciation of dramatic values. As any Sinn Feiner must admit, this sort of atrocity is the most unkindest cut of all.

EXPENSIVE CARELESSNESS.
South Americans are complaining of the carelessness of business firms in the United States in their correspondence with the southern republics. The indictment declares that at least 25 per cent of the American manufacturing and export concerns place insufficient postage on their mail, thus entailing not only expense and delay to the South American firms, but engendering a much more far-reaching irritation and lack of confidence. The postage to South America is 5 cents, but a 2-cent stamp is usually smacked on the letters by an ignorant clerk, entailing the payment of 3 cents and a postoffice fine at the other end. One can imagine the emotions of an Argentine firm when dozens of circular letters arrive in this slip-shod, irritating shape.
Moreover, it is declared the United States business firms display a shameful ignorance of geography and it is nothing unusual for a letter to be addressed "Buenos Aires, Brazil"—which is equivalent to directing a letter to "Chicago, Cal.," since Buenos Aires is a city of 2,000,000 inhabitants, the capital of Argentina and hundreds of miles from Brazil.
It seems most unfortunate that in this stage of the world-trade competition relations between the Americas should be handicapped by such paltry and gratuitous carelessness—and that by the nation which prides itself upon its business efficiency. When the Australian firms, who are frequently guilty of this sort of inefficiency, perpetrate the same offense Americans are loud in their disgust. It is such a simple thing—but obvious evidence that the firm in question is a tyro in international trade. Established firms in the export business, who know all the subtleties of the game, are not guilty of these small irritations, knowing full well the importance of "tremendous trifles" in business relations.
While the United States is obviously anxious to establish better and wider trade relations with the South American republics, it is well to remember some of the Latin characteristics. Good manners are an essential lubricant of business dealings with the Latins. Their business letters are models of refined diction, inherent gentlemanliness. They maintain that graciousness is never wasted, that commerce itself is best conducted with social amenities. Doing business with a South American firm is tantamount to establishing an abiding friendship, the scope of which extends far outside mere trade relations. They are punctilious to a fault in all the smaller considerations, and even to understamp a letter, omit a courtesy title or misspell a name is regarded by them as an offense. The writer lived in Buenos Aires for some time and can vouch for it that business is a pleasant and courteous thing among those people, who denude it of as much of its hardness, its unloveliness, as possible. Noblesse oblige is a doctrine that applies quite as consistently in business as in any other department of life—and it is in the inconsidered trifles that we expose our characters.

The owner of several large apartment-houses in Chicago announces a 10 per cent cut in all his rents and promises another reduction of equal amount May 1. In the face of this it will be difficult for landlords to attempt their usual October boost. A few owners like that would help put the thanks in Thanksgiving.

We're Goin' to Watch 'im, by Gosh!

GOV. COX'S MISSTATEMENTS.
While in California and Arizona Gov. Cox was discourteous enough to accuse the Republican press of combatting his Presidential aspirations with a campaign of silence. He said the newspapers failed to report his speeches and were trying to coyer with a smoke screen of irrelevant arguments the real issues of the campaign. As The Times has devoted more than 100 columns, despite the print paper shortage, to Gov. Cox's speech of acceptance and his campaign speeches since that time, as we have given him an even break in the news with Senator Harding, we feel that his utterances are a bit ungracious. But it now appears that Gov. Cox would have fared better in the East if his Pacific Coast campaign addresses had not been published at all.
Gov. Cox attempted a sectional campaign, telling each community what he thought it would be most pleased to hear. He adjusted his campaign arguments as actors change their make-up, fitting each to the particular occasion. But the leased wires of the Associated Press carried those speeches broadcast over the country and he finds himself called to explain in Kansas City what he said in San Diego, and in New York to explain his tariff utterances in Los Angeles.
While speaking here he posed as a protectionist. In the official copy of his address in Washington Park, supplied to The Times by his private stenographer, the following appears:

> Certain papers have said to you, "Cox is right on the League of Nations, but stands for a tariff that would put the lemon growers out of business." I made a speech in Congress in 1909 in which I took the position that a tariff schedule should be sufficient to meet the differences in cost—that means the differences between the labor cost in California, the difference between the freight rate from Italy to New York and the freight cost from California to New York, and taking into account such other elements as a Federal tariff commission may find enter into competitive conditions.

The Times recognizes that the speech referred to was delivered eleven years ago and that a lapse of memory is possible. The files of the Congressional Record show that Mr. Cox spoke just once when the Payne-Aldrich tariff was under consideration; that speech was delivered on March 30, 1909, and is reported on pages 562 and 563 of the Congressional Record. It contains no reference to the citrus fruit schedule, although it was then under discussion. There is no allusion to Italy or to California, no reference to freight costs. We do not like to think that Gov. Cox was deliberately "spoofing" the lemon growers of California; but we submit that he made an unfortunate error in not refreshing his memory by referring to the records before he entered into a tariff discussion before an enlightened audience.
Still more important to California advocates of a protective tariff for citrus fruits is the fact that a lemon schedule was submitted to Congress in the 1909 session, fixing a duty calculated to equalize the difference in production costs between California and Mediterranean territory, together with the difference in freight rates—the very kind of tariff Gov. Cox advocated while here — and that GOV. COX VOTED AGAINST IT. Gov. Cox must not expect a great deal of attention to be paid to his campaign speeches when he is guilty of such glaring inaccuracies and misrepresentations.
Equally unhappy was his reference in San Diego to the Newberry case. Asked by a friendly Democrat in the audience to "Tell 'em about Newberry," Gov. Cox said:

> Truman Newberry has been convicted on a charge of buying a seat in the United States Senate. If Newberry had not sat in the Senate we should have had the League of Nations. If he had not been put on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Henry Cabot Lodge the Senate would have ratified the League with helpful and not emasculating reservations.

Gov. Cox would have done much better if he had stuck to his printed manuscript and disregarded interruptions. On page 189 of the Congressional Directory for the Sixty-sixth Congress appears the official list of the members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. They are as follows: Lodge, McCumber, Borah, Brandegee, Fall, Knox, Harding, Johnson, New, Moses, Hitchcock, Williams, Swanson, Pomerene, Smith, Pittman and Shields. Senator Newberry is not, and never has been, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate.
No Presidential candidate within a generation has been guilty of such glaring misstatements of fact in his platform addresses. Gov. Cox may average fairly well among the bushers in politics, but he makes entirely too many errors to qualify for the big league. Granting that the mistakes are due to ignorance and not to design, the fact remains that he is condemned by the words his own mouth. He would be held in higher regard on the Pacific Coast if his speeches had never found their way into the press.

COUNTING THE VOTES.
Chicago election judges must be largely made up of hardwood lumber and ivory. Either that or some of them are disposed to be tricky. At any rate, after they count up a few hundreds or so of ballots they lose all sense of proportion and are liable to record the vote as 9000 or some other upstanding figure. Of course, Mayor Thompson wouldn't stand for any crooked work on his behalf, but he cannot be everywhere at once and boys will be boys. The first returns from the Illinois primary election showed that in the Chicago precincts where Thompson controlled the machinery the vote was almost unanimous in favor of the Thompson candidates. In a few districts in Cook county outside the city, where the Mayor did not dominate, the Thompson ticket was badly beaten. Down State the vote against the Thompson slate was still heavier. But the Chicago vote was apparently so overwhelming that the opposition yielded in the face of the first returns and meekly wired its congratulations.
But as some of the political experts studied the figures they didn't seem satisfied. They decided to sit in on the official count and some curious things developed. In hardly a single Chicago precinct were the returns first given out found to be correct. Ogiesby, who was opposed by the Thompson forces for Governor, gained more than three thousand votes in Chicago on the first few days of the count. At first it was announced that Len Small, the Thompson candidate, had carried the city by over 100,000 plurality. This was soon pushed below 90,000 and when it was found that Ogiesby had carried the rest of the State by about 87,000 the situation became interesting. It was early disclosed that William B. McKinley, who was opposed by the Thompson hosts for the United States Senate, had really been elected by a margin of more than 10,000 votes and at this moment it looks as if Oglesby might yet be the Republican nominee for Governor.
It is a fight between city and county. Thompson has built up a Republican Tammany in Chicago and his grip on the political machinery is too firm to be easily shaken. It is for the good name of Illinois that the Republicans of the rest of the State are fighting.

MEWSINGS FROM ARKANSAW.
Singing of good times is well enough in its way, but it's working for 'em which makes the dollars join the hallelujah chorus.
You will often find a woman who has teeth like pearls. But you never find one who is as dumb as an oyster.
In story books and "from press and pulpit" the bride is always beautiful and the groom is stalwart. Why does not some smart author write a story of a fat bride and a skinny groom who live happily ever afterwards?
Also we reckon that the man who lives a double life is scared half to death.
You know how other people bore you and get you sore when they call on you when you are busy, but you never think of this when you call on some other man when he is busy.
A clever girl is kept busy studying men. A pretty girl keeps men busy studying her.
Those who cause others to suffer must suffer themselves. Thus, when you tell a man one of your old jokes he will come right back at you and make you listen to one of his.—[Arkansaw Thomas Cat.

BILL THE BURGLAR.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

"I heard you were trying to break into the League of Nations," remarked I, as our old friend, Bill the Burglar, asked the girl at the white counter for an extra ration of the raisin pie. "It looks as if you and Jimmy would have to help us out—or rather help us in."
"It does look that way," assented the burglar. "When you have to bust your way in you seem to enjoy it more. If England, France and the rest of 'em formed a company to keep Uncle Sam out, why fellows like this Reed and Borah would be tearing their hair and their shirts trying to get in. But just because they saved the best seat for your uncle he seems to be wearing out his eyesight looking for the tacks in it."
"Or the tax on it," suggested I.
"But there's more of a tax for the army and navy to stay out of it than for the front seat to stay in," persisted Bill.
"I suppose that is why you and Frankie Heney have formed a League pool. If he can't talk his way in you and Jimmy will go to the cellar window and break in in the dark. I saw you with Heney's reception committee the other night and I thought you would make a good team. One of our most industrious and successful burglars hitched up with the champion soup-and-dance artist of the Pacific Slope! You ought to pull like a pair of zebras. I suppose he furnishes the words and you the music."
"Frank is all right," asserted Bill, stoutly.
"He has to be some of the time," snapped I. "A man can't break all ten of the Commandments at once. Heney has tried all the parties. He had to be right occasionally. Now I suppose he is a Wilson Republican—whatever that is. I can hardly imagine there is such an animal, but they used to say that about the giraffe. Anyhow, Heney has been a sealous Republican, a rip-roaring Progressive and a raving Democrat. He is also a Theodore Hall Prohibitionist and I expect when it comes to a show-down he will vote for Lydia Pinkham or Eugene Debs."
"Don't ever worry about Heney," declared the burglar. "He will light with his face to the sun. If you heard him speak the other night you know he's a peach and is dead right. Didn't you hear him say that The Times was the greatest and fairest newspaper on the Coast?"
"I said he had to be right some of the time," interrupted I, tastily. "That was one of the times."
"You can say this for Frank," resumed Bill, "he asks nobody to apologize for him and it isn't often he does it for himself. He can do his own talking and mostly he is sure he is right. The nearest I know of Heney apologizing was when he said the other night that a good many people had been uncharitable enough to declare that he had been responsible for the making of your friend, Hiram. He said that the Senator used to be his idol—his joss—and now he had to explain it all away."
"I suppose that is the reason he is following him around and boosting the League," argued I.
"It is that, and he's the man for the job," declared the burglar. "Heney knows Johnson like he does his multiplication table and he can raise the wind that shows the holes in Hiram's shirt. When Frank is in the box he sends hot ones right over the plate and when he is at bat he slams everything in reach clear over the fence."
"That reminds me that all leagues have their troubles," interrupted I. "Here we have an all-American League of our own to run the national game and cannot even operate that without a scandal, yet we will not accept a League that is working with France and England and forty-one other nations without picking it to pieces and starting off with another set of specifications. We are not so darned consistent ourselves."
"That's what we get for running everything into politics," declared the burglar. "If you'd listen to Frank Heney you'd have better sense. He's been in all the parties because he's stuck to a chain of ideas. It's the parties that have changed; not Heney. At different times the parties have come around to Frank's ideas and then he was with them. That is why he has been a red-headed Republican in one year and a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat in another. The parties have caught up with him."
"I suppose if they couldn't reach him he would be for having a little Heney party of his own," suggested I.
"Sure!" exclaimed the burglar. "One without reservations, but with plenty of interpretations. But I can't somehow or other fancy Frank's being on a peace commission."

THE ENGLISH VOCABULARY.
The number of English words not yet obsolete, but found in good authors, or in approval usage by correct speakers, including the nomenclature of science and the arts, does not probably fall short of 100,000. Few writers or speakers use as many as 10,000 words, ordinary persons of fair intelligence, not above three or four thousand. If a scholar were to be required to name, without examination, the authors whose English vocabulary was the largest, he would specify the all-embracing Shakespeare, and the all-knowing Milton. And yet in all the works of the great dramatist there seem not more than 15,000 words; in the poems of Milton not above 8000. The whole number of Egyptian hieroglyphic symbols does not exceed 800, and the entire Italian operatic vocabulary is said to be scarcely more extensive.—[George Perkins Marsh.

Coolidge's Oratory.
Don't make any mistake about Gov. Coolidge's oratorical powers. A notion is abroad that his remarks read better than they "listen." Several thousand Manchester people can testify that they "listen" all right. The next Vice-President is not an orator of the spellbinder type, but he is a clear, forceful and convincing public speaker.—[Manchester Union.

ANTIVIVISECTION MEASURE IS SCORED.

California and Stanford University Officials Point Out Menace.

BERKELEY, Sept. 25.—The Board of Regents of the University of California and the trustees of Stanford University have united in a public statement pointing out the menace to the public health, the injustice to them and the danger to education, science and research in the initiative measure No. 7 on antivivisection. The statement is as follows:
"The advance of sanitation, modern medicine and physiology and the teaching of biology all rest on the use of appropriate animals for demonstration and research. The control of epidemic diseases, the management of surgical operations and of childbirth and the certification of milk and water supplies would be impossible without the knowledge gained by such studies. In fact the whole structure of the present-day protection from disease rests upon studies made upon animals.
"The University of California and Stanford University are vitally interested in this initiative measure since its passage would stop the research work now going on in their medical schools, hospitals and laboratories and in the Bureau of Animal Industry. The studies on botulism in olives, which will not only save the ripe-olive industry of the State, but many lives, would cease, as would likewise the manufacture of serum for the prevention of hog cholera, the preparation of vaccine for anthrax and the various other measures that annually save millions of dollars and prevent great suffering among domestic animals. Even feeding experiments on animals would be impossible.
"No worse attack on the welfare of the State and on the right of the university to seek and teach accurate knowledge and information could be made. Every man, woman and child, every unborn babe, every domestic animal in the State will be affected if this measure becomes a law. No one will tolerate cruelty to animals. The present laws of the State are drastic and quite sufficient to control any abuse. We know that there is no cruelty to animals in the laboratories of the universities. They are in charge of men and women of the highest character, who are unselfishly working to better the lot of their fellow-men. Anesthetics are always used for animals in the laboratory in exactly the same way that they are used by surgeons in the operating room.
"California must not go backward. We must be able to give the best care to both men and animals, to study disease and to protect the industries of the State by further research. We urge upon the citizens of the State the defeat of this initiative.
[Signed]
"THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF STANFORD UNIVERSITY BY RAY LYMAN WILBUR,
"President."

POPULARIZING THE FARM.
"Fifty cents a look. Maidens in their smiles bathe here daily at 3 p.m."
That sign in a farmer's watermelon patch near New Hope, Pa., is bringing better returns than watermelons originally planted there.
And the girls camping near the scene keep right on bathing. And bathing suits are still conspicuous by their absence.
The farmer first put up the sign for self-protection. All the watermelon vines in the field were being trampled to death by hopeful New Hoplans, anxious to see the bathing beauties.
The idea originated with a barker of a traveling carnival near the town. He offered the farmer a substantial consideration for the sight-seeing rights.
With this germ of an idea the farmer decided to capitalize the girls' penchant for bathing in the moonlight and nothing else, and sell to curious individuals the privilege of standing in his field.
Now Harjans soon spread the glad news, and now the farmer is thinking of subletting the motor car and team parking privileges to a son-in-law, who lives near by. If it was earlier in the season, he said, he might erect grand stands and sell seats at a premium. As it is, spectators must stand.
The farmer makes no guarantee for the appearance of the girls any night.
"You pays your money and you takes your chance," he said to a group of Philadelphia young men who wanted rain checks.

Home Output for Home Needs.
Perhaps alcohol will save the situation. Maybe scientists will enable everybody to go out on the front lawn, cut the grass, fork it into a retort and an hour later draw off a couple of gallons of motor fuel. Theoretically alcohol in almost unlimited quantities can be distilled from every plant that grows, but unfortunately the cultivated crops are more valuable for food and raiment than for fuel, and uncultivated plant life is either too scant or the process of distillation is too expensive. Unless an inexpensive process of distilling straw and similar waste products is invented alcohol will scarcely cure the fuel shortage.
There is more crude oil in the western shale beds than in all the known oil fields of the United States combined. It is possible to extract this oil and in the course of time it will be extracted and used, but it cannot take the place of the oil from the subterranean storage reservoirs because of the heavy cost of making the shale oil available. The use of internal-combustion motors is predicated upon abundant and cheap fuel. Neither alcohol nor shale oil will take the place of the petroleum pumped from wells without seriously restricting the usefulness of the internal-combustion motor. To keep the industries dependent upon this motor going full speed the maintenance of the petroleum supply on its present scale is imperative.—[October Sunset.

COMMUNITY-LAW VIGOROUSLY HIT

Rosebery Tells Realty Men of Its Disadvantages.

Colorado River Project Also Is Luncheon Subject.

Professor Argues in Behalf of State University.

The proposed new community property law, the amendment to the State constitution through which a larger income will be provided for the University of California, both of which issues will appear on the ballot in November, and the Colorado River project were the subjects discussed yesterday at the luncheon of the Los Angeles Realty Board held in the blue room of the Athletic Club.

The argument against the new community property law was vigorously presented by former State Senator L. H. Roseberry, trust attorney for the Security Trust and Savings Bank, who said about 60 per cent of all property in the State is community property and will be affected by the new law.

Under our present laws all property passes through probate on an average of once in twenty-five years, but under the new law the average will be twelve and one-half years, so that the expense and delay incident to probate will be doubled, he pointed out. Under the new law the wife receives the right to dispose by will of her half of the community property. In view of the fact, however, that the whole responsibility for debts incurred in the course of business rests upon the husband, who is civilly and criminally liable in case of nonpayment of these obligations, he should not be hampered in meeting them, as he will be in case the new law is passed, said the speaker.

AMPLY PROTECTED.

The present community property laws amply protect the wife, Mr. Roseberry asserted, for the husband cannot deprive her of her inheritable interest in the property during her lifetime. Her interest is fully protected, for he cannot give away or dispose of any of her share in the community property without her consent in writing, and upon his death she takes not only her half, but gets an interest in the other half.

Through the probate proceedings, which will be necessary in case of the death of the wife, the husband loses control of the property which comes under the dual control of the executor and the husband, thus hampering the conduct of business. Open credit will be ordered, and after the death of the wife, in case no will is found, a cloud of uncertainty will hang over the title and property interests of the husband for years, owing to the fact that a will may be later discovered, which will necessitate distribution of the estate. Inheritance taxes will be doubled. Every effort be made to defeat the bill was urged by Mr. Roseberry.

ON COLORADO RIVER.

Arthur G. Brown, representing the League of the Southwest, spoke on the advantages of the Colorado River project, particularly with reference to the construction of a dam at Boulder Canyon. In the solution of this problem, stated Mr. Brown, and in the execution of the project, artificial boundary lines should be disregarded, and the whole Southwest should unite in carrying it through. He said it will mean the development of approximately 3,000,000 acres in the Southwest, of which between 500,000 and 600,000 lie in California, and it will solve the all-important problem of the Imperial Valley for 100 years. The latter, if carried through, will mean development of Los Angeles, for it will bring thousands of new residents, and industries to this city through which the wealth of the great region will flow, said Mr. Brown.

Support of amendment twelve, which provides a steady income, proportionate to the wealth of the state to the University of California, was urged by Prof. Monroe E. Deutsch. He pointed out that if this amendment is carried funds for the university will be raised through a tax of 1.2 mills on each dollar of assessed property valuation, giving the university an annual income of $4,000,000, as against the present appropriations of $2,500,000 per year, thus providing ample funds for administrative purposes and permitting the construction of new buildings.

OVER GREAT DIVIDE.

Adam Eichegaray, Veteran Stockman, is Called by Death.

Funeral services for Joseph Eichegaray, who died yesterday at his home, 1412 Pennsylvania avenue, will be held at St. Mary's Catholic church tomorrow at 9 a.m. Rev. Thomas O'Connor will officiate at the solemn requiem mass. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Eichegaray was born in Spain sixty-six years ago and came to California when 24 years of age. For many years he was engaged in the stock-raising business. He leaves a son and two daughters, Senorita Bernadin and Grace Etcheverry and Mrs. Thaddius Trowbridge.

POLITICS.

THE WATCHMAN.

TREND OF POLITICAL THOUGHT AND ACTION.

By the Sentry on His Beat.

Samuel M. Shortridge will spend few idle moments in the next thirty days if he carries out the program planned by his campaign managers. The task imposed on the Republican Senatorial candidate would send an ordinary mortal into the handiest sanatorium. It calls for speeches in every one of the State's fifty-eight counties between now and November 2. But Mr. Shortridge says he'll do it, and knowing something about his present physical and mental fitness I have'nt a doubt but what he'll make the grade.

The local Shortridge headquarters will move tomorrow from the basement of the Hotel Stowell into suite 202 of the same building. Perry W. Weidner, member of the executive committee of the Republican State Central Committee, will be in personal charge. The plan is to carry on the work in co-ordination with the State Central Committee, while at the same time giving the Shortridge forces a better opportunity to step on the accelerator when required. The Shortridge people tell me that their campaign in the north is in fine shape.

Charles F. Van de Water, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, mapped out a program yesterday to stump his district with State Senator Harris, who is fathering the prohibition enforcement amendment bearing his name. They will speak from the same platform at a series of meetings in Long Beach, Pomona and Pasadena. I hear that Senator Harris will also put in a strong word for Senator Rominger, his thought being to show Long Beach that Rominger stands right on the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. Mr. Van de Water will address a meeting at the Union High School in Glendale next Tuesday night. W. H. Evans, president of the Harding and Coolidge Club in Glendale, will have charge of the meeting. Van de Water's candidacy is growing stronger in that part of the district, and the Glendalites are eager for a close-up of the candidate.

Judge Grant Jackson's supporters in the foothill district are pushing along his candidacy for re-election to the Superior Court and I understand that the judge's stock has mounted to a high notch in Arcadia, Monrovia, Sierra Madre, Lamanda Park and Pasadena. Working committees have been organized for him in all these places.

Former State Senator Hahn of Lamanda Park is making a personal campaign for the election of Judge Dana Weller to the State Court of Appeal.

Reports filtering in from the foothill district indicate a slump in the prospects of Congressman Randall, whose indifference to the longstanding lemon tariff issue is being used effectively by his opponents. Randall's supporters, I am told, realize that he is slipping, and that is why they are making their strongest fight to keep the radical elements in the east side of Los Angeles in line for their candidate.

The Los Angeles members of the executive committee of the Republican State Central Committee, as reported to local headquarters, include the following: Frank P. Flint, John G. Mott, Perry W. Weidner, Mrs. Berthold Baruch, Robert M. Clarke, Leo V. Youngworth, L. L. Lostutter, Henry P. Barbour, Charles L. Chandler, Mrs. Oda Faulconer, Mrs. Mabel W. Willebrandt, Joseph Scott, Edward D. Lyman, Frank Doherty, Alfred L. Bartlett, Al G. Faulkner, H. Adele White, R. W. Burnham and A. W. McPherson. The entire State Central Committee membership this year numbers 460, of which sixty-five are on the executive committee.

Senator Phelan's local managers tell me they have organized a Phelan-for-Senator nonpartisan club with 200 members. Henry S. McKee, vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank, is president, E. L. Doheny vice-president, and Mrs. Marshall Stimson, secretary. The Senator just now is touring the south, telling the ranchers about his candidacy. He is due for speeches today in Lankershim, Van Nuys and Oxnard. Charles M. Brown, local Democratic campaign chieftain, returned yesterday from the Imperial Valley with Senator Phelan's party. Prospects, he says, are both lovely and lively.

Claire Woolwine and Fred Frank have been assigned by Chairman Bartlett to handle the speakers and meetings for the Republican campaign committee. They are arranging to put over a lively program for the next few weeks, with several national head-liners in the spotlight.

Mrs. Shelley H. Tolhurst, who is strong for the League of Nations, may do some stumping in behalf of the League; at last, I am told that her friends have urged her to. She is not only wrapped up in the idea that we ought to have a League, but happens to be an exceedingly capable speaker, much more so than a lot of the masculine talent now spilling campaign oratory.

THE WATCHMAN.

NO PROFITEER REPORT.

Federal Grand Jury Delays Action, Probably Until Next Month.

The expected report of the Federal grand jury on profiteering was not made yesterday; instead it was announced by U. S. Atty. O'Connor that the findings will be delayed, and gossip around the Federal Building has it that the grand jury's findings may not be given out until after the election next month. Reasons for the delay have not been made public.

It has been given out by Federal officials here that the investigation, which has been under way for several months, has resulted in the accumulation of evidence of supposed violations of the Lever law by firms doing business in Los Angeles, San Diego, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Long Beach and in other Southern California towns and cities.

...ILLS ODD INFLUENCE.

...ife Testifies in Hypnotic Control Offense Trial.

Robert McNat Godwin, accused of committing an offense against Elma Steinbrenner, aged 17, by means of a hypnotic control, went on trial for the second time yesterday in Judge Craig's court. The girl took the stand and testified that she was married at the age of 15. She said Godwin exerted an unusual influence over her, and at one time caused her of being a German spy. The case was continued until today.

...E WINS DIVORCE FIGHT.

Mrs. Edna McClain was granted a decree from W. H. McClain by Judge Craig yesterday on her cross-complaint. He charged desertion. Mrs. McClain countered with cruelty and misconduct. Mrs. McClain is employed with the French Hospital as superintendent of nurses. She was awarded $60 a month for the support of the children.

LOCKJAW KILLS PASADENA BOY.

Hotel Man in Responsible Position.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 30.—As a result of stepping on a rusty nail while playing in his bare feet, Carter W. Colby, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Colby, 779 Sunset avenue, is dead. Death came at Pasadena Hospital as a result of lockjaw.

The boy ran the nail into his foot last Saturday. It made a slight wound, to which the boy paid little heed. The cut was fast healing and almost forgotten when, last night, he suddenly complained of pains in his jaws. Alarmed at the symptoms, the family summoned physicians, who found that tetanus germs were beyond control. The boy slowly sank, until death today relieved his suffering.

The lad's father is a Pasadena policeman and of State-wide prominence in the Odd Fellows' fraternity.

NEW HOTEL OFFICIAL.

C. H. Roberts, formerly purchasing agent of the Palace Hotel Company, San Francisco, has arrived here from the north to become general purchasing agent for the California Hotel Company, operating the Maryland, Green, Huntington and Pasadena hotels here. Mr. Roberts is regarded as one of the most expert hotel buyers in the country. He was at one time superintendent of dining cars and restaurants for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and installed the new headquarters of the Southern Pacific diner and restaurant department in San Francisco.

While idly whittling a stick, when off duty at his home today, Patrolman Edward Abbott of the Pasadena police department accidentally whittled into his left leg, severing an artery. He nearly died from the loss of blood. Doctors finally stanched the flow, but stated that only Mr. Abbott's strong constitution enabled the policeman to survive the loss of blood. They say it will be a week before he can leave his home.

Directors of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses have decided that each member of the Tournament association will receive the same amount of New Year's football tickets as last season, but no decision has been reached as to the number of extra tickets each member can buy before the public sale opens. The number of tickets bought up by members for the Harvard-Oregon game last year caused much grumbling from those not members of the association.

President W. L. Leishman of the Tournament has reappointed all last year's committee chairmen for the 1921 fete.

Playgrounds at nine Pasadena elementary schools are to be open evenings during the present school year, according to announcement made today by the physical education and playgrounds bureau of the schools. Children of all ages will be welcomed at the grounds on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday and Friday nights. Wednesday night was omitted from the schedule because the local churches are planning special activities for the girls and boys of their respective parishes on that evening this winter. An adult supervisor will be in charge of each playground on the nights they are open. The schools which will have this evening play feature are the Garfield, Wilson, Washington, Cleveland, Madison, Jefferson, Lamanda Park and Grant.

WANTS TO RECOVER LOST MUSTACHE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 30.—The baseball scandal of the East has invaded Los Angeles. Its effects are being felt by our most substantial citizens.

Last year when the White Sox battled the Cincinnati Reds for the world's championship, William Elmer, former fight promoter of New York and now in pictures in Los Angeles, had an abundant growth on his upper lip which he valued very highly. He was an ardent supporter of the Chicago team and to prove his devotion, he made a wager with Hugh Fay, a fellow-actor. He said that if the White Sox did not win, he would sacrifice his mustache.

The Sox lost the series.

Elmer lost the child to his heart.

Now, a year later, he wants to recover. Yesterday he saw Fay regarding the return of the bet and the latter says he can do nothing about it. Elmer then went to his attorney and suit will be undoubtedly be entered for the return of the severed whiskers.

LICENSE ORDINANCE ADDS TO CITY FUNDS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Sept. 30.—Nearly 700 business and professional men are included under the provisions of the new license ordinance which goes into effect tomorrow. Chief of Police Lyter has the licenses made out for those affected and is expecting to have a busy time during the next few days.

This extension of the licensing act to cover practically everyone doing business in Pomona will add to the city's revenue and will be collected in quarterly installments. About $9000 yearly will be realized from this source.

NEED NEW BUILDING.

Meeting for the first time since the beginning of the new school year, the Board of Education was confronted last night with a mass of detail. Principal among these was the subject of the new high school building. A committee was appointed by President E. T. Keiser to look into the matter and draft plans so the board could put the proposition squarely to the voters when it comes up for election. The salary of School Superintendent G. V. Whaley was raised to $4200 per year.

HAD GOOD ALIBI.

The case against T. D. Noteman, who was arrested on the charge of burglarizing the clothing store of John P. Evans of merchandise valued at $1000 collapsed today when he was able to prove an absolute alibi.

On the day of the robbery, he went to work in the tailoring department of the store, and quit the same night. That night the robbery occurred. It was this coincidence which led Constable Slanker to arrest the man.

With his release, the case is still a mystery, and no doubt was the work of experts.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY WOUNDS MEXICAN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 30.—Milton Honda, Banning High School junior, aged 17, shot and probably fatally wounded Vecente Nejlia, a Mexican, who attacked Honda with a knife on the E. L. Robertson ranch this afternoon and inflicted wounds in the chest and abdomen. The Mexican and the boy were both taken to Dr. King's Hospital in Banning.

The affair so far as can be learned, grew out of ill feeling which the Mexican is said to have held against Honda who had charge of distributing the picking boxes used in harvesting the pruhe crop on the ranch.

The Mexican complained that he was unfairly treated several days ago, and renewed his grievance that afternoon. The fact that Honda was prepared for the assault leads his family to believe that he expected trouble during his first altercation with the Mexican.

RUNS NEW PHONE EXCHANGE.

Mrs. Maud De Ridder, formerly at the County Hospital, has been given the position of telephone operator of the new exchange placed in the County Clerk's department.

SCHOOL AT REDLANDS SHOWS RAPID GROWTH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 30.—The University of Redlands enrollment has grown in ten years from about fifty to almost 350 for the enrollment for this year is now nearing that mark. This is almost a hundred more than was enrolled in the school last year. The accommodations, increased with the doubling of the floor space, is barely enough to take care of the greater number of students.

Work on the two outside wings of the chapel and Fine Arts Building, to be the largest in the whole group, is now under way. The main chapel building, with its great auditorium and one of the largest pipe organs in the West, will not be started until all the other buildings are completed.

The "Quad" which has been in alfalfa is now being prepared for the laying out of walks, the planting of the lawns and the building of the big central fountain.

LAND BIG FISH AT REDONDO BEACH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 30.—Fishermen of Redondo, not satisfied to swamp their boats with huge catches of mackerel, have been after the jew fish.

Yesterday W. H. Clark landed one weighing 240 pounds after an hour with rod and reel, and today D. S. Martin caught another weighing 275 pounds. It took forty-seven minutes to bring the monster to gaff. Both fish put up a strong fight and only the skill of the anglers brought them to their finish.

These fish were both hooked from pier No. 3.

MASSACHUSETTS MAN PRAISES REMED

After Suffering for Months He Finds Relief Through Tanlac. Now on Job and Feeling Fine.

Many wonderful indorsements have been given Tanlac, but the statement made the other day by Humphrey Kearns of 411 Main street, Holyoke, Mass., is in many respects so remarkable as to be almost incredible.

Mr. Kearns has been employed by the Linden Paper Mill Company for the past fifteen years. The facts in his case which are already known to hundreds of Holyoke people, are given below just as related by himself. Here is his story.

"I was never sick a day in my life until about four months ago when I fell down in a faint at the mill and had to be carried home and put to bed.

"There was such pain and feeling of pressure in the top of my head at times that I thought I would go distracted. I lost the use of my left arm, leg and foot, and my stomach got so out of order that I couldn't eat without its hurting me.

"My food would invariably sour and the gas from it would press on my heart so as to almost cut off my breath. At these times I had to get me to a window, where I could get fresh air in order to breathe. My appetite left me entirely and I simply had to force down what little I did eat.

"I got to where I was constipated for three or four days at a time, so nervous I would tremble all over and could not sleep at all. I had tried everything, including electric treatment.

"One day my friend, Mr. Edward Broadbent, came to see me and persuaded me to try Tanlac and I believe it was a godsend to me. I started getting better before I had finished the first bottle. I got so I could eat something and retain it and picked up strength rapidly.

"Well, I have taken only three bottles of Tanlac so far and am still taking it, but have already regained the use of my arm and leg, and as to being about appetites, I can hardly get enough to eat, and my stomach never gives me the least bit of trouble.

"My nerves have steadied down until I can sleep like a log every night, I have been back on my job at the mill now for several days and am just getting along fine. In fact I am feeling better than I have in many a day and I can't find words to fully express my gratefulness for Tanlac."

A Danger Warning —Bleeding Gums

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhea, the gums become spongy, then recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

SUSPENSION OF RUMLER STANDS

Coast League Directors Ratify McCarthy's Action.

Even Salt Lake Sustains the Circuit's President.

Bee Outfielder Has Pastor Testify in His Favor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—A resolution ratifying the action of President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast Baseball League in suspending Player William G. Rumler of the Salt Lake club for a period of five years for alleged gambling, was adopted unanimously in a special meeting of the league directors here today.

The action was taken after the Salt Lake delegation had presented a statement to the meeting saying that McCarthy exceeded his authority in suspending Rumler and that the player was entitled to further investigation. After a brief discussion the resolution was presented Salt Lake voting with the others to sustain McCarthy. The Portland and Seattle clubs voted through proxies.

MORE INVESTIGATION.

President McCarthy and Directors J. Cal Ewing of the Oakland club and Charles Graham of the San Francisco club were appointed a committee to investigate further the charges of gambling and other questionable activities which brought about the suspension of Rumler and other players this season. Another resolution commending Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American League club, for his activities against the gamblers, who have virtually wrecked the playing ensemble of that club, was adopted by the directors.

Previous to the meeting, Director William Lane of the Salt Lake club was reported to have said that, no matter what action was taken in the Rumler case, Salt Lake would not withdraw from the league. Rumler was present in the hotel where the conference was held, but was not called upon.

While certain members of the Salt Lake delegation were defending Rumler's act as a "mere indiscretion," the remark was made that "he could not have been crooked, as he led the league in batting in 1919." Dr. Charles Strub, president of the San Francisco club, said that the reason he led the league was because he was assisted in getting hits by members of the Oakland club.

STRUB "CALLED."

"Put that in writing," J. Cal Ewing demanded.

Dr. Strub said he did not have sufficient evidence to make a formal charge, but "the papers had said that the Oakland third baseman and others on the team had permitted Rumler to make hits that might have been fielded."

Director William Lane made a motion, which was carried, that he be allowed to change his vote from "yes" to "no" on the resolution upholding McCarthy in the Rumler case, as "legal action" might follow, and he wanted to be consistent. Jack Cook, secretary, and Frank Murphy, a director and former president of the Salt Lake club, said that in their opinion Rumler had been harshly dealt with.

"The Salt Lake people resent the idea that we are trying to shield anyone," Murphy said. "Rumler was innocent of any intent to 'throw' any game."

Rev. Dr. E. I. Goshen of the First Congregational Church of Salt Lake also defended Rumler.

DELIVERS ULTIMATUM.

President McCarthy closed the meeting by saying that he could and would do nothing further in the Rumler case unless the player withdrew his affidavit to the effect that he bet Player Borton of the Vernon club $200 on the outcome of last year's race, and thereafter prove, if he could, that the bet was not made. Regarding his decision, he said:

"I consider myself a higher court than any individual board of club directors."

In connection with the appointment of a gambling investigation committee, it was announced by McCarthy that the treasury and sinking fund of the league would be put at the disposal of the committee to thoroughly ferret out every suggestion of gambling.

A letter from Harl Maggert to Babe Borton, in which the former alleges that three members of the 1919 Vernon team confessed to President McCarthy of a slush fund which to buy the pennant for the Tigers was yesterday made public by Griffith Jones and John J. Craig, attorney for Borton.

Publication of Maggert's letter to the former Tiger first baseman, since suspended by President McCarthy and released by the Vernon Club because it is alleged he tried to throw baseball games, created a small sized riot among the Vernon players, all of whom denied Maggert's charges.

Manager Bill Essick of the Vernon team declared he was present at the meeting mentioned in the former Salt Lake outfielder's letter, but heard nothing of the statements contained in Maggert's epistle.

Borton is now suing Essick for $50,000, because the latter is said to have charged Borton with telling a "mass of lies" in connection with the Coast League gambling scandal.

"It is time the fans of the Pacific Coast are getting the true dope concerning the charge Babe Borton has made," said Attorney Jones yesterday.

DRIVERS QUALIFY FOR BIG AUTO RACE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRESNO, Sept. 30.—Eight of the nine drivers who will participate in the 200-mile automobile race on the new Fresno Speedway next Saturday afternoon qualified for positions in time trials held on the speedway this morning. The fastest time in the trials was made by Eddie O'Donnell, who circled the mile oval in 35.2 seconds or at the rate of 102.27 miles an hour. Ralph De Palma did not enter the trials as his car was not in shape, but he will be in the race on Saturday.

REDLANDS TO SHOW GRID STUFF TOMORROW

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 30.—A. Cunningham, coach of the University of Redlands, will try his 1920 football chorus "out on the dog" Saturday afternoon, for Hollywood High is coming here with two squads to show the Bulldogs How it is done. There will be two games, one between the first team of the university and Hollywood and one between the second teams.

The Bulldogs are pitted against the crack team of the conference in their first game again this year, that being with Pomona at Claremont on October 16.

TRAMPSAFE VICTORIOUS.

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 30.—Trampsafe won the Western Horseman's Futurity for 3-year-old pacers, feature event of today's Grand Circuit program. The colt took the first and third heats, the second going to Frisco June. Best time was 2:04 1-2.

The unfinished 2:07 trot, of which three heats were run yesterday, went to Peter L, when only heat winners came out today. He easily outstripped Dottie Day and Selka. Best time, 2:07 1-4.

Just David, favorite, won the 2:18 trot almost as he pleased. Best time, 2:09 1-4.

Loyal W was the best of the 2:13 pacers, taking the second heat in 2:06 1-4.

TWO BATTLES ON GRIDIRON TODAY

Oxy Yearlings to Scramble With Manual Eleven.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Concrete evidence of the presence of a football season will be given this afternoon when the energetic disciples of punt and buck put on a couple of games for the benefit of a palpitating public. Coach Glenn Whittle's pupils at Los Angeles High will entertain the freshman warriors of U.S.C., while Coach Deems of Occidental will take his peagreens over to Manual for a seance with the Artisans.

Both games have come to be in the nature of annual battles, the same turning out faverably last year for U.S.C., and Manual. The Wesleyan yearlings licked the Pioneers 10 to 0, by means of a touchdown and a drop kick. Manual smeared the Oxy first year men by the horrible count of 54 to 0.

HAVE AMBITIONS.

Consequently the Wesleyans are to duplicate their victory of last year, while the Tigers want to wipe out the sting of the 1920 debacle.

Taking into consideration the classy material that Coach Herd has to work with at U.S.C., his eleven should take L. A. High gang into camp by quite a nifty score today. Herd has many of the best prep stars from Southern California 1919 teams besides quite a gathering of those who became famous before the war.

Chet Dolley, Dick Larson, Arch and John Hawkins, Chet Long, Borey, Von Mohr, Blair Marble, are all familiar names to those who have followed the fortunes of the high school pigskinners. Besides these men and a bunch of other live wires, Herd has a couple of eastern kids on his team who act anything but funeral in action. They are G. Campbell and John Milton, backfield stars, from St. John's Military Academy, Wisconsin, and Milwaukee High School, respectively.

ALL WORKED UP.

Oxy supporters are splendidly agitated over the crop of peagreens plucked by the Tigertown institution this year, and expect these handsome young men to be of powerful assistance in slamming the Manualites of Sid Foster on their backs. Such hard rocked youths as Eberspacher, Willett, Coleman and Renius from Long Beach are counted upon to pulverize the Purple and Gray line to little fragments. Peroxide Renius will skipper the Orange and Black crew into battle.

In behalf of the high school teams about whom all these sad thoughts have been weaved, it may be said their ability is more or less a matter of conjecture. L.A. High will have only two letter men of 1919 playing on the team today—Dennis, captain and quarterback; and Norman "Swede" Anderson, tackle. Dennis played center last year, but is being converted into a signal caller.

Both combats are scheduled to begin in the neighborhood of 3:30 o'clock.

The line-up:

GLEASON PLANS FOR FINAL THREE GAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—With little more than a fighting chance to win the American pennant, the Chicago White Sox, crippled through the loss of seven stars as a result of the baseball scandal investigation, left today for St. Louis to open the final three-game series of the season tomorrow with the St. Louis Browns.

The players were determined to fight to the end. For the Sox to win the pennant they must win three in a row while Cleveland must drop three out of four to Detroit. In his final drive for the pennant, Manager Gleason expects to pitch Kerr in the first game, Faber in the second and then come back with Kerr in the third. The rest of the line-up probably will be:

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Clarence Kummer, the jockey, will receive $5000 for riding Man O'War in the special $75,000 race against Commander J. K. L. Ross' Sir Barton at Kenilworth Park, Windsor, Ont., on October 12. Samuel Riddle, owner of the famous three-year-old, agreed to pay that amount to Kummer. The late W. C. Whitney paid Tod Sloan $10,000 for coming here from England and riding Ballyhoo Bay in the futurity, more than ten years ago.

CLEVELAND PLAYS TWO GAMES TODAY.

DETROIT, Sept. 30.— The first contest of the final American League baseball series between Cleveland and Detroit was postponed today on account of cold weather. A double-header will be played tomorrow.

Loyal White Sox Players May Get Due.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Players who remained loyal to Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, in the last world's series against Cincinnati, may receive their reward this year, according to statistics figured out tonight. In figuring this problem, attention was called to the small number of eligible players remaining on the White Sox club who would share in the money.

The problem, which is a mathematical one, has many possibilities.

If the White Sox win the pennant and engage Brooklyn in the world's series, even though they should be defeated, the losers' share, when divided among the individual White Sox players, would be almost as great as that of their opponents, because of the larger number of players on the National League club.

Owing to the rule which gives the second and third place clubs in the leagues a share in the world's series pool, it is possible for each player on the Chicago team, if it finishes in second place and divides its money, to receive almost as much as the individuals on the losing club in the baseball classic.

Another possible division would arise in the event the White Sox should tie the New York Yankees for second place by losing all three games to St. Louis. In this case the total second and third place money would be divided equally between the clubs. The amount divided among the White Sox in that case would give each Chicago player a larger sum than the individual amounts received by each New York player and also would be nearly as much as the individual share of each player on the losing club.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Slim Love precipitated his own beans yesterday and had nobody to indict but himself for the Vernon victory ove the Seals, 5 to 4, in eleven rather uninteresting innings.

Slim had his game sewed up to a nicety in the last half of the ninth. 'Tis true he was a little wobbly in the sixth and seventh and it might have been good judgment for Capt. Corhan to give him the hook about that stage of proceedings.

CAME BACK.

However, he came back strong in the eighth and looked like the goods in the final frame. The foregone conclusions had cluttered the exit and everybody was beginning to envision a steaming supper when Chadbourne tripped to the plate.

Chet missed two of Slim's offerings and then had a ball called on him. The count was 2 and 1, and it looked screwey for the crack Tiger center fielder. Then Slim, instead of pitching orthodox baseball, tried to produce the fancy stuff—or in other words, tried to tempt Chadbourne into striking at poor ones with the result that instead of having an easy prospective out before him, he walked the foxy Bengal.

FATAL WALK.

Oh, boys—isn't it the truth that when one walks the first man up in the ninth in a fairly even game that same walk, eight times out of ten, proves fatal. That promenade put the kibosh on Master Love and blew his game for him.

Mueller, the next man up forced Chadbourne, Walsh to Caveney, but Red Smith leaned on one of Love's choicest for a triple to right near the foul line. As the ball reached Kennedy, that agile youth sprang a little legerdemain with the result that his throw home came on the Overdue Limited, Mueller scoring as Agnew set himself for the onrushing pill.

HOLDS MATTRESS.

Arnew held out his mattress to intercept that same pill, but it took a sudden change of venus and darted almost into the grand stand. What does Red Smith do but parade home like a peacock with the tying run.

Piercy, who relieved Smallwood in the seventh inning, was himself, in turn, relieved by Wheeler Dell in SEATTLE, Sept. 30.—Errors and inability to place hits where they counted caused Seattle to drop another game to Portland today, when the visitors took a clean shutout, 1 to 0. Kallio was generous with hits but the Rainiers were unable to profit by seven chances offered them. Portland took eight hits off three Seattle pitchers. The score:

BROMLEY BLOWS UP IN SEVENTH CANTO.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—After Salt Lake had taken the lead in the first half of the seventh inning today by scoring four runs on two hits and two errors, Bromley blew up in the last half of the same frame, Sacramento scoring four runs and winning 7 to 5.

Bromley walked three men, forcing in a run. Then Walter rapped Compton's fly to the right-field fence, allowing three more runs to cross the plate.

Cady was put off the field in the ninth for talking back to Umpire Byron. The score:

the eighth. And now boys we want to say to you right here, that when Dell pitches under the auspices of a mackerel sky (which prevailed at the time and obscured the big barn) he wields a smoker that is invisible and unhittable.

SURE ENOUGH.

With Dell at the tiller it was only a question of time, after the ninth had been finished, for a Vernon victory, and sure enough it came in the eleventh on Chadbourne's double to right center and Mueller's single.

Here was a game tossed away, which the Tigers had no more idea of winning, after the eighth inning, than they had of flying on a paper balloon to Catalina Island.

HAD IT ICED.

The visitors appeared to have iced the contest in the third frame on Schick's single, Caveney's double, Fitzgerald's squeeze play and Hasbrook's double to the left-field fence netting four runs. For eight straight innings the northerners played all around the Bengals and looked to outclass them—and yet in the ninth a fit of fancy pitching to Chadbourne when the Tiger center fielder was almost at Love's mercy blew the works in a game that might almost have decided the pennant. Thus a little pebble at times near the source of a stream may turn the current of a big event into a cataract of defeat or words to that effect.

NEW GOVERNING BODY FOR GAME.

National League Prexy Advocates its Formation.

Says Baseball Has Outgrown Old Commission.

Centralized Power to Control All Leagues.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—One of the beneficial results of the gambling scandal will be the birth of a new governing body for professional baseball, nation wide in scope and limitless in power, composed of men so prominent and reputable that their very names will be a guarantee to the fans that there will be no place for a dishonest player or promoter of the nation's pastime.

President Heydler of the National League outlined his idea for a new national commission to be known by some other name, while in Chicago to testify before the Cook county grand jury. The movement to form a new body already is under way and will take form as soon as the world's series is completed.

EQUAL TO DUTIES.

"The national commission has done wonders for the development of baseball," said President Heydler, "and when formed it was fully equal to the duties imposed on it. But baseball has grown tremendously since the existing machine to govern it was designed and the game has outgrown the commission.

"It was all right in fair weather, but too frail a craft to weather a storm.

WASTE OF TIME.

"If President Johnson of the American League should ask me now to confer with him on the appointment of a new chairman for the national commission I would tell him I considered it a waste of time and effort for the present form of government has outlived its usefulness. The present investigation proves that baseball needs a nation-wide and centralized power to control not only the major leagues, but the minors, down to the smallest circuits.

PUNISH GUILTY.

"There must be no cases in future like that of Seaton and Smith, who were released by the Pacific Coast League for cause, only to find haven in the Southern Association for a time. The new body must be able to reach out into the farthest corners of organized baseball and punish any guilty or undesirable player. It must be so strong and of such unimpeachable reputation that its authority will be welcomed by every promoter, player and lover of clean, honest sport. I believe everyone who wants to see the game put back on its pedestal will agree with me, and I expect the co-operation of everyone."

Asked if he had any ideas regarding the men who would compose and could be induced to compose such a baseball commission as he outlined, President Heydler said he had not, but he believed such men could and would be found before another playing season was due.

ROMANOFF WINS A TOUGH MATCH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 30.—Konstantine Romanoff showed himself to be the greatest heavyweight wrestler ever seen in this city, last night, when after 3 hrs., 7 min. of terrific wrestling he succeeded in pinning Jack Sampson of Chicago to the mat with a double arm scissors. The man displayed wonderful agility for heavyweights, Romanoff's wide variety of holds being offset by Sampson's strength. The big men tumbled around for two hours without the semblance of a fall, until Romanoff secured the fatal hold. This time he apparently had it the way he wanted it, as Sampson was unable to break loose, and was finally pinned to the mat.

Newsboys Put Brand on the Ball Crooks.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Newsboys of Boston today put themselves on record as condemning the Chicago baseball players, whose corruption in the last world series, they said, struck a "murderous blow at the kids' game."

They were as quick, however, to recognize the men who stood by the best principles of the sport and formal resolutions, which they adopted commended Ray Schalk and "Little Dick" Kerr "for their manly stand against the Benedict Arnolds of baseball."

It was a serious discussion for the boys, some of whom knew the players intimately. One had carried bats for "Joe" Jackson to obtain admission to the grounds when the outfielder played here, and another had borrowed the glove of "Eddie" Cicotte for fielding practice while the pitcher took his turn at bat. All had followed closely the exposures at Chicago, which toppled over their idols, and a special meeting of the Roosevelt Newsboys' Club was called between morning and evening deliveries to consider the matter. Their resolutions follow:

"Resolved: That the eight White Sox players be condemned and punished for their murderous blow at the kids' game, and be it further resolved that Ray Schalk and Dick Kerr be commended for their manly stand against the Benedict Arnolds of baseball."

ON LAST LAP IN THE BIG LEAGUES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The scheduled games in the National and American Leagues today were postponed on account of rain. The clubs will resume play tomorrow with the American League race still undecided, while the remaining contests in the National League will be merely a formality of playing out the schedule, the Brooklyn team clinched the pennant Tuesday.

Cleveland, with four games to play, leads Chicago in the American League, by one and one-half games, and in order to capture the pennant, must win three of the four games, provided the White Sox win their three remaining games. If Cleveland breaks even in the four games, and the White Sox win their three, the two teams would finish their schedules on even terms, while the White Sox would win the pennant if they defeat St. Louis three straight and Cleveland drops three out of the four games with Detroit.

Another possibility of the race is that of the Chicago Club, dropping to a tie with the New York Yanks for second place, which would result if the White Sox lose all three contests with St. Louis.

TO BEGIN SOCCER SEASON.

The Overseas and the United soccer teams will begin their 1920 season with a match game on the Hazard playground next Saturday at 1:30 p.m. To reach the grounds take Sierra Vista car and get off at Charlotte street.

August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds, last year's pennant winners, and former chairman of the National Baseball Commission, who was asked by the grand jury to present whatever documents he may have bearing on the 1919 series, and Clyde Elliott, motion-picture man who aided Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, in his investigation of the series, are to be the next witnesses before the grand jury, it was said tonight. It was also asserted that efforts would be made to obtain statements from two additional White Sox players who have been suspended as to their part in "throwing" games.

GANDIL SURPRISED.

HOUSTON (Tex.) Sept. 30.—"It is impossible for me to believe that Joe Jackson and Williams have said what the newspapers credit them with saying," said "Chick" Gandil this morning in a statement issued at the hospital in Lufkin, Tex., where he is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

"If Williams has given out such a statement, he has been untruthful and I shall give him a little trouble proving this stuff when I can get out of the hospital," Gandil continued. "It is not going to be necessary for anyone to come down here after me to get me back to Chicago, for that is where I am going just as soon as my physician will allow me."

When Gandil read the statement declaring him to be the go-between of the 1919 world's series gambling conspiracy, he declared "that is a lie and the perpetrator shall have an opportunity to show his hand. I have never been guilty of anything like this. Furthermore, I am not the one who engineered the frame-up, if there was one."

CINCINNATI (O.) Sept. 30.—County Prosecutor Capelle will go to Chicago tonight to obtain first-hand information upon any alleged Cincinnati end to the baseball scandal.

Private information which has come to him as to the alleged placing of "sure-thing" bets in Cincinnati, and reports as to alleged attempts to tamper with one or more Cincinnati players during the present season are responsible for his latest move in preparation for a grand jury inquiry, he said.

ON PLAYER PURCHASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI (O.) Sept. 30.—The National Baseball Commission has decided that no purchase or release of players from minor league clubs will be approved until after the close of the minor league drafting period, which expires October 10, according to a notice to all major league clubs given out by Secretary John E. Bruce, of the commission, here today.

EDESON TO DIRECT.

METRO SIGNS NOTED ACTOR TO MAKE PICTURES.

By Grace Kingsley.

Not for nothing has Robert Edeson come West to take up picture work. As a matter of fact the announcement was made yesterday by Metro that Mr. Edeson is to be made a director. He visited the studio yesterday, and made the rounds of the six-blocks maze in order to learn the geography of the place. Also to learn the new pass system now in vogue out there, which won't even allow a star to enter a set without a pass.

Mr. Edeson's engagement to direct as well as play was brought about as the result of a social call on Bayard Veiller, chief of productions for Metro, the other day.

At the conclusion of his engagement with "Mamma's Affair," in San Francisco, Mr. Edeson came to Los Angeles to visit the playwright-producer.

Half an hour after the noted actor's arrival he had been persuaded to attach his signature to a contract under which he will appear in the leading male role with May Allison in her new picture, "Are Wives to Blame?"

Then Mr. Veiller proposed that Edeson bring his twenty-five years of experience on the speaking stage to bear on the making of pictures. At first Mr. Edeson struggled against a move that meant abandoning his life career as a player. Later he agreed, but only with the proviso that he also don the grease paint once in a while, in spite of his directorial role.

Although Mr. Edeson is best known because of his years on the legitimate stage, he is far from unknown to screen followers. One of his most important picture successes was in Lasky's "The Call of the North," while his other screen successes include leading roles in Vitagraph and Pathe and Selznick features.

No statement has been made by Mr. Veiller as to his plans for Mr. Edeson following his appearance with Miss Allison, but it is probable that he will assume the role of director in the first of the next round of Metro productions.

Carl Ullman a Benedict.

Romance is once more rampant in the film world. Now it's the husky and handsome Carl Ullman, who has taken unto himself a wife. The bride's name was Edna M. Whitson, she is a nonprofessional, and the pair were married yesterday.

Chaplin Bulletin.

After all, quoting from exclusive telegraphic word just received from New York, Charlie Chaplin has not gone abroad. Further word is to the effect that nobody, including himself, seems to know what he is going to do.

Doraldina and the Preacher.

By just what freak of ironic fortune Doraldina, the noted dancer of wiggly dances, ever happened to be domiciled under a roof with a Methodist minister it is hard to say. Nevertheless, that farce comedy situation has come about, with Mlle. Doraldina and her husband occupying an upper apartment and the minister a lower one.

Quite traditionally the two callings don't mix, even if the Methodists lately have taken the ban off dancing and let all the dead and gone dancers out of h—l. The trouble was, Doraldina declared, that said minister insisted on rising early Sunday morning to rehearse his sermon, while naturally a dancer likes to get her beauty sleep on that day.

The other day Doraldina, who is nothing if not frank, went to the preacher and labored with him to cease his Sunday morning eloquence. To which the preacher responded:

King Vidor Understudies Cook.

Mr. Cook, the famous tourist, hasn't anything on King Vidor these days for all those actors in Vidor's company will be much traveled folk. They left for Truckee last night, in the interests of art and Vidor's next picture, whence they will go to Salt Lake City, then on up into Canada. David Butler is playing the lead in the picture, with Colleen Moore opposite.

As there is to be much riding in the feature, Miss Moore has been exchanging the comforts of her new Cadillac limousine for the back of a rough old rangy horse, but she said yesterday she felt she was still in the kindergarten riding class.

Sounds Reasonable.

Frits Leiber, playing the lead in a big Fox production, was called out on the set, the other day, by the designer of the clothes, to view some of the beginning-late-and-ending-early costumes used in the picture.

"I designed them," said the proud lady.

Sessue Hayakawa in North.

Sessue Hayakawa and his company, under direction of Colin Campbell, have returned to Los Angeles after a week in San Francisco, where they were procuring some water and dock stuff for the Japanese star's latest picture for Robertson-Cole, the working title of which is "East Is East."

Dusty in a Hurry.

Farnum at present is hastily putting the finishing touches to "The Trail of the Axe" at Brunton studio.

"EARTHBOUND" SHOWS.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY CLEVERLY SHROUDED AT MILLER'S.

By Edwin Schallert.

Every time that things grow dull in the dramatic or picture realm somebody finds a new way of taking the tragic out of tragedy, and putting over a serious thought without seeming to do so. In general, the result is stimulating and gratifying to a public who likes to be serious-minded without having to endure any unnecessary worry on account of it.

If for no other reason, "Earthbound," the Basil King Eminent Authors' production, which had its first showing last night at Miller's Theater, should attain a wide vogue. Mr. King has skillfully started with a catastrophe and ended with the dove of peace hovering over the fadeout in his drama of life after death. What is really a sorry and sordid debacle with the unwritten law as its inspiration, becomes as a consequence of the theme's treatment, a soulful and stately pageant of illuminating thought, bringing solace and calm, rather than a tempestuous emotional surge.

"Earthbound" comes about as near an exemplification of spiritualism on the screen as any picture to date. But yet no one can actually say that it is spiritualism. The attribute of conscience, plus the Hamletian dogma that "there are more things in heaven and earth than dreamed of in your philosophy," will throw all the icy water necessary on any accusation of resurrecting spooks that might be brought against the author.

The theory advanced in the play concerning the individual man bound to earth through his own error finds a parallel, as Mr. King himself avers, in a number of religions. He has given the theory concrete form for the sake of evolving a play.

There is plenty of clash and drama in the business of home-breaking as a rule, and this is what the red blood part of "Earthbound" is concerned with. The paler portion of the story has to do with the man's righting of the wrong he committed.

The production reveals a fine scene of ghost-like scenes. It is a technical tour de force with the double exposure as the primary medium. Settings and method reveal an adroit precision on the part of T. Hayes Hunter, for it is shadow drama at its shadowiest. Particularly notable are the variations in the ghost-like presence's luminosity, effectively used at times to produce the idea of materialization. There are, however, one or two points where this is not properly emphasized.

Anyone who can make an apparition seem real deserves credit for more than mere cleverness. Wyndham Standing is about the most natural ghost you could desire to see.

Naomi Childers is finely emotional in portraying the rather weak character of the wife. Flora Revalles is admirably selected for the other wife, the unmerciful vamp. Mahlon Hamilton, Alec B. Francis, Lawson Butt and Billie Cotton deserve special mention.

There are moments when less of an adagio of tempo might be desired in this picture, but it has the quality of being enthralling in its spiritual appeal, to which appeal it is not difficult temporarily to adjust your viewpoint.

ANNOUNCE OPENING OF NEW THEATER.

The opening night of Gore Bros. and Sol Lesser's new Ambassador Theater will take place on New Year's Eve, according to present anticipations. The occasion will be distinguished by one of the most brilliant "first-night" audiences in American theatrical history, it is hoped. Prominent people of the social, business and theatrical world will form the audience.

Last Thursday morning the Gore Bros and Mr. Lesser, with their entire stage and technical staffs, went over the entire plans of the theater. All seats are to be patterned after the Kinema loges, allowing wide spaces between aisles and seat rows. One of the features will be the installment of lighting fixtures. The stage is to be bathed in seven colors arranged after the "rainbow" effect.

A feature of the mechanical stage effects will be the movable floor, which will allow for the construction of mountain and grotto effects. It is stated that it will be possible to dismantle the entire scenic investiture in five seconds with the movable floor arrangement.

The side walls of the theater are to have mural paintings, paneled and high-lighted and so draped fit with velvet curtains that they may at the first entrance of audiences be entirely hidden from view. When the people are seated these curtains will be drawn aside to reveal the murals. The seating capacity will be 750.

It is announced that if the First National releasing schedule is so timed Allan Holubar's initial production for the organization, "Man, Woman and Marriage," with Dorothy Phillips in the leading role, will be given its premiere at the opening.

Soloist with Orchestra.

Mme. Anna Ruzena Sprotte, the contralto, has been engaged as soloist for the symphony orchestra concert to be given Sunday at Grauman's Theater. She will sing the aria, "Know'st Thou That Sweet Land?" from Thomas's opera, "Mignon."

Misha Guterson will make his debut as conductor of the orchestra Sunday.

MacDonald With Lewis.

Wallace MacDonald, who plays the leading male role in "Trumpet Island," which is to commence showing at Tally's tomorrow, has been engaged by Edgar Lewis to portray the featured role in his next production. The company will leave the early part of next week for either Oregon or Montana location. They will be absent for one week.

REVIVE OLD SPANISH WAYS.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

...ys of old have come to life ... the series of festivals be... in the patio of the old Plaza ... Señoritas clad in the garb ... old Spain, twang guitars and ... Spanish songs, distribute fav... and chances, wait on tables and preside over booths, where needle-work of the days gone by—brought down to date—is displayed by the hand of the Goddess of Fortune.

If, as you wander amid the tropic trees and plants, inhaling the fragrance of night-blooming jasmine and spicy pinks, listening to the faint tinkle of Spanish music timed to the sparkling fall of the old patio fountain, you are assailed by a quick rap on the head and your eyes are blinded by a snowstorm of brilliant coloring—you may know that you are favored beyond many. According to the old Spanish custom, the cascarones are spilled over only the most popular. To drip with oro-pel, fluttering from-out a gayly decorated eggshell, prepared by experts in this line, is to take rank as a distinguished visitor. In old days, these shells were perfumed as well as colorful.

Garcias and Jalomas, clad in dainty paper costumes, vend these favors as graciously as did their forebears. Garcias also prepare the wondrous dishes—tamales, enchiladas, frijoles—as only these dishes can be prepared when recipes are heirlooms and when practiced hands manipulate the condiments.

A visit to the old Plaza Church just now is a visit to Spanish California of the olden days. Entire families are there, from the children in arms to the old grandames with their black mantillas and rebozos and it is as if by some enchantment one were actually swung backward to those old historic days.

The purpose of the festival, which will be continued today and tomorrow from noon to midnight, is to restore the old Plaza Church and to pay debts incurred in restorations already completed.

The Rev. Father Andres Rea, the priest in charge of this parish, beams happily upon the patio throngs, for it is dear to his heart, this restoration.

Not only are the culinary arts available at these festivals, but the handicrafts of the olden days are there. Marvelously embroidered satin quilts, knitting and crochet, dolls dressed as only careful fingers can attire dolls, old-fashioned rugs, and other articles of value and of historic interest are spread for the delight of the investigating and investing spectator.

NEW RANGER ON THE JOB.

Chief Clerk Lackey of the local forest office installed Ray McCormick in the job of forest ranger in the Arroyo Seco yesterday. Mr. McCormick takes the place vacated by the detachment of Ranger Marx from active duty to have charge of the forestry service exhibit at the State Fair in Sacramento and a number of county fairs throughout California.

DREAD DISEASE IS CONQUERED.

Apparent Cure for Leprosy is Found by Doctors.

Government Experts Get Results in Experiments.

No Official Claim Made, but Cases Are Cited.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Leprosy, a scourge of humanity since early history, apparently has been conquered by officers of the United States Public Health Service in the leper colony at Kalihi, Hawaii. Forty-eight sufferers of the dreaded malady, who have been subjected to a new method of treatment, have recovered to such extent as to warrant their release on parole and, after a year, not one has shown a symptom of recurrence.

As yet, no announcement of a "cure" has been made officially, for none of the government medical experts are frankly skeptical of the results. It may be years before an official and final opinion is given.

The limit of the official claim is set forth in a joint report to the Public Health Service made by Dr. J. T. McDonald, director of the leprosy investigation station and superintending physician to Kalihi Hospital, and by President A. L. Dean of the University of Hawaii, as follows:

FIND VALUABLE AGENT.

"It has been sufficiently established that chaulmoogra oil contains one or more agents which exert a marked therapeutic action in many cases of leprosy. We cannot say as yet that the disease is cured, since we have no test adequate to establish such a verdict. Whether or not the apparent cures are real and permanent, it is evident that we have a valuable agent at our disposal in the control of the disease."

Chaulmoogra oil in its crude state is no new drug for the treatment of leprosy, but in its raw form it proved so nauseating and painful to patients that it had to be temporarily discontinued. Science turned toward its derivatives and Drs. McDonald and Dean report "It was found that the ethyl of the fatty acids were thin fluid oils lending themselves readily to intramuscular injections and were readily absorbed."

NEW HOPE FOR LEPER.

Injection of the oil derivative by a syringe has brought a new hope to the leper, for at Kalihi Hospital "injection day" is described by the doctors' report as an occasion for merry-making though of plainful experience for the sufferers.

"The standard treatment," the report says, "now consists in weekly injections of a preparation which consists of the mixed ethyl esters of the acids of chaulmoogra oil with 2 per cent of iodine in chemical combination. The amount used starts at one cubic centimeter and is gradually increased to a maximum of four or five cubic centimeters for adults."

Accessory treatments of iodine liniment, ointments and sun baths are employed as measures to improve the general health and mental attitude of the patients.

Drs. McDonald and Dean are of the opinion that leprosy of the nerve type as well as the nodular cases should receive the new treatment. They report astonishing results with the nerve cases.

"We believe our remedies arrest the disease," they say regarding the nerve cases, "and prevent further destruction of hands and fingers, even when, as in long-standing cases, normal function cannot be fully restored."

MARKED IMPROVEMENT.

"During the past year we have done better than simply arrest the destructive process; we have had the great satisfaction of seeing marked improvement in a considerable number of these purely nerual cases, and apparently a complete recovery in others. One young man who came in with a decidedly ataxic gait, unable to raise his body on his toes and with one hand so weak and deformed that he had been compelled to abandon the use of the typewriter a year before entering, so far improved before his parole that his disability in walking had not only disappeared, but he became one of the leading tennis players and one of the swiftest runners in the compound.

"A woman with all fingers absorbed to less than half their original length, after a year's treatment became able to write, to sew and knit, and to execute many movements and functions of which she had for years been deprived."

LESIONS DISAPPEAR.

Regarding the virulent form of leprosy, the doctors report that "in many cases the lesions disappear, except for scars and permanent injuries, and the leprosy bacillus can no longer be demonstrated."

In the continental United States, there are 200 known sufferers of leprosy, but public health officials believe that ten times that number exist, known only to the family doctor. The Louisiana State Leper Hospital at Carville has been bought by the government and the Public Health Service plans to enlarge it so as to provide facilities for the treatment of 500 patients. Dr. O. E. Dabney, who is expected to be placed in charge of the new hospital, plans to build the "best laboratory in the world" for the study of leprosy. Treatment like that given at Kalihi will be followed at the Louisiana hospital, and research also will be conducted with a view of discovering a new "cure" and for improving the new method.

FLEETS IN "BATTLE" GRIP.

Los Angeles and Southern California are believed to have been saved from enemy invasion by a daring maneuver on the part of naval defending forces last night.

Having reason to believe that a supposedly hostile force of considerable size was steaming toward Los Angeles Harbor to reduce its fortifications to debris and then capture the port, Rear-Admiral Wood moved his defending armada seventy or eighty miles out into the Pacific and took the offensive.

Although a strict censorship was established by Admiral Wood and no one aboard any of the vessels under his command was permitted to communicate with persons on land, the route taken by his forces was reported by the crews of craft that put into the harbor last night.

While verification was lacking, it was reported from sources that have hitherto proved reliable that the battleships and destroyers composing the enemy forces were sighted about dusk and were subjected to terrific fire from naval airplanes and submarines and to broadsides from the guns of Admiral Wood's dreadnaughts. Several of the hostile craft were reported sunk by encountering mine fields.

At an early hour this morning the battle was still raging and full details will not be known until the defenders' return to the harbor tomorrow.

tle at the last minute attempted to save the giant airship by pulling the rip cord to empty the big gas bag, but the cord broke and the lieutenant narrowly escape injury or death.

The C-5 eventually dropped into the sea, eighty-five miles off the coast of Newfoundland. A British steamer first sighted the runaway and sent a radio to the United States Navy Department, which sent the destroyer Edwards to salvage the lost dirigible if possible. The ship herself was a total loss, though no one was on board and no loss of life resulted.

The great silver bag of the dirigible, following the accident, lay sprawled out like a punctured toy balloon on the side of the mountain about 300 feet from the top, and about 1000 feet from a precipitous drop into the ravine just south of Laurel Canyon.

BRUSH SAVED LIVES.

The heavy brush where the dirigible finally settled after bumping for some time along a high, narrow ridge made it exceedingly difficult for the several Hollywood citizens and members of the police department to effect a rescue of the men who were first rushed to the Receiving Hospital and later transferred to the Naval Hospital.

It was necessary for detectives from Los Angeles and Hollywood who carried the most seriously wounded down the mountainside on their shoulders, to climb through heavy undergrowth to the summit before the path leading to the canyon road about one mile below could be reached.

Chief Machinist Mate Fry stated last night at San Diego that the first intimation of danger was when the gondola of the blimp struck the mountain cliff. He said the impact yanked the suspension cables loose and sent the men catapulting down the mountain on the sides of a 200-foot canyon. Lieut. McDonald was praised by him for his presence of mind in pulling the rip cord that released the gas in the bag. The blimp B-18 started out from San Diego with the C-6, but turned back because of the fogs.

Several of the rescuers, who stumbled down the precipitous way, fainted from their exertions after the injured airmen had been placed in waiting ambulances. When all the injured had been carried down, ambulances from Los Angeles and Hollywood rushed them to the Receiving Hospital. Lieut. McDonald's was such that a general anesthetic had to be administered to set the broken ankle bones.

Three motor trucks and fifty sailors from the San Pedro naval base were ordered to the scene of the accident to clear away the wreckage.

LARGE DAMAGE AWARD.

Ten Thousand to Relatives of Woman Killed in P. E. Collision.

A jury in Judge Monroe's court yesterday awarded relatives of Mrs. Gladys R. Griffey $10,000 damages against the Pacific Electric Company, held to be responsible for her death in a collision between one of its cars and an automobile at Fourth avenue and Sixteenth street, February 28, last. Attorney L. D. Collings and Attorney George Shreve represented the plaintiffs.

The jury decided that of the $10,000, Frederick W. Rhodes, her father, should receive $8000, while Mrs. Margaret Rhodes, her mother, and Roy B. Griffey, her husband, were entitled to $1000 each. The father was given eight times as much as the husband because he is aged and infirm and was thoroughly dependent upon his daughter, who acted as housekeeper and companion for him. The mother has been separated from the father for a long time and is living in Kansas.

Before the suit for damages for Mrs. Griffey's death began, the jury heard evidence in the father's suit for $50,000 damages for personal injuries to himself in the same collision. It was found that he was guilty of contributory negligence by driving his automobile along the car tracks and he was denied damages, although his ankle was broken and his machine wrecked.

FREE FROM HUSBAND WHO PUT HER ASIDE.

"I went back to my former home in Kentucky because my father was ill, and when I returned my husband said he did not care to live with me any more. He moved to a hotel and I went to an apartment-house," testified Mrs. Nellie G. Powell, who was granted a divorce from Thomas B. Powell in Judge Crail's court yesterday. The court awarded her alimony of $100 a month.

Mr. Powell was sent for before the alimony was fixed. He told the court he did not care to make a defense against his wife's charges.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Parade.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—A parade yesterday of 40,000 Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah was the outstanding feature of the annual communication of the sovereign grand lodge and the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the order in this State. A crowd, estimated by the police to be 200,000, viewed the stream of marchers and floats, which took nearly five hours to pass a given point.

GO EAST FOR HONEYMOON.

Miss Vera Dilling, buyer of gloves and hosiery for Bullock's, was married on September 28 to Edgar Perry, also of Bullock's. Mr. and Mrs. Perry went East on a wedding trip. Mr. Perry is in charge of the personnel department at Bullock's.

Oriental Rugs Taken Away by Beach Thieves.

Burglars conducted two successful raids in Santa Monica last night. Among articles reported to the police as having been removed from residences in the high-rent district were three valuable oriental rugs, a phonograph, more than $100 worth of records and much wearing apparel.

Homes occupied by Mrs. James Hill, 321 Georgina avenue, and Mrs. L. Lewis in Santa Monica Canyon were burglarized during the absence of the occupants. In both instances glass was removed from large windows and other details point to the fact that the thefts were committed by the same persons.

The rugs were taken from the Hill home and are reported to be worth $500 each. In addition, a fur coat and wearing apparel valued at $200 was taken. Mrs. Lewis reported the loss of the phonograph and records and a large quantity of valuable clothing.

TWO TAKE POISON.

One Woman May Die, But Other is Expected to Recover.

Mrs. Christine Erickson, age 30 years, of 3783 Harvard Boulevard, is hovering between life and death at the White Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Vera A. Lyda, 38, of 146 West Fifty-third street, is severely ill at her home, as the result of swallowing bichloride of mercury tablets yesterday morning.

At the Receiving Hospital, where both women were treated, it was said that Mrs. Lyda will probably recover.

Detectives Parsons and Thompson report that the women had both engaged in quarrels before taking the poison. Mrs. Erickson, they said, had attended a dance the preceding evening, leaving her two children with her mother. Despondency was given as the reason for the attempts at suicide in both cases.

BROUGHT FROM PANAMA

Remains of Former Angeleno Will be Buried here Today.

Funeral service for Leland S. Putman, who died in a hospital in the City of Panama on August 28, will be conducted at Forest Lawn Cemetery at 10:30 a.m., today. Rev. Rayland of the First Congregational Church and Rev. Erasmus Bransford of the Hollywood Methodist Church will officiate at the services at the grave.

Mr. Putnam, who died after a stroke of apoplexy, was in business in Los Angeles for a number of years before engaging in the lumber industry in Panama, thirteen years ago. He was a brother of Mrs. Nathan Newby, of 1657 Gramercy Place, and his wife and daughter were visiting Mrs. Newby when they received news of his death.

SHRINERS TO FROLIC.

Rodeo will be Feature of Al Malaikah Fall Festival.

A Wild West show, staged by Tom Mix and his troupe of cowboys, will be one of the features of the ceremonial and fall festival to be held by Al Malaikah Temple of the Mystic Shrine at Orange County Park on October 9.

A number of candidates will be initiated into the order, following which a Moslem feast will be served. The banquet committee promises "rare and tempting viands prepared from the products of the Sultan's gardens and sacred goat herds." After a business meeting and a ceremonial session, the rodeo, consisting of daring feats of horsemanship, roping contests and broncho "busting," will be put on.

SAYS ORDER'S GROWTH HAS BEEN PHENOMENAL

The growth in the membership of the Royal Arcanum during the past two years has been almost phenomenal, R. Francis MacKenzie, Deputy Supreme Regent of the order, last night told the members of Elysian Council, No. 1779, at a special meeting called in honor of him.

The finances of the order are also in excellent shape and the order, generally speaking, is in better condition than ever before, he stated.

Mr. MacKenzie was introduced to the members of the local council by Arthur W. Kennedy, Grand Regent for California. Mr. Kennedy also made a short talk on the order. An entertainment preceded the addresses.

IN REGULAR ARMY.

McKeeby Receives Commission as Lieutenant-colonel.

George L. McKeeby, former assistant United States District Attorney here and at one time City Prosecutor, has received his commission as a lieutenant-colonel in the Regular Army, according to information received yesterday by A. G. Bartlett. Mr. McKeeby practiced law here for years before the war. After hostilities commenced he volunteered and was sent to Camp Lewis and put in charge of the depot brigade. He was then transferred to Camp Dix, N. J. After the signing of the armistice he went to Washington to take an appointment in the department of the Judge-Advocate-General.

SKULL STARTS CRIME THRILL.

New "Murder Mystery" Find Proved to Date Back Twenty Years.

Another "murder mystery" thrilled the police department for a few hours late yesterday afternoon when Detectives Stevens and Church of University Police Station reported that the skull and five bones of a man had been exhumed by laborers excavating for a sewer in front of 1024 West Seventieth street.

Doctors who examined the bones declared that the man had been dead nearly twenty years and the police breathed easier. The remains were ordered sent to the Utter & Ruppe undertaking parlors by Coronor Williams.

The "detective" who unearthed the mystery was Frank Garcia of 804 Bushs street, who was working for B. D. Zaich of 830 West Fifty-sixth street, a sewer contractor.

Identified by Banker as Man Who Drew Cash.

Joseph Decker, alias E. B. Chandler, was identified yesterday in Justice Brown's court by Victor H. Rosetti of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, as the man who appeared at the bank and posed as E. B. Chandler, a wealthy business man of San Antonia, Tex., and presented what are asserted to be forged letters of credit.

The letters of credit are said to be for $25,000, and Decker, charged with being a noted bunko man, is said to have obtained $12,500 from the bank. He was given credit for $14,000, said Mr. Rosetti.

The case was continued until the 7th inst., so that Warren L. Williams, defense attorney, might cross-examine the witness, and for additional testimony.

RUNAWAY BOYS AGAIN IN CUSTODY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 30.—Isadore Fulkovitch, 18, and Louis Villagran, 16, fugitives from Juvenile Hall, Los Angeles, were arrested at Santa Maria, and are to be turned back to the Los Angeles authorities. They confess to the theft of two bicycles in Los Angeles, riding them to Triunfo, that county. They broke into a garage on a hill near there, ran out a car, and coasted to the foot of the grade. Having no key for the car they abandoned it and continued on the stolen bicycles to Ventura.

At Ventura they stole a car and drove it to Santa Barbara. Running short of gasoline here they abandoned the Ventura car and stole a car belonging to the Rev. W. F. S. Nelson of Santa Maria, who happened to be visiting in this city. This car they abandoned thirty-seven miles north of Santa Barbara, and stole a third car on the Doheney ranch. Riding all night they finally reached Santa Maria, and there stole the overcoat of the night watchman. After that they drove a few miles further north, and went to sleep under the coat in the yard of a deputy sheriff.

They were discovered next morning by the deputy sheriff, who recognized the night watchman's overcoat, and through this discovery their career, which had left a trail of abandoned automobiles and bicycles from Santa Maria to Los Angeles was brought to an end.

AFTER LONG SERVICE.

Veteran Police Officer Quits Post at Riverside.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 30.—For the first time in his long career as a peace officer, John Baird, court bailiff under Sheriff F. P. Wilson, has been compelled to quit work on account of illness. He has filed his resignation which takes effect tomorrow, and the veteran officer feels it will mark the last day of a lifetime spent in the role of a police officer.

Baird gained distinction for his arrest of the Cummings boys for the cold-blooded murder of T. C. Narramore at his Box Springs ranch, twenty-five years ago. He came to this city from Kansas forty years ago, and at the age of 72 looks back on an almost unbroken record in the service of the city or county as a peace officer since his arrival.

OIL IN DRY HOLE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FULLERTON, Sept. 30.—Kraemer well No. 25 of the Standard oil lease is flowing 2000 barrels today and getting stronger after coming in Monday night when it started flowing a few barrels the flow gradually increasing since. The well is 4100 feet and proves the deep oil sand of the Placentia Richfield district. This well was abandoned at 3500 feet as a dry hole. Other wells in that ocality were drilled to the deep sand and were successful, which caused the company to drill this dry well and as a result it has one of the best gushers in the field.

Native Sons to Fill All Posts on Sea Fighter.

The new superdreadnaugh California, now being completed at the Mare Island navy yard at San Francisco, is to be manned solely by native sons of California, according to an announcement made yesterday at the office of Mayor Snyder by Commander T. A. Symington, in charge of the local naval recruiting office.

The State-wide campaign to secure recruits for the most powerful battleship in the American or any other navy starts tomorrow, and each section of the State has been assigned a quota. The Los Angeles county quota is 250 out of the 1000 men to be secured. The remaining 600 men of the ship's crew of 1600 will be native sons who are now in the Navy.

Recruiting meetings for the California will be held in all parts of the State, and Gov. Stephens will make speeches in various sections during the campaign. The first native son signed up for the California is the famous grizzly bear mascot of the Ninety-first Division, which accompanied that unit of fighting men to France and was twice wounded in action. Some of the larger guns of the California saw service in France as long-range shore batteries.

Lieut.-Commander G. M. Weichelt yesterday opened the campaign in Los Angeles for California recruits in a talk at the City Club.

The smoker that was announced for last night at the Chamber of Commerce, at which plans of the campaign for recruiting for the new battleship California were to have been discussed, has been postponed until a later date.

In order that those who work half a day Saturdays may participate, the greater part of the entertainment will be staged in the afternoon and evening.

The complete list of committee chairmen was announced yesterday by J. M. Cannon, general chairman of Historical Harbor Pageant Committee. They are: Finance, J. T. Gaffey, C. J. Adair; publicity, I. G. Lewis; construction, Capt. John Mel, U.S.N.R., retired; illumination, J. Walsworth; ladies' auxilliary, Mrs. A. M. Brouse; reception, Ray Mitchell; parade, C. H. Cleveland; sports, Carl Haney; police, Capt. W. L. Spellman of the police department; music, A. H. Brown; boats, Mrs. C. M. Adair; invitations, Mrs. Florence Shuckman; pageant, T. H. Elson; yacht races, Clarence Neuner; historian, Luther Ingersoll.

Garnet Holme, who staged the Pilgrimage Play and is well known for his University of California pageants, will have complete charge of the historical reproductions, including the afternoon presentation of Cabrillo's life and the water events at night, when his phantom ship will return to revisit Los Angeles Harbor.

Admiral Rodman and Gen. Liggett are expected to co-operate and have magnificent military maneuvers staged. Senator Phelan is to be the speaker of the day. There will be a banquet aboard one of the Shipping Board vessels.

With little more than a week left for the choosing of the queen by popular vote, the fair candidates will meet at luncheon today to start on the last lap of their campaigns.

It will be a ceremony of great solemnity and will be witnessed by members of all denominations of Southern California. Dr. Stevens will act as assistant to Rt. Rev Bishop Joseph H. SIX DIE, FOUR HURT. AS TRAIN RUNS AWAY.

HEAVY TOLL IS TAKEN IN ACCIDENT NEAR PIEDMONT, MONT.

BUTTE, Sept. 30.—Engineer A. E. Muts and five unidentified men were killed and Brakeman Joe Gormley and three unidentified men injured at Piedmont last night when several empty cars of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul freight train broke away and crashed into a gravel train.

The presumption of officials was that the unidentified dead and injured had been stealing a ride on the train. The belief is that the couplings became unfastened in some way and forty cars, on the steep up-grade, backed down hill. The gravel train was parked at Piedmont when the runaway cars crashed into it.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30.—The recent period of depression in the rubber industry was characterized as "nothing more serious than growing-in pains" by James Newton Gunn, vice-president of the United States Rubber Company, in an address before the National Safety Council. EXASPERATING? EXACTLY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—Two boys are held in Juvenile Court, but no charge is docketed against them. It was this way: They decided to have an egg battle, secured several dozen eggs, repaired to an empty room and there had it out. Police arrived as the last eggs were being thrown.

ANTISUFFRAGETTES KEEP ORGANIZATION.

WILL CONTEST ELECTIONS, WARN WOMEN VOTERS TO WAIT COURT VERDICT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The board of directors of the National Association opposed to Woman Suffrage announced at a meeting today that "with or without the ballot" the national association and twenty-eight State associations are preparing to maintain themselves as "permnent, independent" bodies. The closing of New York headquarters and re-establishment of headquarters in Washington, D. C., also were announced.

A bulletin sent to members was made public. It stated that the constitutionality of the Nineteenth Amendment is now in the courts for decision and that further suits are in preparation. It declared that "the power to amend the Constitution has not been exercised by the requisite three-fourths of the State Legislatures (especially Tennessee, West Virginia and Missouri) in a valid and legal manner."

In male suffrage States, the bulletin added, women may register, but if they vote before Supreme Court decisions are handed down, a contested election may result. In doubtful suffrage States women voters are urged to remember that the men who have worked for the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment are politically unsound and not to be trusted and regardless of party to support those men who have faithfully upheld the constitution."

HOODLUMS AT MEETING WILL GO UNPUNISHED.

AGITATORS BROKE UP PILGRIM TERCENTENARY CELEBRATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—No official action will be taken against agitators who interfered with last night's meeting of delegates to the tercentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims, Alton B. Parker announced tonight.

Mr. Parker presided at the session which was invaded by members of the American Women Pickets for the Enforcement of America's War Aims. Disturbances, Mr. Parker said, were not directed at any of the speakers and continued throughout the meeting. It was not true, he said, that Samuel Gompers was forced to stop speaking.

In a statement issued tonight, Mrs. Gertrude Corliss, president of the pickets' organization, dendied that women under her direction were responsible for the disorders.

"There were only six of us," she said. "We merely displayed banners, pursuing our policy of silent protest against what we consider an attempt to Anglicize America. We intend to show up the other side of British propaganda.

"The disturbances were caused by Anglo-American members of the Pilgrim, organization, who shouted insults at women pickets. One woman was actually choked by several men and was rescued only when soldiers and sailors rushed to her aid from the platform."

Gasoline today is a pretty crude product — it is of a low grade and leaves a sickening smell. We figured that most folks object to this smell and we set to work to overcome it. SAYS TRACTOR SHOW'S WINNER.

Accomplishments Praised at Managers' Meeting.

Asserts This Logical Place for National Exhibit.

Los Angeles has every reason to be proud of the phenomenal success of the recent Tractor Show as a civic accomplishment, as a stimulus to an important industry and as an educational factor, according to Guy H. Hall of Kansas City, who directed the exhibition.

At the final meeting of the managers of the show yesterday Mr. Hall said the attendance, financial results and the tremendous impetus given the automotive implement industry convinced him that all future tractor shows here would be foreordained successes and that Los Angeles is the logical place to stage the National Tractor Show of the West.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of the Tractor and Implement Dealers' Association of Southern California which arranged this year's show," said Mr. Hall. "The members are entitled to a vast deal of credit for what they accomplished and all Los Angeles should be proud of their achievement. I have staged the five big national tractor shows thus far held in this country, but the Los Angeles exhibition was a revelation to me.

"In Kansas City, for instance, we started our first show with 20,000 feet of exhibition space and our attendance was between 40,000 and 45,000 at our fifth show. The Los Angeles show had 100,000 feet of exhibition space, five times as much as Kansas City started with, and the attendance at this first successful show here was as great as we were able to build up there in five years. The beginning has been auspicious and progress consummate successes in the future.

"The results here were all the more remarkable because it was what we call a 'still show,' there being no field demonstrations. Notwithstanding that fact, the greatest possible interest was manifested by farmers, dealers and manufacturers' representatives. More than 100 exhibitors had displays and the implements shown numbered at least 400. The management should feel the utmost gratification over the attendance and the personnel of the crowds because there were no amusement features and everyone who attended was interested in tractors. Some of the exhibitors were so interested in the show that they sent their implements here by express and had their best demonstrators at the show.

"The show was educational to both the farmers and dealers, informing the former how automotive machinery can simplify and expedite his work, and giving the latter a good idea as to what the farmers want or expect. It also served as a good lesson to manufacturers, affording them an opportunity to learn from farmers and dealers what kind of machinery will best meet the California needs. A number of sales were made, numerous orders were given, and I am convinced that one of the immediate results of the show will be the establishment of branch houses, assembly shops or manufacturing plants in the vicinity of Los Angeles. There is a great field for automotive machinery in California, and the tractor show this year has served to bring the manufacturers and prospective buyers and users together in Los Angeles, which seems to me to be the logical place for manufacture and distribution."

Business Here for Uncle Sam Booming Along.

The September report of the activities of the United States custom and internal revenue offices at the Federal Building, and the quarterly report of the Los Angeles postoffice, all of which were issued yesterday, show a splendid increase in business.

The quarterly sales at the postoffice aggregate $965,371.57, as compared with $691,371.57, for the corresponding quarter last year, or an increase of more than 30 per cent.

The receipts by months during the last quarter were as follows: July, $328,340.69; August, $324,100.34; September, $312,730.54.

The sales of War Savings Stamps from January 1 to August 31 were $120,269.59; the September sales were but $2228.20. The redemptions from January 1 to August 31 were $851,624.63, total from January 1, to September 30, $940,704.10. The September redemptions were $89,068.47. These indicate that the redemptions overtop the sales at the ratio of almost eight to one.

The collections in the internal revenue department for the month ending last night were $5,530,996.58, composed as follows: Income tax collections, $7,216,112.69; miscellaneous, $1,814,882.87. The collections for the corresponding month last year aggregated $8,027,961.60, as follows: Income tax, $6,257,783.96; miscellaneous, $1,770,177.64.

The collections for September, 1920, were $75,720, as compared with $40,899.12, for the same month last year; the exports were $631,000, and those of September, 1919, were $1,363,614. The imports were $720,104 for September, 1920, as compared with $422,375 for September, 1919.

FIGHTER GARCIA NOT NABBED IN BAY CITY.

Frank Garcia, the well-known Los Angeles pugilist, was made the victim of a similarity of names in a telegraphic dispatch from San Francisco Wednesday telling of the arrest of Emanuel Garcia in the Bay City at the instance of Sheriff Cline. The prisoner was taken into custody on a charge of having committed a burglary at Alhambra. At the time the arrest of Emanuel was being made in San Francisco, Frank Garcia was in the ring at Vernon putting the finishing touches on Ernie Goozeman, another featherweight pugilist. The error which made it appear as though Frank Garcia had been arrested occurred in telegraphic transmission.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Liberty Bond Investors Lose Heavily by Carelessness; Business News.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Liberty Bond investors of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, holding approximately $67,000,000 worth of 4 per cent temporary bonds, are suffering an approximate annual loss of $167,000 because they have not presented their temporary bonds for conversion into 4 1-4 per cent permanent bonds, Gov. John U. Calkins of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco estimated yesterday. Every effort, Gov. Calkins pointed out, has been made to inform investors of their interest in the matter.

Local banks throughout the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, for individual investors free of charge, have spent thousands of dollars in advertising to spur their clients to exchange their temporary bonds for the permanent bonds carrying a higher rate of interest. Despite their efforts and the fact that the Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to terminate the privilege of converting the 4 per cent bonds on six months' public notice, $67,000,000 worth of securities remain unexchanged in this district.

Although the conversion privilege has not been withdrawn by the Secretary of the Treasury as yet, and six months' public notice of such withdrawal will be given before the privilege is terminated, to secure the benefit of 4 1-4 per cent from Nov. 15, 1920, holders of 4 per cent Second Loan Bonds must present them to any bank for conversion in order that the bank in turn may forward the bonds to reach the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco on or before Nov. 14, 1920. Four per cent Second Loan Bonds received by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco Nov. 15, 1920, or on or before May 14, 1921, will be converted, but the increased interest rate of one-quarter of one per cent will not become effective until May 15, 1921.

To secure the benefit of 4 1-4 per cent from Dec. 15, 1920, holders of 4 per cent First Loan Bonds may forward them to reach the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco on or before Dec. 14, 1920. Four per cent First Loan Bonds received by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco Dec. 15, 1920, or on or before June 14, 1921, will be converted, but the increased interest rate of one-quarter of one per cent will not become effective until June 15, 1921.

For temporary 4 per cent bonds presented, permanent 4 1-4 per cent bonds will be delivered.

THREE NEW ISSUES.

Three new bond issues are being offered today by the National City Company. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania is placing on the market an issue of $25,000,000, twenty-five-year first and refunding 7 per cent bonds, due Oct. 1, 1945. The bonds are to be sold at 95 and interest, to yield 7.45 per cent. Of $60,000,000 stock outstanding, 99.9 per cent is owned by the American Telegraph and Telephone Company. The Bell Telephone Company has paid dividends of not less than 6 per cent since 1880. The average net earnings of the company for the past seven years have amounted to $5,056,000. The issue is secured by properties having a book value, including plant and equipment, of $100,000,000. Blair & Co. and Carstens & Earles were among local participants.

PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC.

Cumulative preferred stock of the Philadelphia Electric Company, issued to bear 8 per cent, is also being offered by the National City Company. The proceeds of this issue will be used to complete plants now under construction on the Delaware River, in Philadelphia, and for necessary additional distribution facilities. For the period ended June, 30, 1920, the net earnings of the company amounted to $6,474,-498, leaving a balance, after payment of interest on the funded debt, and after deduction of dividend requirements, of $2,755,918. During the past five years the company has earned its dividend requirements over five times the amount necessary. The stock is to be sold at $25 per share and accrued dividend.

MISSISSIPPI BONDS.

A smaller issue, consisting of the bonds of the State of Mississippi, maturing serially from 1923 to 1943, is being offered at prices to yield from 5.30 to 5.70, according to the maturities. The bonds are exempt from the Federal income tax, and they are secured by taxes against all assessable property of the State, which is valued at more than $702,-000,000. The total bonded indebtedness of the State amounts to $6,732,-000, including this issue, or less than 1 per cent of the value of the assessable property.

FIRST DIVIDEND.

The Waring Hat Manufacturing Corporation will pay an initial dividend today on its preferred stock for the three months ending September 30. Stockholders of record on the 21st will participate.

AS OTHERS SEE IT.

The establishment of a relatively uniform level in the wages paid to labor throughout the world is an important post-war development with a vital bearing on the future position of the United States in foreign trade, according to the current issue of American Goods and Foreign Markets, the foreign trade review of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. This changed wage situation, due in large measure to the war, will exert a salutary influence on the movement of American goods, the bulletin says, tending to level world production costs and permitting this country's entrance into a freer competition with goods of foreign manufacture.

UNION OIL.

The official locale of the Union Oil Company, as well as the actual executive offices of the Union Oil Company are now in this city, the board of directors deciding to make the change from Oleum. The dividend meeting of the board will be held October 7, at which time it is expected that there will be an announcement of a stock dividend. The capitalization was doubled several months ago, and that action is thought to indicate such a declaration, although nothing has been given out by company heads.

H. C. OF OIL.

The price of oil has not been affected by the downward trend in commodity prices in general and there is no immediate prospect that it will be. There seems little basis for such a reduction as long as the demand exceeds the supply. There are said to be 6000 producing oil companies in California, and the cost of field operations has increased between 200 and 300 per cent during the past five years.

The State Mining Bureau estimates the total capital invested in the oil industry at about $320,000,-000 upon which dividends of $35,-418,551 were paid last year, or, at the rate of 11 per cent.

The total area of proved oil land is 91,792 acres or about 143 square miles. Upon this land there are 8928 producing wells, slightly more than ten acres per well. About two-thirds of the crude output is said to be refinable.

BOND MEN SMILE.

A visit to several investment bankers yesterday developed a feeling of optimistic cheer which has been partly lacking during some of the lean months. The market is undeniably stronger, and the demand improved. Investors are beginning to realize that the halcyon days are passing, and they are taking good issues in every line, which, of course, broadens the market. Rails, municipals, utilities, equipments and governments, domestic and foreign, are well taken.

The reception recently accorded the French loan, Bethlehem steel, and other big issues is pointed to by bond men as examples of the sound condition, while smaller issues which have been brought out and others which are being prepared will offer attractive possibilities.

The strictly speculative issues are not in such good demand, being more or less affected by the price cutting, but it is a fairly workable rule that a weak stock market, if continuing for any length of time, means a stronger bond market.

COPPER STOCKS MOVING.

There has recently been an improved demand for copper stocks, much of it coming from the small investor. There is a feeling that the red metal will soon come into its own when prices will advance to a point where the producers can supply a growing world market on a profitable basis.

SUCKER BAIT.

For some reason the Verde Valley, in Arizona, where the copper comes from, has been chosen as a likely dreamland by fake oil stock salesmen.

One circular which is being liberally circulated in the Northwest advertises a company which claims to hold 3000 acres in this "proven field, referred to by geologists of high standing, as one of the richest oil deposits in the world, with untold millions soon to be poured into the coffers of the small investor with vision enough to take advantage of the great opportunity."

Flamboyant mention is made of pools of liquid gold, and a rosy picture of suddenly acquired wealth is held out to all who venture. So far as this department is informed there is no oil in the Verde Valley in commercial quantity and no important drilling operations are under way. Arizona has suffered much from over enthusiastic extra dominion boosters with something to sell. It is a land of promise, rich in potential wealth, but it does not produce something for nothing, and The Times ventures a note of warning to the credulous to look before leaping.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

The soft side of the market continued to find accentuation in the trading yesterday, and the public appeared to be somewhat uncertain. This condition found reflection throughout the list. Following the action of Ford and other automobile manufacturers in cutting prices, a reduction in steel and perhaps in other raw materials is looked for soon, all of which is PRODUCE MARKET WEAK UNDER SLOW DEMAND.

FANCY POTATOES ARE FIRM, POORER GRADES DROP 10 CENTS PER HUNDRED.

Heavy arrivals and a weak demand had the effect of causing prices to drop sharply for some of the leading lines of fruits and vegetables during the session on the local produce market yesterday. Rail receipts continued in moderate supply, but country offerings were liberal, the latter being absorbed slowly by the trade. A slightly weaker undertone was in evidence for potatoes. Although fancy stock remained firm at the quotations of the preceding day, the inferior grades were selling at a decline of 10 cents per hundred. Arrivals continued in moderate proportions, however, and until supplies increase, no radical price change is expected.

Local corn dropped 15 cents per log box under heavy supplies from the country, best stock yesterday bringing $1.15 per box, as compared with $1.35 of the preceding day. Figs were also weak and lower, dropping to the extent of 15 cents per box. Arrivals of peaches were very heavy, and the market reflected a dull tone for this commodity, which was down 25 to 40 cents per lug, according to the quality of the offerings. Fancy stock was in slow demand yesterday at $1.50 per lug, as compared with $1.90 of Wednesday's session. Lettuce declined 15 cents per crate, with demand and movement slow at the lower level. Prunes were 1 cent per pound lower, other lines held steady throughout the day, although the movement was very dull.

According to an estimate of the commercial onion crop released yesterday by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, the California acreage this year will be about 6400 acres, as compared with 6570 of 1919. It is expected that the yield this year will amount to about 4092 carloads, as against 4029 of last year.

Number 7 in a Series of Articles in the Interests of Hydro-Electric Development in California.

The Pacific System is the third largest operating gas and electric company in America. It does about 48% of the gas and electric business of the State, and numbers over a half million consumers.

The Company owns and operates 19 hydro-electric plants, which have an output of 210,924 horse power. The entire system is so interconnected as to insure continuity of service.

There is a very great demand for power in the territory of the Company, and it is important that the development work along the Pitt be prosecuted at once. The entire project is planned and this year will see the installation of two units of 16,000 horse power each.

An impregnable business position.

The Company's physical properties are in excellent condition and the Company's business position is stronger than ever before. Slack rainfall this year has made the demand for power unusually burdensome and the necessity for further developments imperative.

The Company is prosperous. Investors in the Company have confidence in their investment because they know their money is safe and their income is certain.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—In its essential characteristics, today's stock market traversed the ground made familiar by contrary movements of the last fortnight. Industrials extended their losses, while rails and utilities were relatively strong.

Further downward price revision and curtailment of operations were noted in several of the important lines of trade, especially the automobile industry, and advices from steel centers strengthened the impression of impending price concessions by independent manufacturers.

The only noteworthy stock market feature was an early drive against the shorts in Crucible steel, which carried that stock up 3 1-4 points, to 135, but the net gain was only 1 3-4 points.

Rails made their highest quotations in the last hour on a brisk inquiry for seasoned issues of the Pacific and Granger divisions at net advances of 1 to about 2 points, while secondary rails also hardened materially, and specialties sustained additional losses. Sales were 925,000 shares.

Convertible railway bonds were active and strong, Liberties irregular, and foreign issues featureless. Sales, par value, aggregated $19,000,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

ALL CITY BOND PLANS SHELVED.

Long Debate and Close Vote Mark Committee Action.

Library, Water System, Sewer and Other Needs Wait.

No municipal bond issue proposals will appear on the ballot November 2. The City Council yesterday afternoon, sitting as the committee of the whole, by a vote of 5 to 4 recommended to itself that none of five propositions, totaling $15,500,000, shall be laid before the voters at the coming general election.

Those who voted for tabling all the bond proposals are Councilmen Criswell, Fleming, Langdon and Sanborn and President Workman. Placing some or all of the issues on the November ballot was favored by Councilmen Conaway, Farmer, Mallard and Wheeler.

The discussion lasted throughout the afternoon. President Monnette of the board of library directors urged that the people have the right to be given an opportunity to say whether or not they desired to spend $5,000,000 for a site and building for a public library. President Robertson of the Board of Public Service Commissioners, backed up by Sylvester L. Weaver on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, declared the demands of the city require a bond issue of $3,000,000 for extensions and betterments in the water storage and distribution system. Councilman Farmer declared entire districts of the city are without fire protection and that a proposed issue of $2,000,000 for additional fire department housing and equipment, including a signal system, should be placed on the ballot. Councilman Mallard declared the present City Hall is a "disgrace" and suggested that the people be given an opportunity to vote on an issue of $7,000,000 for a combined City Hall and public library. Councilman Wheeler urged a bond issue of $2,000,000 for a sewage disposal plant.

Councilman Fleming, President Workman and others, who voted against any propositions being submitted at the coming election, declared that, while they agree that the city needs all the improvements advocated, they believe all of them stand a better chance of being approved by the voters if submitted at the primaries next May rather than at the general election.

SEPTEMBER GRAINS DIE IN A TAME MANNER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—September corn, oats, rye and barley expired in a tame manner. There was a lack of sensational developments. Leading longs sold freely and at no time were shorts forced to bid prices up to cover. During the last hour September corn was offered in liberal amounts at 41.25½, with the close at that figure, or ½ cent higher than the previous day. A rush to sell September oats on the part of belated longs carried that delivery off to 53¾ cents with the close at 52⅞@53⅛ cents, or 1⅝@2⅛ cents under the finish Wednesday. September rye was unchanged and barley 2 cents higher.

Liquidation was on to beat and prices dropped sharply. Continued purchases of Canadian grain by domestic mills has offset the effect of the strong statistical positions for the time being and trades were at net losses of 8 to 8¾ cents. Deferred deliveries on corn sold at new low figures on the crop closing 4⅝ cents to 5⅜ cents lower while oats lost 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents, rye 6 cents and barley ¼ cent.

Bulk of the trade in September corn was of an evening-up character. The deferred deliveries were sold heavily at the start. Support was lacking and prices broke rapidly. The market showed limited rallying power and closed within ⅜ to ½ cent of the bottom.

September oats closed weak at 4¾ cents under the December, or better than a carrying charge difference. Nearby deliveries sold at new low figures so far.

CALIFORNIA DRIED FRUITS.

Wife Wants Annulment; Files Charges of Terrorism.

Revolver and Poison Among Persuasives Named.

Letter With Suicide Hints Offered as Evidence.

The marriage of Jane W. Silverthon to Vernon Silverthon was like a page out of a dime novel. She bared her secret in Judge Jackson's court yesterday when she asked for an annulment of the marriage. The court took the case under submission.

Mrs. Silverthon testified that Mr. Silverthon trailed her from St. Joseph, Mo., to this city, engaged a minister to come to his room in a hotel and gained her consent to marry him when he showed her a revolver and a package of poison and told her he would shoot her and then poison himself if she did not marry him.

To save her own life, she consented, but refused to live with him, she said. She introduced a letter through her attorney, Thomas K. Case, which Mr. Silverthon had written to his mother in St. Joseph. While it referred to "Bessie," it meant Mrs. Silverthon, by which name he addressed her, she said.

"I have lost Bessie, the only girl I ever really cared for, and I can't even win her. I told you a lie about us being married. I told you that to protect her and really did expect to win her in a short time, but can't and am sick from worry and trying.

"You know what I told you, mama, about what I would do if I did not win her. I expect to do it soon. I won't live without her, so I am just as well dead. I probably will turn the gas on myself. Don't worry if I do. I guess I am not much good, anyway, so why worry?"
